SECRETARY OF THE ARMY
WASHINGTON

INFO MEMO

FOR: SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

DepSecDef Action _____

FROM: Christine E. Wormuth, Secretary of the Army CW

SUBJECT: Fiscal Year 2021 (FY21) Sexual Assault Report

- Purpose. The attached sexual assault report (TAB B) highlights attributes of the Army's commitment to create and maintain a climate of trust where Soldiers live the Army Values, thereby reducing incidents of sexual harassment and assault. For FY21, these highlights include:
 - Established the Army People First Task Force (PFTF) to address the findings and recommendations of the Fort Hood Independent Review Committee (FHIRC) and how the Army will make People First a reality.
 - Supported the DoD Independent Review Commission (IRC) on Sexual Assault in the Military. Created multiple planning teams to develop actions and implement the recommendations of the IRC including:
 - Redesign of the Army Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP) program
 - Improve the investigation and prosecution of sexual assault crimes
 - Hired an experienced senior civilian to lead the Army Criminal Investigation Division (USACID)
 - Began a comprehensive transformation of USACID to improve the timeliness and quality of sexual assault investigations
 - Continued to implement a plan of action and milestones with specific objectives in support of a comprehensive sexual assault prevention strategy
 - Initiated a project with the Center for Naval Analysis (CNA) that evaluates risks and protective factors, as well as integrated prevention strategies that may enhance protective factors and mitigate risk factors throughout a Soldier's career
 - Established a cohesion assessment team (CAT) pilot program in FY21, designed to assess organizational climate, cohesion, and effectiveness of command programs aimed at countering harmful behaviors, including sexual harassment and sexual assault
- The Army's future actions and plans for a comprehensive sexual assault prevention and response strategy focused on:

- Leaders creating and maintaining positive command climates
- Full implementation of the IRC recommendations
- Full implementation of changes to the military justice system
- Launch of a one-year pilot program designed to better care for and protect sexual assault victims. The pilot features an installation fusion directorate at six locations and coordinates the response services needed to support victims under a newly established fusion director
- Hiring of significantly more trained prevention personnel to meet the DoD requirement to develop a prevention workforce

FY 2021 Annual Report on Sexual Assault in the Military Executive Summary: (U.S. ARMY)

The U.S. Army is committed to enhancing readiness by preventing sexual assault, sexual harassment, and associated retaliatory behaviors and by providing comprehensive response capabilities through its Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP) program. To fulfill this commitment, Army leaders must “Character and culture matter - I will do my utmost to ensure we have a healthy command climate which fosters Army values at every installation, securing the well-being of our people”.

Christine E. Wormuth
Secretary of the Army

establish a culture of dignity and respect that does not tolerate behaviors and attitudes that lead to sexual misconduct and in which victims feel safe to report without fear of retaliation. The vast majority of Soldiers serve honorably, meeting the standards embodied in the Army Values. However, it is the unacceptable actions of a few that jeopardize unit readiness and erode the trust and confidence that the American people have in our Army. Soldiers who commit the crime of sexual assault, or fail to intervene and stop an assault, violate the Nation’s trust and the trust of their fellow Soldiers. To retain the trust and confidence of the Nation, the Army embeds its efforts in a SHARP program that combines initiatives to prevent and respond to incidents of sexual assault, sexual harassment, and retaliation.

In fiscal year 2021 (FY21), the Army continued to see a high rate of sexual assault reports: 7.1 reports of sexual assault per 1,000 Soldiers, the highest reporting rate ever recorded. The high rate in the number of reports may reflect victim confidence in their chain of command, victim advocacy and response services, Army criminal investigation offices, and appropriate accountability for offenders. During FY19 through FY21, the Army re-examined its sexual assault prevention strategies in an effort to reduce prevalence and prevent sexual assault. Due to COVID-19, DoD postponed the 2020 WGRA to FY22.

