Form 2400-140 (5/09)

Notice: Under Wisconsin's public records law, Wis. Stat. s. 19.35, the Department of Natural Resources (the Department) has determined that the public policy interests favoring nondisclosure of WisCFI exact plot locations outweigh the public policy interests favoring disclosure. Hempfen v. City of Baraboo, 2005 WI 120, ¶ 63, 284 Wis. 2d 162, ¶ 63, 699 N.W.2d 551, ¶ 63.

The WisCFI exact plot locations are kept confidential for the following reasons:

To protect the integrity of the plots. All plot visits involve risk of impacting the elements of the plot (e.g. cutting or damaging trees, compacting soils, trampling vegetation, etc.). This could result in biased estimates if our permanent plot system becomes unrepresentative of the sample population of interest.

To provide unbiased information. If plot locations are commonly known, specifically by land managers and researchers, there may be accusations that land managers are manipulating the results of the inventory by management practices, e.g. by not harvesting forest contained on sample plots or treating the plot differently in some way.

The outcome of both situations would be to the detriment of the public as a whole, since the information that is being generated would no longer be able to be relied upon for any credible research or conclusions. This potential loss to the public outweighs the public benefits favoring disclosure. As a result, the Department has established policies to be followed for accessing plots.
