THE AUSTRALIAN RURAL LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

This is a Directory of the participants on the inaugural course of the Australian Rural Leadership Program, conducted over the period April 1993 to September 1994.

These men and women from agriculture, fishing, rural communities and agri business have been selected for development through exposure to a wide range of encounters with national and international issues. They are doing this over some 56 days in eight sessions at various locations within Australia and overseas. The emphasis is on exposure to real-life issues and to key leaders in government, business and the community.

These future leaders will share a vision and possess the strategic alliances necessary to create stronger links and greater synergy between the rural commodities, the rural industries and the rest of the community.