This report details the operational initiatives of the Army’s SHARP program and the Army’s progress in preventing and responding to the crimes of sexual assault. Highlights of the Army’s FY21 initiatives and progress include:

- Began implementing a plan of action and milestones that incorporates specific objectives in support of a comprehensive prevention strategy.
- Maintained a professionally trained cadre of sexual assault response coordinators (SARCs) and victim advocates (VAs) as critical resources who help ensure the best possible response to victims.
- Maintained special victim investigators to lead sexual assault investigative teams throughout the Army.
- Continued implementing a comprehensive military justice redesign to ensure the most effective allocation of judge advocate resources.
- Continued to implement a strategic oversight plan to facilitate the assessment of the SHARP program.

Since its inception in 2009, the Army's SHARP program focused its efforts on addressing specific goals which align with the five goals of the Department of Defense Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) Strategic Plan, 2017-2021:

Goal 1 - Prevention of sexual assault.

Goal 2 - Assistance to, and advocacy for, victims of sexual assault.

Goal 3 - Competent and sensitive investigations of sexual assault.

Goal 4 - Accountability for the alleged perpetrators of sexual assault.

Goal 5 - Effective assessment of the SHARP program.

In addressing Goal 1 (Prevention) during FY21, the Army continued its Prevention Plan of Action (PPoA) phase III (planning and execution) efforts by developing detailed plans to implement the PPoA. The Army achieved many of its PPoA objectives in FY21, while making progress toward the remainder.

"Sexual assault and sexual harassment violate everything we stand for as Soldiers. It is our responsibility as one Army to take care of one another and not tolerate these violations".
General James C. McConville
40th Chief of Staff of the Army

The Army is dedicated to victim care and response through Goal 2 (Victim Assistance and Advocacy). Army SARCs and VAs receive comprehensive training through a 2-week SHARP Foundation Course (conducted locally for collateral duty personnel) or a 6-week SARC/VA Career Course (for full-time personnel) from the Army SHARP Academy at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The Army also ensures that victims of sexual assault receive quality medical care at Army military treatment facilities (MTFs). The U.S.

Army Medical Command (MEDCOM) provides at least one sexual assault medical forensic examiner (SAMFE) at every Army MTF equipped with an emergency room.

The Army addresses Goal 3 (Investigation) with innovative techniques and state-of-the-art resources to ensure the thoroughness of sexual assault investigations. The U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Division (CID) joins with prosecutors, victim witness liaisons, SARCs, VAs, and other sexual assault responders to form special victim capability teams at Army installations worldwide. These teams train in the unique aspects of investigating and prosecuting sexual assault cases. The U.S. Army Military Police School continues to increase the Army's number of certified agents through an acclaimed sexual assault investigative training program.

Highlights of efforts in Goal 4 (Accountability) during FY21 include implementing the comprehensive redesign of military justice, which by specializing counsel as litigators or command advisors, improves both the expertise in the courtroom and the quality of legal advice to commanders. Also in FY21, the Army increased transparency of disciplinary actions and communications to victims, and conducted staffing assessments for the special victims' counsel (SVC) and special victim prosecutor (SVP) programs.

The objective of Goal 5 (Assessment) is to measure, analyze, and assess the effectiveness of the Army's efforts related to sexual assault prevention and response. The Army collects information from multiple sources to determine the effect of its actions and initiatives to mitigate sexual assault. For FY21, the Army continued to provide measures of effectiveness to Army commands and installations in support of their mitigation action plans to counter sexual assault vulnerabilities identified in their organizations. In addition, the Army continued a force-wide staff assistance visit (SAV) program designed to capture qualitative data to complement the quantitative data collected by organizational inspections.

"When we focus on fit, disciplined and well-trained teams, we're going to drive down all the negatives that happen to us on a daily basis."

