Thanks for such a quick turnaround! I just sent them off to Jeff, so I'll let you know when I hear back from him. That is weird weather...I feel like we sometimes get into that pattern but with rain. Sunny all week and then rain on the weekends 😊

Have a great weekend!

Michelle,

Thanks for the opportunity to review. See attached for my track changes.

The weather here has been weird. In general, for the last few weeks, just like the attached 10-day forecast, triple digits over the weekends and 90s during the week.

Good afternoon Garwin,

My apologies for taking so long to get these to you. Here are the draft notes from workshop #3. As before, I have flagged a few items where I did not capture a complete question and/or answer and then there were several items flagged for follow-up that may or may not have already happened but the response should probably be documented. After you have a chance to review then I'll send the notes over to Jeff. Hope things cooled off for you down there!

Thanks.
