Good government calls for a civil service designed to meet the challenges we face as a nation in the 21st Century. A nonpartisan civil service is critical for protecting our democracy, keeping us safe and secure at home and abroad, and supporting struggling Americans and their families.

The Public Service Standing Panel is dedicated to advancing the civil service by recommending improvements to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of federal agencies' human capital systems.

Implementing these recommendations and supporting a performance-based civil service is critical to ensuring Americans receive the services they expect quickly and efficiently, and the opportunity for the better quality of life they deserve.
