Appellant (person bringing appeal)  vs.  STATE OF ALASKA, DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION, DIVISION OF RETIREMENT AND BENEFITS, Appellee  Appellee	CI
MOTION TO SEAL OR MAINTAIN MEDICAL RECORDS CONFIDENTIAL (Alaska Const. Article 1, § 22; Alaska R. App. P. 512.5(b); Alaska R. Adm. P. 37.6	)
[Notice to Appellee: Enclosed with this motion are my medical records in a sealed envelope Court only. These records will be provided to the Appellee after the Court rules, and then the must be kept confidential (if so ordered).]
I am the Appellant who brought this appeal. I ask the court to let me file the enclosed med records under seal, to keep the medical records confidential, and not let them be disclosed to public. I ask that the records only be viewed by the court, the parties in this case, and their attorneys. In making this request, I am not waiving my right to keep this medical information confidential and private.	o the Medical records include private information and are not open to public inspection under the Alaska Public Records Act. Also, the Alaska Constitution says that "[t]he right of the peoprivacy is recognized and shall not be infringed." Medical records are also considered confidential information under federal privacy rules set by HIPAA.
I am filing medical records for the court to review in this case because they are relevant to question whether the Appellee Division of Retirement and Benefits (DRB) properly review considered them when DRB made its decision about [check all that apply]:

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, Pub. L. 104-191, 110 Stat. 1936, enacted August 21, 1996; 45 C.F.R. 164.508.

DRB failed to include the medical records in the agency record despite the fact that DRB based the denial of medical benefits on those medical records. In order for the Court to decide whether DRB properly evaluated those factors, it is necessary to have the records before the court. Nevertheless, I believe that the specific medical information in the records should remain confidential to protect my privacy.

When the Office of Administrative Hearings (OAH) decides similar appeals of DRB decisions about retiree benefits, OAH maintains the privacy of the medical records and of the names of the individuals whose medical claims are being decided.<sup>4</sup> While my name is not confidential in this case, I am entitled to this same degree of confidentiality and privacy regarding my medical records.

I respectfully ask the Court to maintain confidentiality of these medical records and keep them under seal for the duration of this appeal.
