The Committee shall evaluate at least annually the performance and leadership of the chief executive officer in light of these established goals and objectives, and the Chair shall solicit input from all other directors in the evaluation of the performance and leadership of the chief executive officer. Based on these evaluations, the Committee shall determine the chief executive officer's annual compensation, including salary, incentive compensation and other remuneration. The results of the chief executive officer's evaluation and compensation shall be communicated by the Chair of the Committee first to the Board for its review, and then to the chief executive officer.

14. Review and approve stock ownership requirements for the directors, the Company's executive officers and any other officers selected by the Committee.
15. Review annually the amount and the basis of fees and other compensation paid to outside directors and recommend any proposed changes to the Board for approval.

The Committee, in discharging its oversight role, is empowered to study or investigate any matter of interest or concern that the Committee deems appropriate and may, in its sole discretion, retain, obtain the advice of and terminate any compensation consultant, independent legal counsel or other adviser, including any search firm it deems appropriate to identify director candidates. The Committee shall be directly responsible for the appointment, compensation and oversight of any compensation consultant, independent legal counsel or other adviser retained by the Committee and shall have the sole authority to approve related fees and other retention terms of such advisers. The Company shall provide appropriate funding, as determined by the Committee, for payment of reasonable compensation to any compensation consultant, independent legal counsel or other adviser retained by the Committee.
