YOUTH PREPAREDNESS CATALOG DISASTER PREPAREDNESS EDUCATION PROGRAMS AND RESOURCES

Introduction

Youth preparedness is an essential component of community preparedness. It uses children's unique strengths to help meet their needs during emergencies and disasters. Starting or getting involved with a youth preparedness program is a great way to enhance a community's resilience and help develop future generations of prepared adults. The Youth Preparedness Catalog has been developed to help individuals locate preparedness programs and resources that are tailored to youth.

Purpose of This Catalog

This catalog supports individuals interested in promoting youth preparedness education by connecting them with existing local, state, and national programs. It also directs readers to curricula and resources that can be used to develop or sustain a program.

Using the Catalog

There are two primary reasons someone might use this catalog:

1. To find programs with which to partner or otherwise get involved; and
2. To find curricula and resources for developing and conducting a youth preparedness program or otherwise working with youth.

The information in this catalog has been organized to facilitate these two purposes. The first section includes existing programs. Individuals interested in getting involved with youth preparedness are encouraged to coordinate with existing programs when feasible to avoid duplicating efforts. Programs are organized by level: national, regional, and state. Readers are encouraged to look at programs at all levels that might meet their needs.

The catalog lists national programs first. In some cases, national programs have local chapters, so practitioners who are interested in a national program should check for local branches of the organization in their community. Programs are then listed by Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) region. The states within each region are organized in alphabetical order.

In addition, the catalog includes sections for curricula and resources and activities. Individuals who are starting or running youth preparedness programs may be interested in existing tools and resources. Using existing curricula or activities can help reduce the resource burden on program managers, as they do not need to spend time and money developing resources.

The Resources and Activities section includes in-person activities, worksheets, online games, videos, community engagement activities, and newsletters—anything that can be used as part of a youth preparedness program to enhance the participants’ learning experience. The Publications section contains materials primarily tailored to adults who work with youth on preparedness. The final section is Additional Resources and Organizations, which includes anything that may be relevant to adults working in youth preparedness that does not fit into the previous categories.

Tables are included at the beginning of the Programs, Curricula, and Resources and Activities sections to facilitate searching by criteria such as topic or the recommended age for participants. Please note that these ages are approximate. When a program or activity is targeted for a specific grade, a rough age equivalent has been provided. However, be sure to look at the individual program, curriculum, or activity in more detail to confirm whether it would be appropriate for your purposes.

Technical Assistance

In addition to this catalog, FEMA provides the following tools for individuals who are starting or running youth preparedness programs:

- The Youth Preparedness: Implementing a Community-Based Program provides high-level steps for implementing a youth preparedness program.
- The Youth Preparedness Program Implementation Workbook helps program managers brainstorm and implement each of the steps discussed in Youth Preparedness: Implementing a Community-Based Program.
- The Youth Preparedness Program Implementation Checklist helps program managers ensure that they have thoroughly completed each of the implementation steps discussed in Youth Preparedness: Implementing a Community-Based Program.
- The Youth Preparedness Funding Guide provides information about securing funding and resources for a program.
- The Youth Preparedness Quick Tips to Mitigate Risks provides a quick overview of basic strategies to manage key risks that a program might face.
- The Youth Preparedness Guide to Risk Management helps program managers identify potential risks associated with their programs, as well as techniques to mitigate those risks.

Technical assistance is also available directly from FEMA, for either general questions or specific assistance with starting or maintaining a youth preparedness program. Individuals with questions are encouraged to email FEMA-Youth-Preparedness@fema.dhs.gov. Additional information about youth preparedness is also available at ready.gov/youth-preparedness.

National Strategy for Youth Preparedness Education: Empowering, Educating and Building Resilience

FEMA, the American Red Cross, and the U.S. Department of Education partnered to develop the National Strategy for Youth Preparedness Education: Empowering, Educating and Building Resilience. Information about the National Strategy can be accessed at ready.gov/youth-preparedness.

The National Strategy outlines a vision for a Nation of prepared youth and provides nine priority steps that partners at the local, state, and national levels can take to help make that vision a reality. Organizations can affirm their support for the National Strategy and align with the nine priority steps. The affirmers represent a growing network of organizations dedicated to building a more resilient Nation.

National Strategy affirmers are denoted in this catalog by the following symbol:

For more information about affirming the National Strategy, email FEMA-Youth-Preparedness@fema.dhs.gov.

Maintaining This Catalog

This catalog is a living document, and additional programs will be added periodically. Programs that would like to be included or have resources that they would like to include are encouraged to send the information to FEMA-Youth-Preparedness@fema.dhs.gov.

