

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations

FAO at COP28

Dubai,
30 Nov-12 Dec
2023

Energizing climate action with sustainable crops: How yerba mate, cocoa and peanut boost incomes and cut emissions

Sunday, 10 December
2023 14:00–15:00 (GMT +4)

Zayed Sustainability Prize
Pavilion, Energy Transition
Hub, Green Zone

Food for the climate

How can investment in highly prized commodities like yerba mate, cocoa and peanuts improve livelihoods, preserve Indigenous knowledge, halt deforestation and increase climate resilience? Join our session on how sustainable crops energize climate action and take a bite out of deforestation with chocolate from Côte d'Ivoire!

Speakers

Maria Mercedes Proaño

Climate Finance Officer, FAO
(Moderator)

Ethel Estigarribia

Climate Change National Director, Secretary of Environment, Paraguay

Balkisou Buba

Representative of GCF
Indigenous Peoples Advisory Group

Benjamin Kouame

Cocoa producer,
Fairtrade Africa Board
Member, Côte d'Ivoire

Dr. Freddie Kabango,

Assistant Commissioner,
Ministry of Agriculture,
Animal Industry and Fisheries, Uganda

Fumihiko Tominaga

Climate Policy Specialist,
Secretariat of the Green
Climate Fund

Energizing climate action with sustainable crops:
How yerba mate, cocoa and peanut boost incomes and cut emissions

Sunday, 10 December 2023
14:00–15:00 (GMT +4)

Zayed Sustainability Prize Pavilion, Energy Transition Hub, Green
Zone

www.cop28.com/en/green-zone

Venue

The Zayed Sustainability Prize pavilion, Stand #103, Energy Transition Hub

www.cop28.com/en/green-zone

Contacts

Nadine.Valat@fao.org
Jennifer.Gacich@fao.org
Rosalie.Lehel@fao.org

©FAO, 2023
CC9071EN