ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The realisation of the project Student Representation in Higher Education Governance in Africa, the related authors' symposium and workshop, and eventually the publication and launch of the book Student Politics in Africa: Representation and Activism and its companion publication, the special issue 'Student Power in Africa' of the Journal of Student Affairs in Africa (Vol. 3, Issue 1, 2015), would not have been possible without the encouragement, scholarly advice, and funding provided by the Carnegie Corporation of New York (CCNY Grant Number: D 14034) and particularly by Prof. Tade Akin Aina and Ms Claudia Frittelli.

We are also indebted to a good number of higher education experts, workshop facilitators, speakers and presenters who participated in the August 2014 symposium and workshop in Cape Town, which brought the authors together to discuss their proposals and draft papers and to agree on a number of common concepts, perspectives and concerns. Our thanks go to the presenters of special contributions, in particular Dr Leo Zeilig, Ms Eve Gray, Prof. Nico Cloete, Ms Felicity Gallagher and Mr François van Schalkwyk. We would also like to thank Ms Angela Mias for the organisation and administration of the symposium and workshop.

Lastly, our thanks go to the series editors of African Higher Education Dynamics and the anonymous reviewers of the book manuscript for their critical comments and support.

This project started with a call for papers in 2013, followed by ongoing extensive collaboration between authors and editors. While the symposium and workshop mentioned above presented an opportunity to meet physically, there was ongoing collaboration using the internet, Dropbox, Skype and email. We are pleased that the project has resulted in a new network of emerging and established African higher education researchers who are working in universities across the continent as well as in the diaspora, and that this network is continuing and expanding in the form of a virtual research centre, the Observatory of Student Politics and Higher Education Research in Africa (www.osphera.net).