Michael A. Grinston
16th Sergeant Major of the Army

Leaders at all levels must take an active role in the SHARP program to ensure that the Army achieves these five stated goals. Leaders must establish command climates that prevent the crime of sexual assault, take all allegations of sexual assault seriously, ensure fair and impartial investigations, treat victims with dignity and respect, and ensure that victims can report without fear of retaliation, while taking appropriate action against alleged offenders. Significant elements of the SHARP program include:

- A senior commander at each Army installation who has overall responsibility for SHARP program implementation and execution. As a critical element of their program execution, these leaders conduct a monthly forum to review cases, provide procedural guidance, and receive feedback on program implementation.
- Command SHARP program managers who assist commanders in executing their SHARP program and integrating sexual assault response efforts (legal, law enforcement, chaplain, and medical) above the brigade level.
- SARCs and VAs who are available 24 hours a day/7 days a week (24/7) to interact with victims of sexual assault and other response agencies to provide support in garrison and deployed environments. These SARCs and VAs also support commanders by implementing the SHARP program, supporting unit training, and assisting with command climate surveys to monitor prevention efforts.

The Army's actions in FY21 demonstrate a continued commitment to strong and compassionate responses to sexual assault. Each case is troubling and the Army fully investigates every alleged misconduct, follows every lead, provides support to victims, and takes available and appropriate action to hold individuals accountable. Still, incidents during FY21 clearly indicate the Army has much more work to do, especially regarding command climate, SHARP program execution, and sexual assault prevention. To address these shortfalls, and the findings of the Fort Hood Independent Review Committee (FHIRC) report, the Secretary of the Army established the People First Task Force (PFTF) in December 2020. The Chief of Staff directed the PFTF to review the 32 sexual harassment and sexual assault related recommendations in the FHIRC report, and evaluate the Army SHARP program. The PFTF proactively took efforts to review the SHARP program in the areas of prevention, advocacy, and professionalizing the workforce.

The publication of “Hard Truths and the Duty to Change: Recommendations from the Independent Review Commission on Sexual Assault in the Military,” on July 2, 2021, further reinforced the importance of the Army’s PFTF efforts. Due to the overlapping nature of the FHIRC report and subsequent DoD Independent Review Commission (IRC) guidance, the PFTF SHARP redesign team is collaborating with the Army’s IRC implementation team to develop solutions that address both sets of recommendations.

Once the Secretary of Defense accepted the IRC recommendations and the Office of the Secretary of Defense (OSD) published the Tier 1 guidance, the Acting Under Secretary of the Army directed the creation of an Army IRC operations planning team (OPT). The Army IRC OPT serves as a collaborative partnership across the Army Staff, to rapidly implement OSD guidance and address a balanced implementation that includes FY22 resource requirements across the Future Years Defense Program (FYDP).

This annual report complies with the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness (USD (P&R)) memorandum, dated August 25, 2021, Subject: Data Call for the Fiscal Year 2021 Department of Defense Annual Report on Sexual Assault in the Military. This report contains:

- Details of Army actions in support of the five goals contained in the DoD SAPR Strategic Plan 2017-2021, and the DoD Prevention Plan of Action 2019-2023.
- Data analysis of the Army’s 3,212 unrestricted reports and 869 restricted reports of sexual assault reported during FY21.
- A profile and brief synopsis of each sexual assault case in which there was a disposition decision in FY21.

1. Goal 1—Prevention: “institutionalize evidenced-based, informed prevention practice and policies across the Department so that all Military Service members are treated with dignity and respect, and have the knowledge, tools, and support needed to prevent sexual assaults.”

1.1 Prevention Plan of Action (PPoA) Implementation Efforts: Summarize the major activities supporting implementation and evaluation of the PPoA objectives completed in FY 2021. Include efforts to address short-term activities (due May 2021) and progress in implementing intermediate- and long-term activities (due 2023 and 2025+, respectively).

During FY21, the Army continued its PPoA phase III (planning and execution) efforts by developing detailed plans to implement and achieve the PPoA plan of action and milestones (POAM). Several echelons of the Army, from Headquarters, Department of the Army (HQDA) to subordinate commands collaborated in efforts to address phase III. The Army achieved many of its PPoA objectives in FY21, while making progress toward the remainder.

