NOMINATION FORM
THE 2019 WILLIAM J. RAGGIO AWARD

The Nevada Advisory Council for Prosecuting Attorneys is seeking nominations for the 2019 William J. Raggio Award. This prestigious annual award is given to a person employed by, or retired from, a federal, state, county or municipal prosecutor's office in Nevada who has contributed significantly to the improvement of the administration of justice in Nevada.

PLEASE SUBMIT A BRIEF ESSAY DETAILING NOMINEE'S QUALIFICATIONS AND MERIT FOR THE AWARD.

Michael Kovac is the Chief of the Prosecutions Division for the Nevada Attorney General's Office. In that capacity, he directly prosecutes and supervises the Deputy Attorney Generals throughout the state of Nevada. Not only does he work tirelessly to prosecute cases, but he aided in strengthening criminal justice laws in Nevada and guides Attorney General Aaron D. Ford in his efforts to implement criminal justice reforms.

Kovac is considered an expert in Constitutional Law and teaches the subject for the USC Gould School of Law's online programs. Kovac has worked in numerous additional positions in or related to the legal profession. Specifically, he has worked as a law clerk for the Court of Appeals for the Second Judicial District Court of the United States, the Allegheny County (Pennsylvania) Court of Common Pleas' Commerce and Complex Civil Litigation Center, and the Las Vegas Township Justice Court. Prior to completing law school, he worked as a paralegal specialist for the United States Attorney's Office for the Western District of Pennsylvania and as a probation officer.

Kovac is a member of the state bars for the states of Nevada, California, and Pennsylvania. He previously taught Law and Society for Nevada State College. Kovac received his law degree from Duquesne University School of Law, where he graduated in top ten percent of his class and was a member of the Duquesne Law Review. He received his undergraduate degree (majoring in education) from the University of Pittsburgh (Johnstown).

I am recommending him for this award because his leadership has resulted in many successful prosecutions throughout the state and he has been instrumental in promoting participation in local and statewide multidisciplinary teams to combat crimes such as human trafficking, money laundering and abuse against vulnerable Nevadans. Not only is he an asset to Nevada, but Kovac also coordinates conferences to promote the rule of law beyond the United States.

Thank you for considering his nomination.

Kyle— if the window for nominations has not yet closed (still technically the 12tg off July), I'd like to nominate John Jones and Jenny Noble to share in this year's award. As you are aware, John has been lobbying the legislature on behalf of the Clarke County District Attorney's Office and the District Attorney's Association for a number of years and was joined in this by Jennifer a few years ago. I don't think it is an overstatement to write that at this biennial, John and Jenny faced probably one of the most chaotic sessions we have witnessed in decades that attempted to rewrite the criminal justice system in profound, and oftentimes concerning, ways. John and Jenny were critical, reasonable voices, reminding these bills' proponents of the impact on victims and communities. They should be commended for the insight, sophistication, and determination they displayed as they represented our values in the legislature.

Thanks for letting me share these thoughts-
Sean

I write this email to invite you to nominate candidates for the 2019 Raggio Award. The Nevada Advisory Council for Prosecuting Attorneys will be reviewing these nominations in the next few weeks, so nominations will be accepted until July 12, 2019. I look forward to receiving your nominations, and to seeing you all at this year’s conference. (As a reminder, if you have not already done so, please disseminate the attached Save the Date flyer to your office so we have a great turnout at this year’s Conference.)

Lastly, if you have presentations or presenters you’d like to suggest for the conference, please send them my way. I’m hoping to finalize the agenda soon, but wanted to give an opportunity to add good content to the conference.
