

If You Are Self-Employed

your earnings for Social Security when you file your federal addition to the other tax forms you must file.

Paying Social Security and Medicare taxes for married couples filing jointly), you must pay 0.9 percent gross income in determining your adjusted gross income. It the tax on your wages is paid first. But this rule only applies

Medicare taxes on your first $44,700 in self-employment

Work credits

a certain length of time to get Social Security benefits. The figure your Social Security benefit, so, report all earnings up

Figuring your net earnings shouldn't be included in figuring your net earnings; this

Optional method

www.irs.gov

only five times in your life when reporting non-farm income.

Social Security benefits.

Family business arrangements more than $8,160 or your net farm profits were less than a joint venture. If you operate a business together as profits as net earnings on separate self-employment returns (Schedule SE), even if you file a joint income tax return.

a jointly owned business, and file a joint return, can make an election to be taxed as a qualified joint venture instead of a partnership. Each must file a separate Schedule C

methods to figure net earnings, you can't report more

Contacting Social Security

www.socialsecurity.gov are several things you can do online: apply for benefits; get useful information; find publications; and get answers to my Social Security account,

Social Security

Statement, verify your earnings, and print a benefit verification letter. You can also change your direct deposit

NOTE: If you're a farmer, you can use the optional reporting method every year. Having actual net earnings of at least $400 in a preceding year isn't necessary. Also, other gross farm, net farm, and non-farm profit amounts may change each year.

Business www.irs.gov Tax Guide for Small
IRS Schedule SE 1-800-829-4933

How to report earnings

U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Profit or Loss from Business Profit or Loss from Farming
Self-Employment Tax

1-800-772-1213
1-800-325-0778

Securing today and tomorrow

Social Security Administration