The following information and links to third party sites are provided for your reference. FEMA does not endorse any non-government website, company, or application. The information provided here comes from the entities sponsoring each program.

CONTENTS

Please note that not every state has programs that appear in this catalog. If you would like to submit information for a program in your area, please contact FEMA-Youth-Preparedness@fema.dhs.gov.

NATIONAL

Many of the following programs are available in multiple locations throughout the country. Please see their respective websites to find a local chapter (if applicable).

Always Ready Kids

ORGANIZATION: ALWAYS READY KIDS

Website: www.alwaysreadykids.org

Ages: 12–18

Topic: General preparedness

Description: Always Ready Kids (ARK) was founded in 2004 and has conducted dozens of projects in several countries and three continents since the creation of the program. ARK's projects include presenting on disaster preparedness, distributing disaster preparedness information, and making individual safety supply kits that include basic preparedness items. ARK also assists with disaster relief efforts. The website includes resources for youth on building a disaster supply kit.

America's PrepareAthon!

ORGANIZATION: FEMA

Website: ready.gov/prepare

Ages: All ages

Topics: Earthquakes, floods, general preparedness, hurricanes, tornadoes, wildfires, winter storms

Description: America's PrepareAthon! is a national grassroots campaign designed to help individuals, schools, organizations, and communities take specific actions to increase preparedness for disasters through drills, group discussions, and exercises. Although preparedness events are encouraged year-round, April 30 and September 30 are designated as National PrepareAthon! Days. The goal of America's PrepareAthon! is to increase the number of individuals who understand which disasters could happen in their communities, know what to do to be safe and mitigate damage, take action to increase their preparedness, and participate in community resilience planning.

AmeriCorps

ORGANIZATION: CORPORATION FOR NATIONAL AND COMMUNITY SERVICE (CNCS)

Website: www.nationalservice.gov/programs/americorps

Ages: 18–24

Topics: Career exploration, general preparedness, personal growth, volunteerism/community service

Description: AmeriCorps engages more than 75,000 Americans in service each year at nonprofits, schools, public agencies, and community and faith-based groups across the country. AmeriCorps places thousands of young adults into intensive service positions where they learn valuable work skills, earn money for education, and develop an appreciation for citizenship. AmeriCorps' Disaster Response Teams include youth members.

Be the Beat[®]

ORGANIZATION: AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION

Website: www.bethebeat.heart.org

Ages: Adults

Topic: Medical

Description: The American Heart Association is committed to creating the next generation of lifesavers through its Be the Beat program. The Be the Beat website provides free tools and resources to help teachers and school administrators start and sustain CPR and AED programs in schools. Through this website, teachers can download lesson plans and printables to teach kids the two simple steps to Hands-Only CPR™. Students will learn to “Be the Beat” and pump blood to a victim’s vital organs if they see an adult or teen suddenly collapse. Hands-Only CPR can double or triple a victim’s chance of survival.

Cadet Program

ORGANIZATION: CIVIL AIR PATROL, U.S. AIR FORCE AUXILIARY

Website: www.gocivilairpatrol.com/cap_home/youth_members

Ages: 12–18

Topics: Career exploration, general preparedness, personal growth, search and rescue, volunteerism/community service, wilderness/survival skills

Description: Youth in Civil Air Patrol’s Cadet Program follow a challenging curriculum that emphasizes leadership, aerospace, fitness, and character. The program follows a military model and emphasizes Air Force traditions and values. The Cadet Program can help prepare youth for a career in fields such as aviation, space, and the military. Cadets meet two hours per week and one Saturday per month, on average, and also have the opportunity to attend leadership encampments, career academies, search and rescue schools, and international exchanges during the summer.

Camp Noah

ORGANIZATION: LUTHERAN SOCIAL SERVICE OF MINNESOTA

Website: www.campnoah.org

Ages: 6–12

Topic: Resilience

Description: Camp Noah is a locally hosted event for elementary-age children whose communities have been impacted by disaster. Camp Noah provides a safe, caring, and fun environment where children build resiliency skills within the familiarity of their communities, using a proven curriculum designed to help children process their disaster and/or trauma experience through creative activities and play. Camp Noah celebrates every child as special. In this safe and supportive setting, children are encouraged to face their fears, grieve their losses, identify and share their unique gifts and talents, and plan for an amazing future. What originally began as a response to flooding in the Red River Valley (North Dakota and Minnesota) in 1997 has grown into a nationally recognized program for children whose communities have been impacted by natural and human-caused disasters. Since 1997, 28 states and Puerto Rico have hosted Camp Noah.

