VRS PROVIDER COST AND DEMAND DATA TO BE PLACED IN THE RECORD

For consideration in the VRS Compensation Rulemaking, Subject to the Third Protective Order

CG Docket Nos. 03-123 and 10-51

On May 20, 2021, the Federal Communications Commission (Commission) adopted a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) seeking comment on Telecommunications Relay Services (TRS) Fund compensation for the provision of video relay service (VRS). Comments are due by July 15, 2021, and reply comments are due by July 30, 2021.¹

To assist its consideration of compensation options, the Commission intends to examine cost and demand data for each VRS provider, filed annually with the Interstate Telecommunications Relay Service (TRS) Fund administrator (VRS Provider Cost and Demand Data).

Therefore, the Commission intends to place this information in the record of the above-captioned rulemaking proceeding, so that the information may be examined by appropriate persons on behalf of commenting parties, subject to protection for confidentiality. Specifically, the Commission intends to place in the record: (1) the most up-to-date information submitted by each VRS provider on its annual expenses for calendar years 2018 through 2022, in each expense category included in the Video Relay Service Expense and Capital Investments Data worksheet; and (2) the most up-to-date monthly conversation minutes submitted by each VRS provider for calendar years 2018 through 2022 in the Annual VRS Demand Data worksheet.² The Commission has recognized that such detailed cost data generally should be treated as confidential and exempt from public disclosure under 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(4). Therefore, the VRS Provider Cost and Demand Data will be designated as Highly Confidential Information subject to the terms of the Third Protective Order and will not be available to the general public.³
