Skill in oral communication to lead teams and effectively communicate with internal and external customers to include management officials.

Factor 2 - Supervisory Controls Level 2-4 450 points

The incumbent and the supervisor develop an acceptable work plan which typically includes identification of work to be done, the scope of projects, and deadlines for completion. Within the parameters of the approved work plan, the incumbent is responsible for planning and organizing work, coordinating with staff, and conducting all phases of the work assignment or project. The incumbent informs the supervisor of potentially controversial findings, sensitive or significant issues, or problems with widespread impact during the course of the audit.

Completed projects, evaluations, reports, or recommendations are reviewed for soundness of overall approach, effectiveness in meeting requirements or expected results, and adherence to requirements, guidelines, goals and objectives. Completed work may be reviewed critically outside the employee's immediate office by staff and/or management officials whose programs and employees would be affected by implementation of the recommendations.

Factor 3 - Guideline Level 3-4 450 points

Guidelines are stated in general terms and include policies and directives contained within CIGIE Quality Standards for Inspection and Evaluation, Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act (SMCRA; DOI regulations, organizational manuals and handbooks, and other common place policies and directives such as the GAGAS, FAR, UG, and/or CAS. While administrative policies and procedures are available, the incumbent must exercise considerable judgment to interpret and apply these guidelines and perform aspects of the work not specifically described in the guidelines.

Factor 4 - Complexity Level 4-5 325 points

The position plans and conducts highly complex audits, examinations, and/or evaluations to provide an independent opinion on if the subject matter of the audit complies with the applicable criteria. The work involves developing individual audit programs and plans; program analysis; identifying evaluation and research methodologies; and developing administrative guidelines for use in conducting difficult, sensitive, and sometimes controversial reviews, evaluations, examinations, and analysis. The incumbent must exercise ingenuity and initiative to conduct independent analysis and research. The incumbent is expected to understand a wide diversity of laws, regulations, policies and their interrelationships. Work assignments and studies are also complicated by the need to consider the impact of changes in legislative and regulatory requirements.

Factor 5 - Scope and Effect Level 5-5 325 points

The purpose of the work is to analyze, audit, and evaluate major administrative aspects of substantive, mission-orientated programs and to provide an opinion on the subject matter based on GAGAS.

The work performed by the incumbent affect DOI Headquarters, bureaus, and field offices, and other Federal agencies. Audits, inspections, examinations, and evaluations take into consideration factors such as cost-effectiveness, attainment of audit goals and objectives, and compliance with pertinent legal and regulatory guidelines.

The outcome of the work determines and establishes audit findings and recommendations to be utilized in how the programs are conducted and/or how the audits/evaluations are conducted within the Department and other Federal agencies; how Federal funding agencies applicable contractor claimed costs; or how the organization effectively and efficiently collects and distributes mineral royalties to State, Tribe, Indian mineral owners and/or other government agencies.

Factors 6 and 7 - Personal Contacts and Purpose of Contacts Level 3-C 180 points

Contacts involve managers, supervisors, and employees in the Department, counterparts in other Federal, state, Tribal, and local agencies, educational institutions, private companies, and technical authorities. Contacts occur at meetings and conferences, and unplanned contacts where the incumbent is designated as point of contact by management. The contacts often require extensive preparation of briefing materials or technical familiarity with a complex subject matter.

The purpose of contacts is to explain, clarify, update, and exchange information or research; provide advice on organizational or program related issues and concerns; coordinate work efforts; and resolve problems. The incumbent influences and persuades others regarding the merits of using certain technical accounting methods or procedures that are opposed by other team members, and/or assists with influencing supervisors or managers to accept and implement findings and recommendations on organizational improvement or program effectiveness. The incumbent may encounter resistance from contacts.

Factor 8 - Physical Demands Level 8-1 5 points

The work is primarily sedentary but may involve periodic or frequent travel by air or surface modes of transportation. Occasionally may perform on-site audits of operations and records/offices that may require walking and standing.