Emergency Preparedness BSA Award

ORGANIZATION: BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Website: www.scouting.org/Home/Media/Publications/EmergencyPreparedness.aspx

Ages: 11–17

Topic: General preparedness

Description: The Emergency Preparedness BSA Award, first introduced in 2003 and updated in 2014, was designed to teach young people to take care of themselves; to be helpful to others; and to develop courage, self-reliance, and the ability to be ready to serve in an emergency. The award has been earned by tens of thousands of Scouts and Scouters individually, with their unit, or at a large event such as a jamboree. By developing these lifelong skills, Scouts have been instrumental in helping their communities recover from emergencies.

FEMA Corps

ORGANIZATIONS: CORPORATION FOR NATIONAL AND COMMUNITY SERVICE (CNCS)  AND FEMA

Website: www.nationalservice.gov/programs/americorps/fema-corps

Ages: 18–24

Topics: Career exploration, general preparedness, hurricanes, personal growth, recovery, resilience, volunteerism/community service

Description: FEMA and CNCS offer a FEMA-devoted unit of up to 1,600 service corps members within AmeriCorps' National Civilian Community Corps. The focus of FEMA Corps is on disaster preparedness, response, and recovery projects. While FEMA Corps teams mostly respond to federally declared disasters on projects pertaining to individual assistance, public assistance, planning, and logistics, they also support a variety of FEMA-sponsored youth preparedness initiatives including the Ready, Steady, Strong program. FEMA Corps also partners with other agencies such as the American Red Cross to assist with implementing their home fire prevention initiative and updating their national shelter database.

First Aid Badges

ORGANIZATION: GIRL SCOUTS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Website: <http://forgirls.girlscouts.org/badges>

Ages: 5–17

Topic: Medical

Description: The Girl Scout First Aid Badge is awarded to scouts from second grade (Brownies) through 12th grade (Ambassadors). For over a century, Girl Scouts has helped build girls of courage, confidence, and character by teaching skills and offering merit badge programs. While all of the levels of scouting require different skills and activities to earn the First Aid Badge, they all aim to prepare girls to help others and be leaders in times of emergency.

Fire & Emergency Career Exploring

ORGANIZATION: LEARNING FOR LIFE

Website: www.exploring.org/exploring-discover-future/fire-and-emergency-career-exploring

Ages: 14–20

Topics: Career exploration, fire safety, medical, search and rescue, volunteerism/community service, wildfires

Description: Fire & Emergency Services Career Exploring is open to young men and women who have an interest in learning more about careers in the fields of fire and emergency services. Fire & Emergency Services Career Exploring programs expose participants to many career experiences, leadership opportunities, and community service activities. The primary goals of the program are to help young adults choose a career path within fire and emergency services and to challenge them to become responsible citizens in their communities and country.

Fire Corps

ORGANIZATION: NATIONAL VOLUNTEER FIRE COUNCIL

Website: www.firecorps.org

Ages: All ages

Topics: Career exploration, fire safety, medical, search and rescue, volunteerism/community service, wildfires

Description: Fire Corps offers fire prevention and life-safety education and training for students to assist in emergency response efforts at their schools and in their communities. Fire Corps asks its volunteers to teach youth about their vital role in making communities safer, encouraging them to have pride in their country, gain an understanding of their civic duty, and accept personal responsibility for their well-being as an active member of the community.

Foster Grandparents

ORGANIZATION: CORPORATION FOR NATIONAL AND COMMUNITY SERVICE (CNCS) SENIOR CORPS

Website: www.nationalservice.gov/programs/senior-corps/foster-grandparents

Ages: Adults

Topics: Volunteerism/community service

Description: The Foster Grandparents program gives Senior Corps volunteers opportunities to serve as role models, mentors, and friends to children and youth in their communities. Senior Corps is a CNCS program that connects adults ages 55 and over with the people and organizations that need them most, and helps volunteers contribute their job skills and expertise to community projects and organizations that benefit youth.

Get Ready. Get Safe.

ORGANIZATION: SAVE THE CHILDREN

Website: www.savethechildren.org/getready

Ages: 0–18

Topics: Earthquakes, fire safety, floods, general preparedness, hurricanes, personal safety, resilience, severe weather, tornadoes, wildfires, winter storms

Description: Save the Children’s “Get Ready. Get Safe.” initiative is designed to help U.S. communities prepare to protect and care for children. Through online training programs, blog posts, short videos, and other resources, Save the Children makes emergency planning easy for child care professionals, emergency managers, youth-serving organizations, and communities. You can start by taking a pledge and creating a disaster supplies kit and family emergency communication plan.

