4. ALASKA COURT'S AUTHORITY TO CHANGE CHILD SUPPORT

	court has the authority to modify the other state's child support order. authority comes from the Alaska Statute(s) below. (Check all that apply.)
a.	AS 25.25.613 because:
	(1) The person ordered to pay support (obligor) and the person who should receive support (obligee) reside in Alaska; and
	(2) The children do not reside in the state that issued the order.
b.	AS 25.25.611(a)(1) because:
	(1) The children, the person ordered to pay support (obligor), and the person who should receive support (obligee) do not reside in the state that issued the order; and
	(2) I (person filing this motion) am not a resident of Alaska; and
	(3) The respondent is subject to the personal jurisdiction ¹ of this court because (check all that apply):
	☐ The respondent is domiciled in Alaska;² or
	The respondent got notice of registration of the support order while present in Alaska and this motion will be served on the respondent in Alaska; or
	The respondent is engaged in the substantial activities in Alaska described below:
C.	AS 25.25.611(a)(2) because:
	Both the obligor and obligee filed consents in the issuing tribunal providing that an Alaska tribunal may modify the support order and assume continuing, exclusive jurisdiction (See definitions of "obligor" and "obligee" in 4.b above.); and the children live in Alaska, or the court has personal jurisdiction over the obligor or obligee.

AS 09.05.015 defines "personal jurisdiction." In general, a state court has "personal jurisdiction" over a person if the person is (a) present in the state when served notice of the case, (b) domiciled in the state, or (c) engaged in substantial and not isolated activities in the state.

Generally, "domicile" means a person's primary residence to which the person intends to return whenever the person is away. See, for example, AS 16.05.940 and AS 28.33.190. The Alaska Supreme Court has held that, in divorce cases, domicile "is established by an actual physical presence in the state coupled with a coincident intent to make the state one's permanent place of abode." See State v. Adams, 522 P.2d 1125 (Alaska 1974).

5. CHANGE IN CHILD SUPPORT

NOTE: In order to get an increase or decrease in support payments because the income of the person making payments changes, that change in income must be long term and significant. The court will not modify a support order because of a small or temporary change in income. Generally, a change in income is significant if the change would raise or lower the support payments by 15% or more. You must attach documentation that supports your request. Examples include pay stubs, tax returns, and proof of Social Security or disability benefits.
I request that the child support order be modified to \square increase \square decrease the support amount because (check all boxes that apply):

ippor	t amount because (check all boxes that apply):
	The income of the person making the child support payments increased or decreased. (If you check this box, attach documentation of the increase or decrease and explain why it has occurred.)
٦	Cuprost payments should be shanged because there has been a shange in the
J	Support payments should be changed because there has been a change in the availability or cost of medical insurance for the children, or because medical expenses for the children have increased or decreased. (If you check this box, describe what the change should be and attach all available documents that support the requested change.)
	Other (Be specific and attach any supporting documents.)

The court must use Alaska Civil Rule 90.3 to calculate the support amount.³ Therefore, you must also attach a completed Child Support Guidelines Affidavit (DR-305) to provide information the court needs. Note: An Alaska court cannot change the duration of another state's child support order (the age of the child at which the duty of support ends) unless the laws of the state that issued the original order allows such a change. AS 25.25.604(a)(1) and AS 25.25.611(c) and (d).

IMPORTANT NOTE: If you think the amount of support should change because you are no longer following the current custody order, you may need to ask a court to modify your custody order. Figuring out which state (court) has authority to modify your order can be complicated. You may want to contact an attorney for help. Generally, Alaska courts will only issue a child support order that is based on a court-ordered custody arrangement.

that the support amount be immediately withheld from the obligor's income unless one of the three exceptions⁴ below applies. I request that the court not order immediate income withholding because: Alternative Payment Arrangement. The other parent and I agreed on the alternative payment arrangement⁵ described in the attached document signed by both of us (and by CSED if support has been assigned to the state); and if CSED is enforcing the support order, CSED entered this agreement into its record; and an income withholding order has not been terminated previously and subsequently initiated; and the obligor agreed to keep the obligee (or CSED if CSED is enforcing the order) informed of the obligor's current employer and the availability of employment-related health insurance coverage for the children until the support order is satisfied. Not in Best Interests of Child(ren). Immediate income withholding is not in the child(ren)'s best interests because: : and the obligor made voluntary support payments under a court or agency order and has not been in arrears in an amount equal to the support payable for one month⁶; and the obligor agreed to keep the obligee (or CSED if CSED is enforcing the order) informed of the obligor's current employer and the availability of employment-related health insurance coverage for the children until the support order is satisfied. Obligor Receives other Compensation. The obligor is receiving Social Security or other disability compensation that includes regular payments to the child(ren) at least equal to the support owed each month. To the extent these payments to the child(ren) do not satisfy the monthly amount owed, I request that the remaining amount due be immediately withheld from the obligor's income pursuant to AS 25.27.062.

