

Funnel clouds & Severe Storms

June 25, 2024

Photo credit: Lisa Hiatt, Waukee

Event Summary

Funnel clouds were common over central Iowa as storms initially developed along an east-west boundary late in the afternoon, with a few weak tornadoes reported as well. Large hail also fell, with a few reports of stones over 2 inches in diameter, and sporadic wind damage occurred as gusts over 60 mph were reported in a few locations before storms exited the state in the early morning hours of Wednesday.

Photo Credit - Misty Travis, Colfax

All information is PRELIMINARY. Page last updated: June 26, 2024 at 7 AM

Photo credit: Matt Ostrander, Lambs Grove, IA

Photo Credit - Polly Thiel, Carlisle