Gold Award

ORGANIZATION: GIRL SCOUTS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Website: www.girlscouts.org/program/highest_awards/gold_award.asp

Ages: 5–17

Topics: Fire safety, general preparedness, personal safety, resilience, volunteerism/community service

Description: Since 1916 Girl Scout’s highest award, the Gold Award, has stood for excellence and leadership for girls everywhere. The Gold Award project is something that a girl can be passionate about and fulfills a need within a girl’s community. One way in which a girl may pursue her Gold Award is by addressing the issue of emergency preparedness. Girl Scouts nationwide recognize that emergency preparedness is critical to community safety. Sample preparedness initiatives from Gold Award winners include tsunami seminars, first aid workshops, and fire safety expos.

Hope Scouts

ORGANIZATION: HOPE WORLDWIDE

Website: www.hopeww.org/national-youth-programs-overview

Ages: 5–14

Topics: General preparedness, volunteerism/community service

Description: HOPE Scouts was founded by the group’s youngest volunteers and is aimed at creating opportunities for students in kindergarten through eighth grade to contribute to HOPE worldwide programs and efforts in meaningful ways. HOPE Scouts participate in a range of preparedness activities, including canvassing at-risk neighborhoods with disaster information. Under the supervision of their Scout Leaders, they routinely support local programs and distinguish themselves by their passionate service.

HOSA-Future Health Professionals

ORGANIZATION: HOSA-FUTURE HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

Website: www.hosa.org

Ages: 14–adult

Topics: Career exploration, general preparedness, health, medical

Description: Many HOSA chapters integrate preparedness education and training into their programs. There are two training programs (HOSA 105: Emergency Preparedness and HOSA 106: HOSA Strategies for Emergency Preparedness Competitive Events) that guide program advisers on incorporating preparedness training into their chapters. HOSA chapters may receive CERT training, and state- and national-level HOSA organizations hold competitive preparedness events, including CERT events. HOSA chapters also are encouraged to partner with local Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) chapters.

Journey of Hope (JoH)

ORGANIZATION: SAVE THE CHILDREN

Website: www.savethechildren.org/atf/cf/%7B9def2ebe-10ae-432c-9bd0-df91d2eba74a%7D/JOURNEY%20OF%20HOPE%20FACT%20SHEET%202014.PDF

Ages: 5–18

Topics: Disaster psychology, general preparedness, recovery, resilience

Description: Save the Children created JoH psychosocial programs to help children and adults cope, build on their natural resiliency, and strengthen their network of social support with friends and others. Save the Children implements JoH in pre- and post-disaster contexts to help children cope and prepare for the next disaster. There are five different versions of the program for different age groups and caregivers: Junior (grades K–1), Elementary (grades 2–5), Adolescent (grades 6–8), Teen (grades 9–12), and Care for the Caregiver.

Law Enforcement Career Exploring

ORGANIZATION: LEARNING FOR LIFE

Website: www.exploring.org/exploring-discover-future/law-enforcement-career-exploring

Ages: 14–21

Topics: Career exploration, crime prevention, personal growth, personal safety, volunteerism/community service

Description: Law Enforcement Career Exploring is open to youth who have an interest in learning more about careers in law enforcement. The Law Enforcement Career Exploring program provides educational training for young adults on the purposes, mission, and objectives of law enforcement. The program provides career orientation experiences, leadership opportunities, and community service activities. The primary goals of the program are to help young adults choose a career path within law enforcement and to challenge them to become responsible citizens of their communities and the Nation.

LoneStar Emergency Services Academy (LESA)

ORGANIZATIONS: LONESTAR EMERGENCY SERVICES ACADEMY AND CIVIL AIR PATROL

Website: www.txwgcap.org/departments/cp/lesa

Ages: 14–adult

Topics: Search and rescue, volunteerism/community service, wilderness/survival skills

Description: LESA offers a range of 1-week in-person courses, held in Nacogdoches, TX, in the summer and in Brownsville, TX, during Christmas break, for youth and adults on topics such as ground search and rescue and wilderness first responder. LESA prepares members for participation in Civil Air Patrol (CAP) Emergency Services and allows cadets to work with non-CAP emergency management professionals with an eye toward career preparation. They also have a flight school in which adolescents can participate.

McGruff Club

ORGANIZATION: NATIONAL CRIME PREVENTION COUNCIL

Website: www.ncpc.org/programs/mcgruff-club

Ages: 6–10

Topics: Crime prevention, personal safety

Description: The McGruff Club is a program that promotes crime prevention and safety education. Children learn what they can do to stay safe and to prevent crime and violence in their communities, and are encouraged to become engaged in their communities in service projects. Children meet weekly for 30 to 45 minutes and explore topics such as safe and unsafe neighborhoods, conflict management, bullying, and dangerous situations in the neighborhood. The clubs may also address diversity, Internet safety, guns and other weapons, and home safety. Children involved in the McGruff Club receive McGruff the Crime Dog items, activity sheets, safety letters from McGruff, and exclusive access to McGruff Club web pages that feature special games and activities. The program's website offers games, advice, videos, and other resources. Information for parents and educators is also available.

