

Fact: Humans and animals share many of the same diseases. (40 seconds)

Animals and people can get infected with many of the same germs.

Antibiotic-resistant germs can spread among people, animals, and the environment, such as water and soil...making it harder to treat infections in people and animals.

By controlling diseases in one, you help protect the other.

w-w-w dot c-d-c dot g-o-v slash one health.