Virtual Meetings, Generation Gaps, Technology: Our Principles Don't Change but Our Practices Do

Imagine it's five years from now. Online groups are connected to the service structure, and online and in-person meetings are working together to provide services.

What did it take to get there?