Medical Reserve Corps (MRC)

ORGANIZATION: OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR PREPAREDNESS AND RESPONSE, U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Websites: www.medicalreservecorps.gov and www.hosa.org/node/154

Ages: 5–adult

Topics: Health, medical, volunteerism/community service

Description: MRC units are community-based and function as a way to locally organize and utilize volunteers who want to donate their time and expertise to prepare for and respond to emergencies and promote healthy living throughout the year. MRC volunteers supplement existing emergency and public health resources and provide support for youth and school health education programs, including promoting flu prevention, hygiene, CPR and first aid training, and school blood drives. Approximately 22 percent of MRC units allow youth (under 18) membership or have formed Junior MRC units, recognizing the important role and influence junior members can have in serving their communities.

National Junior Firefighter Program

ORGANIZATION: NATIONAL VOLUNTEER FIRE COUNCIL

Website: <http://juniors.nvfc.org>

Ages: 5–18

Topics: Career exploration, fire safety, medical, search and rescue, volunteerism/community service, wildfires

Description: The National Junior Firefighter Program allows youth to volunteer and learn about fire, rescue, and emergency medical services departments in their communities. The program's website offers resources for youth to get involved and provides ideas for local fire departments to recruit volunteers. Youth active in the program can track their hours of service to receive national recognition and can apply for a variety of scholarships.

National Neighborhood Watch

ORGANIZATION: NATIONAL SHERIFF'S ASSOCIATION

Website: www.nnw.org

Ages: All ages

Topics: Crime prevention, personal safety, volunteerism/community service

Description: Neighborhood Watch programs frequently offer programs targeted toward youth, such as athletic activities, drug prevention programs, and tutoring. The main goal of these programs is to provide young people with opportunities to increase their skills and self-esteem. Some communities have organized youth crime watch programs, which train students in crime prevention strategies. Additional program topics may include gun awareness, conflict management, peer mediation, drug and gang prevention, peer pressure, and general safety.

National Pediatric Readiness Project (Peds Ready)

ORGANIZATION: EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES FOR CHILDREN

Website: www.emscnrc.org/emsc-research/peds-ready-project

Ages: 0–12

Topics: Disaster psychology, health, medical, recovery

Description: Peds Ready is an ongoing quality improvement project that promotes the optimal care of children. Peds Ready project leaders assess emergency departments and provide them with a pediatric readiness score and gap analysis.

Prep Rally

ORGANIZATION: SAVE THE CHILDREN

Website: www.savethechildren.org/PrepRally

Ages: 5–12

Topics: General preparedness, resilience

Description: Save the Children’s Prep Rally program helps communities prepare for emergencies so that when disaster strikes, families will be ready and children will be safe. It covers four basic Prep Steps: 1) Recognizing Risks, 2) Planning Ahead, 3) Gathering Wise Supplies, and 4) During a Disaster. Each step includes demonstrations, discussions, activities, and take-home materials. The curriculum is free and easy to use, and can be shaped to meet the specific needs of your community—whether it’s an after-school program, summer camp, local fair, or the start of tornado season. Training and youth service models are available. The Youth Service toolkit provides information about how to plan a Prep Rally in your community to help prepare children for disasters. The document provides checklists and suggestions to potential organizers for their event, and explains the available trainings and additional free tools available to help make their events successful.

Red Cross Clubs

ORGANIZATION: AMERICAN RED CROSS

Website: www.redcrossyouth.org

Ages: 5–22

Topics: General preparedness, medical, volunteerism/community service

Description: Red Cross Clubs are school-based (including college), student-organized groups that provide an opportunity for youth to make a difference in their schools and communities. Clubs conduct a range of projects, including some related to disaster preparedness.

Safety Town

ORGANIZATION: NATIONAL SAFETY TOWN CENTER

Website: www.nationalsafetytown.com

Ages: 4–18

Topics: General preparedness, personal safety

Description: Safety Town is a nonprofit organization that is dedicated solely to promoting preschool and early childhood safety education. The organization serves as a resource and coordinating agency for local communities to establish a Safety Town in their community, as well as a resource for nurseries and elementary schools, special education classes, and other organizations. Safety Town has provided speakers, information, assistance, books, and materials to more than 3,500 communities throughout the United States and 38 other countries. Millions of children, teenagers, teachers, and parents have benefited from the program.