The Army’s major activities to achieve the following PPoA objectives in FY21 include:

Objective 4.1.1 - Develop tools to help leaders understand and communicate effectively on the prevention process and prevention system, and tools to inform their decision making on developing, implementing, and evaluating comprehensive approaches:

- Continued to develop prevention-focused knowledge, skills, and abilities (KSA) for the Basic Officer Leader Course (BOLC) and non-commissioned officer (NCO), Basic Leader Course (BLC). Submitted KSAs to the DoD Sexual Assault Response and Prevention Office (DoD SAPRO) for review and approval.
- The SHARP Academy developed a virtual “Commander’s Prevention Toolkit” to help educate command teams on the Army’s prevention strategy and key prevention actions at brigade, battalion, and company level.

Objective 4.2.2 - Identify and select prevention professionals who will constitute the prevention workforce and facilitate their training and credentialing:

- The SHARP Academy developed and integrated new prevention lessons into the SARC/VA Career Course, SHARP Program Manager Course, and SHARP instructor curriculum.
- Twenty SHARP professionals across the Army completed the DoD SAPRO integrated prevention workforce training in FY21.

Objective 4.2.5 - Conduct and support regular needs assessment to assess and enhance professional development of prevention professionals; develop and implement methods to address deficits in competencies when identified:

- The SHARP Academy developed a six-month post-graduation competency assessment for the SARC/VA Career Course.
- The survey incorporates brigade and battalion commander feedback on their SARC’s and VA’s professional development, competencies, and skills.

Objectives 4.3.1/4.7.1 - (4.3.1) Build and maintain collaborative relationships with experts and academic institutions to share prevention research and best practices. (4.7.1) In consultation with subject matter experts across issues and organizations, identify evidence-based programs from multiple disciplines and organizations and integrate proven activities into comprehensive approaches for sexual harassment and assault prevention across the career-cycle:

- Created a decision-making process to filter input from subject matter experts (SME).
- Identified an initial group of Army and DoD SMEs to evaluate concepts as part of a prevention collaboration system.
- Established an effort to identify current prevention approaches across the Army career cycle, including an integrated prevention framework.
- Initiated a memorandum of agreement (MOA) to gain access to data on prevention activities from Army partners.

Objective 4.3.2 - Develop and execute a plan for increasing collaboration and strengthening integrative approaches in support of primary prevention:

- Drafted a charter for a prevention collaboration system that ensures experts examine prevention activities and data that address the spectrum of harmful behaviors, not just sexual harassment and assault.
- Established cohorts of civilian prevention experts, as well as military prevention experts, to ensure recommendations are evidence-based.

Objective 4.4.3 - Review current data collection efforts to identify opportunities for expanding existing data systems/surveys to capture timely data that informs prevention planning, evaluation, and effectiveness at each level (e.g. local):

- Completed an analysis of current data requirements and statutory authorities.
- Reviewed data collection efforts, including funded and projected research.
- Investigated data and information management sources, both within the Army and DoD, as well as outside of the military.
- Began preliminary identification and execution of opportunities for further data collection and synthesis within the current Army portfolio.

Objective 4.4.4 - Establish methods to integrate prevention-related data across disparate data systems that capture various problem behaviors and risk and protective factors to inform prevention planning and evaluation:

- Codified procedures to link existing systems, such as the Integrated Case Reporting System (ICRS), the Defense Sexual Incident Database (DSAID), the SHARP Strategic Management System (SMS), and the commander's risk reduction tool.
- Initiated procedures to integrate data, analyze prevention-related data across data systems, and identify potential systems that can integrate data.

- Began developing MOAs, memorandums of understanding (MOUs), and data usage agreements to facilitate data sharing and usage across Army and DoD to address information gaps to optimize prevention planning, evaluation, and effectiveness.