Income Withholding. I understand that the court's modification order must require ⁴ AS 25.27.062(m).

Following are examples of "alternative arrangements:" having a military allotment paid to the obligee; advance payment of two months' support to the obligee as security for future payments; or an automatic funds transfer from the obligor's bank or employer to the obligee.

[&]quot;In arrears" means failing to make a support payment within 30 days of the monthly due date specified in the order. AS 25.27.062(m)(2)(B).

6. REQUIRED ATTACHMENTS

Items (a) through (e) below MUST be attached to this motion. Item (f) may also be required depending on the custody order. Check each box to indicate that you have completed and attached the item. These forms are available at the court and on the court system's website.

(a)	Copy of your current child support order.
(b)	All documents that support your request for a change in the support amount.
(c)	Information Sheet (form DR-314)
(d)	Certificate of Service (last page of this form)
(e)	Child Support Guidelines Affidavit (form DR-305) This form must be signed in front of a notary public or court clerk. Bring a photo ID. Fill in the requested information about your own finances and as much information about the finances of the other parent as possible. If you do not know specific information about the other parent's finances, write "unknown" in that space. You must attach a copy of your most recent federal tax return and most recent pay stubs to verify income and deductions.
(f)	If one parent has primary ⁷ custody of all the children, you only need to fill out the DR-305 . But if the court order requires shared ⁸ , divided ⁹ , or hybrid ¹⁰ custody, or you are asserting that one of these kinds of custody arrangements applies, then you must also fill out one of the forms below:
	Shared Custody Child Support Calculation (form DR-306)
	Divided Custody Child Support Calculation (form DR-307)
	Hybrid Custody Child Support Calculation (form DR-308)

CHILD SUPPORT INSTRUCTION BOOKLET: For more information about how to complete the child support calculation forms (DR-305, DR-306, DR-307, and DR-308), see the booklet called How to Calculate Child Support (DR-310) on the court system's website. Also note: An Alaska court cannot change the duration of another state's child support order (the age of the child at which the duty of support ends) unless the laws of the state that issued the original order allows such a change. AS 25.25.604(a)(1) and AS 25.25.611(c) and (d).

Primary custody means the court order requires that the children reside with one parent more than 70% of the year (256 or more overnights).

Shared custody means the court order requires that the children reside with one parent at least 30% of the year (at least 110 overnights), but not more than 70% of the year (no more than 255 overnights).

Divided custody means the court order requires that one parent have primary custody of some of the children, the other parent have primary custody of the rest of the children, and the parents do not share physical custody of any of their children.

Hybrid custody means the court order requires that at least one parent have primary custody of one or more of the children, and the parents have shared custody of at least one of the children.

NEXT STEPS

- 1. Notice of Motion (DR-710). Fill out this form. In the Certificate of Service at the bottom of the DR-710, you will fill in the date that you mail or deliver it and the other listed documents to the opposing parent. You must put this document on top of all the other documents when you mail or deliver them to the opposing parent.
- 2. SERVE COPY ON OTHER PARENT. Complete the Certificate of Service on the next page, explaining how you delivered copies of everything you are filing to the other parent.
- 3. Copies. Keep a copy of all documents and attachments for yourself.
- 4. Filing Location. Mail or hand-deliver the original motion, the required attachments and the DR-710 Notice to the Alaska court where the out-of-state order was registered. There is no fee for filing these documents with the court. 11 For a list of court mailing addresses, go to www.courts.alaska.gov/courtdir/index.htm.

RESPONSE. The other parent has 13 days to respond to your Motion to Modify. The response must be filed with the court and a copy sent to you. If 13 days pass and no response is filed, your motion will be sent to a judge for decision unless you filed your motion at the same time you registered the order in Alaska. If the 20 days for opposing registration has not passed, the motion will probably not be sent to a judge for decision until the 20 days has passed.

REPLY. If you receive a response, you have 8 days from the date it was postmarked to file your Reply with the court. You may use the Reply form (DR-730) provided in this packet. Your Reply must be signed in front of a notary (available at the court at no charge). You must serve your Reply on the same people as you did your motion.

HEARING. The judge may order a hearing if one is needed to decide any disputes about the evidence in your case. You will be notified if a hearing is scheduled. If it will be difficult for you to attend the hearing in person, you may file a Request to Appear by Telephone (form TF-710).

Enforcement of Alaska Child Support Order. If the court agrees to modify the other state's child support order, the court will issue a new Alaska Child Support Order. If the obligor does not comply with the court's order, you may ask the Alaska Child Support Enforcement Division (CSED) to enforce the order for you. See Application for Services of Child Support Enforcement Division. If you do not live in Alaska, you can ask your state's child support agency to enforce the Alaska order.

Notice to Other State. If the Alaska court agrees to modify the other state's child support order, you must file a certified copy of the Alaska order with the court in the other state that issued the previous order and with any other state court or child support enforcement office where you registered the previous order. (AS 25.25.614)