SHOREline

ORGANIZATIONS: NATIONAL CENTER FOR DISASTER PREPAREDNESS AND EARTH INSTITUTE AT COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY; DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY AND CENTER FOR DISASTER AND RISK ANALYSIS AT COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY

Website: www.shoreline.ncdp.columbia.edu

Ages: 14–19

Topics: General preparedness, recovery, resilience, volunteerism/community service

Description: SHOREline seeks to develop a network of youth who help themselves, their families, their schools, their communities, and youth in other communities recover from disasters. Program participants work on developing tools that support disaster recovery by youth and communities. They also attend two yearly youth summits and have the opportunity to interact with local and national leaders. Interested students from participating schools can apply for inclusion in the program.

StormReady®

ORGANIZATION: NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE (NWS)

Website: www.stormready.noaa.gov

Ages: 13–adults

Topics: General preparedness, resilience, severe weather

Description: StormReady is a certification program sponsored by NWS as part of its Weather-Ready Nation program. Participants of StormReady include communities, counties, schools and universities, military bases, tribal nations, commercial enterprises, and other groups. Youth-focused organizations can apply to NWS to be recognized as StormReady if they meet the criteria for recognition with the help of their local NWS office Warning Coordination Meteorologist, or they may join the StormReady Supporter program.

TakeAction

ORGANIZATION: NATIONAL FIRE PROTECTION ASSOCIATION

Websites: www.nfpa.org/takeaction and www.youtube.com/watch?v=Qni1tT64D-4

Ages: 1–18

Topics: Conservation, fire safety, general preparedness, personal safety, resilience, wildfires

Description: The TakeAction campaign provides resources and projects for youth that reduce wildfire risks and post-fire impacts like flooding and mudslides. Youth can get involved through an individual, family, or community service project that benefits their families—including pets and livestock, neighbors, and communities. The whiteboard video teaches youth how to be empowered with knowing what to do and how to be prepared.

Teens, Crime, and the Community (TCC)

ORGANIZATION: NATIONAL CRIME PREVENTION COUNCIL

Website: www.ncpc.org/programs/teens-crime-and-the-community/about-tcc

Ages: 13–18

Topics: Crime prevention, personal safety, volunteerism/community service

Description: TCC is an initiative that encourages youth across the country to create safer schools and neighborhoods and increases social responsibility in teens through education and service-learning projects. TCC is composed of two major efforts: Community Works and Youth Safety Corps (YSC). Community Works is a comprehensive, law-related crime prevention program that helps teens understand how crime affects them and their families, friends, and communities, and it involves them in crime prevention projects to help make their communities safer and more vital. YSC provides an opportunity for youth interested in public safety and crime prevention to become involved in partnerships with school resource officers, school personnel, and community volunteers to assist in creating safe schools and communities.

United States Power Squadrons: Youth Activities Committee

ORGANIZATION: U.S. POWER SQUADRONS

Website: www.usps.org/national/membership/youth

Ages: 5–14

Topic: Water safety

Description: United States Power Squadrons introduces children to boating and water safety behaviors, including spotting environmental hazards and practicing smart safety and rescue techniques. The site provides games and activities to teach safe boating.

Volunteers in Police Service (VIPS): Youth-Related Activities

ORGANIZATION: INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF CHIEFS OF POLICE

Website: www.iacp.org/VIPS

Ages: 5–18

Topics: Career exploration, crime prevention, personal safety, volunteerism/community service

Description: VIPS offers opportunities for youth to become involved in local police services by participating in programs such as youth citizen academies, school-based programs such as Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE), after-school programs, and internships. Local VIPS programs also offer junior police academies, youth crime watch programs, youth accountability boards, youth camps, law enforcement exploring posts, mentoring programs, and police athletic league programs.

Young ShelterBox (YSB) Club

ORGANIZATION: SHELTERBOX USA

Website: www.youngshelterboxusa.org

Ages: 5–14

Topics: Conservation, general preparedness, volunteerism/community service

Description: The YSB Club offers youth the opportunity to prepare for disasters with their families and community and help make a difference for global neighbors. The YSB website includes information on the causes and effects of various disasters such as earthquakes, floods, hurricanes, tsunamis, and volcanic eruptions.