Objective 4.5.1 - Determine prevention resourcing needs and pursue prevention funding if needed:

- Analyzed the FHIRC, DoD IRC, and Army PFTF recommendations to establish required funding for FY22 and beyond.
- Forecasted requirements for Program Objective Memorandum (POM) 24-28 based on DoD IRC and PFTF recommendations for SHARP and a primary prevention workforce, including resilience, suicide prevention, and substance abuse.
- Submitted a POM 24-28 planning task for “People First” to synchronize requirements across four program evaluation groups.

Objective 4.8.1 - Develop, as needed, and utilize methods to assess quality implementation to support prevention planning and execution:

- Conducted a detailed analysis to develop various prevention tools for leaders and SHARP professionals. Each echelon (tactical, operational, strategic) facilitated the assessment for prevention activities employed at various levels throughout the Army.
- Reviewed the “Army People Strategy” for prevention activities and policy designed to address sexual assault and sexual harassment. The research study and subsequent literature review resulted in a proposed prevention activity monitoring tool (PAMT) to assess implementation efforts.

Objective 4.8.2 - Develop and execute methods to address negative perceptions and other barriers to engagement in sexual assault prevention activities, as identified by the Services at the appropriate echelon:

- Reviewed DoD and Army data collection efforts to identify nature, accessibility, and quality of data available on the negative perceptions and other barriers.
- Collected data on the Solarium conducted at the United States Military Academy (USMA) and the ongoing cohesion assessment teams, providing the Army with important information to understand negative perceptions and other barriers.
- Initiated long-term, scientific data collection and analysis efforts, including the identification of resources to pursue empirical data to address gaps and/or limitations in current data sources.

Objective 4.9.4 - Address evaluation gaps and develop, implement, and institutionalize an evaluation process by which prevention programs activities are evaluated and results are disseminated to support continuous quality improvement:

- Executed a measurability assessment of the SHARP program’s ability to provide information during evaluation efforts by reviewing attributes and associated indicators.
- Findings from the measurability assessment include:

- Evaluation efforts directed at the key process of response and professional training can occur.
- SHARP program authoritative source documents provide guidance.
- Need dedicated policy and associated internal controls to provide reasonable assurance that prevention programs operate as intended.

Other efforts by the Army in FY21 include an exploratory research agenda to build an empirical understanding of the problems into which prevention efforts attempt to intervene. Pursuing an iterative research approach, the Army underscored the importance of testing foundational assumptions through data-driven hypotheses, careful methodological design, rigorous analysis, and transparency on research findings. The Army initiated a number of new research projects to provide empirically-based guidance for the Army's next steps to prevent sexual assault, as well as other problematic behaviors, including:

- A project with the Center for Naval Analysis (CNA), "Identifying Cross-Cutting Risk and Protective Factors and Preventive Approaches for Harmful Behaviors." This project evaluates risks and protective factors, as well as integrated prevention strategies that may enhance protective factors and mitigate risk factors throughout a Soldier's career. This effort leverages work conducted by other prevention agencies and working groups to understand integrated prevention in the Army, and Army-specific risk and protective factors. Deliverables included an Army-specific prevention framework, the evaluation of existing prevention programs, and an approach to enhance integrated prevention activities for the Army.
- A new project with RAND Arroyo Center to analyze the circumstances surrounding Soldiers' self-reported most serious experiences of sexual harassment, gender discrimination, and sexual assault.
- The Army's ongoing work with the Institute for Defense Analyses (IDA) to provide an evidence-based understanding of sexual misconduct in the military.

