Hi Ken - what about something even more simple as a response email, such as:

[Redacted]

Mary,

The biggest request we are getting are emails just asking for assurance we are science based as always. The original short statement is something we might be able to use to reassure people. Not looking for anything other than assurance "we have not changed". That was the thought anyway. This is of course if we decide to respond to the emails.

Ken, Louis,

Susan just called with the potential message on NHC work. I made a few suggestions, but mainly want to pitch a few delivery options to you. [Redacted] (By the way NWSHQ has received 500!)

What if we:

1) [Redacted] (b)(5)

Or

[Redacted] (b)(5)

2)

(b)(5)

Best,
Mary