Youth Creating Disaster Recovery and Resilience (YCDR²)

ORGANIZATIONS: SCHOOL OF HUMANITARIAN STUDIES AT ROYAL ROADS UNIVERSITY, DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY AND CENTER FOR DISASTER AND RISK ANALYSIS AT COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY, AND SOCIAL SCIENCES AND HUMANITIES RESEARCH COUNCIL OF CANADA

Website: www.ycdr.org

Ages: 15–22

Topics: Personal growth, recovery, resilience

Description: The goal of this research project, funded by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada, is to creatively engage disaster-affected youth following disasters. YCDR² focuses on how youth can and do contribute to the post-disaster recovery process. YCDR² aims to connect youth across communities through visual and digital storytelling and other creative media. This approach empowers and educates youth about disasters and seeks to influence the ways that communities incorporate youth perspectives into disaster planning activities (i.e., mitigation, prevention, preparedness, response, and recovery). This project contributes to an understanding of the ways in which social, economic, and personal factors influence disaster vulnerability among youth and their capacity to recover and contribute to long-term individual and community resilience.

Youth Preparedness Council

ORGANIZATION: FEMA

Website: ready.gov/youth-preparedness-council

Ages: 14–17

Topics: General preparedness, personal growth, volunteerism/community service

Description: The FEMA Youth Preparedness Council brings together youth leaders from across the country who are interested and engaged in advocating for youth preparedness. The Council supports FEMA's commitment to involving youth in preparedness-related activities and provides an avenue to engage the youth population, taking into account their perspectives, feedback, and opinions. Council members attend an annual Youth Preparedness Council Summit, meet periodically with FEMA representatives, and complete individual and group projects. Council members are selected during an annual application process based on their dedication to public service, their efforts in making a difference in their communities, and their potential to expand their impact as national advocates for youth preparedness.

Programs By Region

Region I

FEMA Region I includes Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont. The contact information for Region I is as follows:

99 High Street

Boston, MA 02110

Telephone: (877) 336-2734

fema-r1-info@fema.dhs.gov

More information can be found at www.fema.gov/region-i.

MASSACHUSETTS

Project 351

ORGANIZATION: PROJECT 351

Website: www.project351.com

Ages: 13–14

Topics: Volunteerism/community service

Description: Project 351 celebrates the ethic of service, youth leadership, and the power of community to uplift and unite. The heart of Project 351 is the dedication and compassion of young leaders from across Massachusetts. Ambassadors are eighth grade students who are selected by local educators for their exemplary ethic of service and their values of humility, compassion, commitment, and generosity of spirit. Project 351 was launched during Governor Deval Patrick's 2011 inauguration, when more than 400 youth ambassadors united to serve, develop leadership skills, and discuss issues critical to young people and their communities. Their 2012 day of service affected more than 10,000 children facing challenges in the areas of nutrition, early childhood health, and development and education. That success compelled the youth ambassadors to continue to seek the training, tools, and support of a new network of service-minded youth.

NEW HAMPSHIRE

City of Nashua Teen Community Emergency Response Team (CERT)

ORGANIZATION: CITY OF NASHUA OFFICE OF EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

Website: www.nashuanh.gov/cert

Ages: 13–18

Topics: Disaster psychology, fire safety, general preparedness, medical, personal safety, recovery, search and rescue, volunteerism/community service

Description: The City of Nashua's Office of Emergency Management sponsors a Teen CERT program that teaches teenagers readiness and response skills. By emphasizing hands-on practice and using realistic exercises, participants learn to prepare for the unexpected. Participants develop leadership skills that empower them to safely respond to emergencies and assist survivors without endangering themselves or others. To supplement in-class learning, the Nashua Office of Emergency Management provides students with course materials as well as emergency kits. This program can be brought to schools, clubs, and after-school programs.

Region II

FEMA Region II includes New Jersey, New York, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. The contact information for Region II is as follows:

26 Federal Plaza

New York, NY 10278-0002

Telephone: (212) 680-3600

Easy as ABC: Steps to Protect Your Child During Emergencies in the School Day

ORGANIZATION: CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL AND PREVENTION (CDC)

Websites: www.cdc.gov/childrenindisasters/infographics/documents/easy_as_abc_iinfographic.pdf and www.cdc.gov/childrenindisasters/index.html

Ages: Adults

Material: Worksheets

Topics: General preparedness, resilience, severe weather

Description: To help parents ensure that their children are ready for disasters, CDC developed a checklist to guide them through three important safety steps. These steps ask essential questions and provide a space for families to save their responses. Families determine where to meet following an evacuation and what medications and supplies will be needed, and children complete an emergency contacts card to store in their backpacks.

Environmental Protection Agency (EPA): Student Resources

ORGANIZATION: ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

Websites: www.epa.gov/students and www.epa.gov/education

Ages: 5–18

Materials: Games, in-person activities, lesson plans

Topics: Conservation, health

Description: EPA offers a variety of resources for children and youth, as well as parents and teachers. The Planet Protector Club, for ages 5–11, teaches younger children about their environment and focuses on topics such as garbage and climate change. The Make a Difference campaign for middle school students helps students make informed decisions for protecting the environment in their day-to-day lives, such as by recycling. The website also offers information on community service and science fair projects and homework help.

