IT Specialist (Customer Support) GS-2210-07

INTRODUCTION

The Department of the Interior (Department) manages 451 million acres of the nation's public lands (about one-sixth of the land in the U.S.) and more than 2,500 operating sites, all requiring protection of information and Information Technology (IT) assets. This is a standardized developmental position description for positions located in the Office of the Chief Information Officer (OCIO) and the various Bureaus and Bureau offices (Bureau/Office) of the Department.

The purpose of this position is to perform work involving the performance of routine and recurring assignments supporting information technology (IT) customer support. Works under closer than normal supervision and works in a developmental capacity performing assignments and completing training, both of which are aimed at preparing the incumbent with the experience necessary to perform the duties of the position.

This is a National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) National Initiative for Cybersecurity Education (NICE) National Cybersecurity Workforce Framework (Framework). The incumbent performs Cybersecurity roles and responsibilities outlined in the NICE Framework. The NICE Framework provides Work Role Descriptions associated with Work Roles and Cybersecurity Codes.

MAJOR DUTIES

Provides assistance and support for assignments and projects relative to the delivery of customer support services. Performs routine and recurring assignments in identifying and resolving recurring and routine issues and problems as they arise. Performs the following major duties associated with this work:

- Diagnoses and resolves recurring problems in response to customer reported incidents; and reports, responds to, and resolves customer requests. Updates and maintains problem tracking/ticketing systems to track and identify customer needs, as well as to discuss requirements with the customer to resolve the customer need.
- Installs, configures, and tests software on customer workstations; and installs, configures, upgrades, and troubleshoots hardware and software components.
- Assists teams responsible for planning and delivering a full range of customer support services to the organization. Participates in evaluating effectiveness of customer support services and provides feedback on impacts of proposed IT initiatives to services.
- Presents formal and informal training, guidance, and assistance to customers. Provides routine advice and guidance to customers requesting information on established policy or procedures, including those related to information security/information assurance.
- Participates in internal staff meetings, sharing information obtained through research of tracking/ticketing systems, presenting alternatives and recommendations for improving customer service delivery, and assisting higher graded specialists in preparing for such meetings or data calls.
- Provides routine advice and guidance to customers requesting information on established policy or procedures, including those related to information security.

- Performs other duties as assigned.

FACTORS

Factor 1. Knowledge Required by the Position; Level 1-6, 950 Points

Knowledge of, and skill in applying, IT and IT customer support principles, methods, and practices; IT security methods and procedures; and performance monitoring principles and methods sufficient to perform routine and recurring assignments in the delivery of customer support services, such as diagnosing and resolving customer problems and incidents and updating tracking/ticketing systems, and to assist more experienced specialists in resolving more complex problems.

Skill in troubleshooting routine IT customer support problems and issues and skill in documenting issues and the resolution.

Skill in installing, configuring, and testing software on customer workstations; and installing, configuring, upgrading, and troubleshooting end user devices and components used in the customer environment.

Knowledge of the organization's mission, programs, business practices, customers, and IT infrastructure.

Skill in communicating, both in writing and in oral presentations, to provide guidance to customers, provide effective technical documentation of customer service activities/actions, provide customer training, and participate on functional teams.

Skill in analytical methods sufficient to participate in individual and team research and problem solving assignments and to participate in addressing customer service delivery improvements.

Knowledge of, and skill in applying, IT security methods and procedures and IT security protocols and requirements.

Factor 2. Supervisory Controls; Level 2-2, 125 Points

The supervisor provides instructions as to overall scope of assignment, priorities, deadlines, and objectives and basic policies for their accomplishment. The incumbent carries out assignments independently within the framework established by the supervisor and in conformance with practices and prescribed procedures. Problems not covered by instructions or guides are referred to the supervisor for help or decision. The supervisor reviews complete work for accuracy and conformance to procedures and instructions. The supervisor typically reviews in detail the more difficult work not previously performed by the incumbent.

Factor 3. Guidelines; Level 3-2, 125 Points

Procedures for the work have been established, and a number of specific guidelines are available. The incumbent must use judgment to select the most appropriate guideline, reference, or procedure for application. The incumbent also uses judgment to determine appropriate minor deviations within existing guidelines and to know when to refer situations to the supervisor that require significant deviations from existing guidelines.

Factor 4. Complexity; Level 4-3, 150 Points

Work consists of various duties that involve applying a series of different and unrelated processes and methods. Incumbent decides what needs to be done based on analyses of the subjects and issues related to the assignment, selecting appropriate courses of action from many acceptable alternatives.
