Hi Jana -

I like that idea.

Long-term water service contracts are between Reclamation and water contractors. So we have contracts between us and all of our ~200 plus water contractors that dictate how they get CVP supplies.

Yes, we do NEPA before signing water contracts. Here is an example NEPA document: https://www.usbr.gov/mp/nepa/nepa_projdetails.cfm?Project_ID=26.

Here is a list of all of our water contractors:

Here are some example long-term water contracts:

I'll make sure I have my coffee before I get to work tomorrow morning. In the meantime, I think I need a tutorial on long-term water service contracts. is this a contract between Reclamation and a water user? Does Reclamation do NEPA on these? is there other environmental documentation that informs the terms of the contract? So many questions....

Also, I vaguely remember that when we discussed this last, I thought we should run this by solicitors. Perhaps we can come up with a joint position and then run it by legal? Just a thought.

Hi Jana -

We have two questions.

- 1) Is signing long-term water service contracts an interrelated and interdependent effect to the operation of the CVP and SWP?
- 2) Is operation of the CVP and SWP an interrelated and interdependent effect to signing long-term water service contracts?

Thanks,

Katrina

I can do tomorrow at 8:15. I can also do this afternoon anytime except 2:30-3.

I'll need a refresher on what the issue was. I vaguely remember discussing this, but this issue always gets my brain wrapped up in knots.

I think it would be helpful for us to get on a call together. What are your availabilities for one today?

Hi Jana, Garwin -

I wanted to follow up on the discussion we had at the July 5 Core Team meeting regarding interrelated and interdependent effects to make sure that I understood your thoughts. Can you each give me a call when you have a chance?

Thanks,