Ages: Adults

Material: Community engagement

Topics: Disaster psychology, general preparedness, health, medical, personal safety, recovery

Description: The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response compiled a list of resources on family reunification following disasters. The list includes guidance documents, case studies, templates, and pediatric and family resources on developing a family communication plan.

Federal Alliance for Safe Homes (FLASH®)

ORGANIZATION: FEDERAL ALLIANCE FOR SAFE HOMES

Websites: www.flash.org, www.stormstruck.org, and www.flash.org/lasthousestanding

Ages: 5–adults

Materials: Games, in-person activities

Topics: Floods, general preparedness, hurricanes, personal safety, resilience, tornadoes, winter storms

Description: The nonprofit FLASH is the country’s leading consumer advocate for strengthening homes and safeguarding families from natural and manmade disasters. FLASH has developed an activity book that includes youth-specific activities and worksheets. FLASH sponsors StormStruck: The Tale of Two Homes, an interactive weather experience that is part of Walt Disney World. The StormStruck website features a variety of disaster preparedness safety games and interactive activities. FLASH also created The Last House Standing, an app that provides a fun way to teach kids that how and where you build is the most fundamental element of disaster survival for families and homes. By playing Last House Standing, kids learn that surviving these disasters can be done.

Firefacts.org

ORGANIZATION: NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION COUNCIL

Website: www.firefacts.org

Ages: 5–12

Materials: Coloring books, games, puzzles, worksheets

Topic: Fire safety

Description: Firefacts.org is a family of interactive websites that teaches fire safety to children and offers resources to parents and teachers to promote fire safety. The family of websites includes Firesafekids.org, which features educational games and activities for kids.

Get Ready

ORGANIZATION: AMERICAN PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION

Website: www.getreadyforflu.org

Ages: All ages

Materials: Games, in-person activities, worksheets

Topic: Health

Description: The Get Ready campaign, which was launched in 2006, helps Americans to prepare themselves, their families, and their communities for all hazards and disasters including pandemic flu, infectious disease, and natural disasters. The website provides free print, video, and audio materials that can be downloaded, including a brochure, fact sheets, posters, podcasts, games, and coloring sheets. In addition, the website has a special area just for children where they can find games and child friendly reading materials.

Great ShakeOut

ORGANIZATION: SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EARTHQUAKE CENTER AT THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Website: www.shakeout.org

Ages: All ages

Material: In-person activity

Topic: Earthquakes

Description: The Great ShakeOut website provides information for individuals, businesses, schools, faith-based organizations, community groups, government agencies, and others to participate in the Great ShakeOut, get prepared for earthquakes, and share what they are doing with others. Resources include a drill manual, preparedness guide for individuals with access or functional needs, drill broadcast recordings, posters, flyers, and web banners.

Here for Each Other: Helping Families After Emergencies

ORGANIZATION: SESAME WORKSHOP®

Website: www.sesamestreet.org/parents/topicsandactivities/toolkits/emergencies

Ages: 3–5

Materials: Coloring pages, games, in-person activities, worksheets

Topics: General preparedness, recovery, resilience

Description: Sesame Street developed Here for Each Other: Helping Families After Emergencies, a bilingual initiative (English and Spanish) that provides resources to help adults and children cope with disasters. Here for Each Other provides materials including videos and guides for children, families, and community leaders (e.g., first responders, teachers). These materials are intended to help children feel secure and help parents create a comforting environment for their children in the wake of a disaster. Sample exercises include a drawing activity, memory game, and prompts for identifying feelings. The materials also include tips and strategies for parents, caregivers, and providers.

The Hungrier Games: Disaster Resilience Skills for Youth

ORGANIZATION: RAND CORPORATION

Website: www.rand.org/pubs/tools/TL164.html

Ages: 13–18

Materials: Games, in-person activities, lesson plans, worksheets

Topics: General preparedness, recovery, resilience

Description: This 39-page e-book for high school youth presents important talking points and a scavenger hunt game that can be applied to lessons on emergency preparedness. The activities outlined in the guide can be scaled to any size group based on the amount of time available.

These programs include Semester of Service, Global Youth Service Day, and the National Child Awareness Month Youth Ambassador Program. These programs are designed to engage schools, before-and after-school programs, and youth clubs and societies. YSA's website also offers suggestions for disaster preparedness, home safety, and community-building activities.