The Army also sponsored its first publically released research reports on sexual assault, sexual harassment, and gender discrimination, supporting the DoD IRC recommendation citing the need for transparency and sharing of research results. These Army-sponsored reports include:

- "Organizational Characteristics Associated with Risk of Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment in the U.S. Army." This report from RAND Arroyo Center produced estimates of sexual assault and sexual harassment risk faced by Soldiers at installations, commands, and in career management fields, providing the Army with increased visibility on where risks of sexual assault and harassment are consistently highest and enabling the Army to more precisely target and tailor its sexual assault and harassment prevention activities. The Army incorporated findings from this report into commander historical risk reports for specific installations and commands.
- "Sexual Harassment and Gender Discrimination in the Active-Component Army: Variation in Most Serious Event Characteristics by Gender and Installation Risk." This report from RAND Arroyo Center produced profiles of most serious experiences of sexual harassment or gender discrimination, describing what types of behaviors occurred, characteristics of (alleged) perpetrators, and the times and locations the experiences occurred, enabling the Army to target and tailor its prevention activities with further precision.

- “Sexual Misconduct in the Military: Contextualizing the Problem Space, Advancing the Dialogue.” This foundational literature review from IDA provided the Army with an evidence-based understanding of what researchers know – and do not know – about factors that may enable or constrain sexual misconduct among active duty Army Soldiers.

1.2 Immediate Actions Implementation Efforts: Summarize the activities undertaken during this reporting period to address the initiatives required under the Secretary of Defense’s Immediate Actions Memorandum and follow-on guidance from the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness. Address your efforts under each of the requirements listed below:

- Immediate Action 1. Assess Compliance with Sexual Assault and Harassment Policies and Integrated Violence Prevention Efforts
- Immediate Action 2. Conduct Evaluation at High Risk Installations
- Immediate Action 3. Establish a Violence Prevention Workforce

Immediate Action 1: Assess Compliance with Sexual Assault and Harassment Policies and Integrated Violence Prevention Efforts

The Army conducted a compliance assessment on sexual harassment, sexual assault, and integrated violence prevention policies at each Army colonel-level command, and higher. In addition to commands submitting checklists required by DoD, the Army SHARP program office deployed observation and assistance teams to oversee the self-assessment process and extrapolate key discussion points for inclusion in the overall report. The concept provided an opportunity to understand challenges, gaps, best practices, and strengths occurring throughout the Army. The feedback ensured the Army takes informed steps to prevent sexual harassment and sexual assault and provided an excellent tool to evaluate the Army’s service-level organizations.

The installation/command prevention capability self-assessments yielded only a 49 percent compliance average across the Army. These self-assessments provided results on lessons learned and deficiencies, and emphasized commands’ positive efforts in correcting deficiencies and identifying program improvement strategies. Army SHARP program office personnel reviewed all ratings that were not compliant in the area of sexual assault and sexual harassment policies to determine corrective actions and to help increase compliance with standards and procedural guidance.

Some commands did identify strengths, especially in items outlined in the PPOA framework, such as process evaluations and evaluation plans. The Army SHARP program office reached out to those commands to better understand those respective ratings and review resource limitations for personnel and funding to help develop a prevention workforce that is skilled, trained, and operates collaboratively.

The Army also used ICRS for sexual harassment complaints and DSAID for sexual assault reports. These two databases represent the Army’s systems of record for sexual harassment complaints and sexual assault reports. The Army issues monthly quality control and data accuracy reports to all system users and commands.

Immediate Action 2: Conduct Evaluation at High-Risk Installations

DoD conducted the evaluations at high-risk Army installations. The Army supported the evaluations by providing liaison personnel from the Army SHARP program office to the DoD onsite installation evaluation (OSIE) teams. The Army liaisons assembled documents and coordinated issues and schedules between installations and the OSIE teams.

Immediate Action 3: Establish a Violence Prevention Workforce

This action focused on strengthening an integrated prevention workforce for sexual harassment, sexual assault, suicide, alcohol and substance abuse, and domestic violence. The Army currently has three prevention specialists with plans to acquire significantly more trained personnel to meet the DoD requirement to develop a prevention workforce. Developing a prevention workforce requires hiring and training personnel to fulfill these roles at Army commands and installations. Current SHARP program managers, SARCs, VAs, and other SHARP professionals may attend training and provide a foundation of prevention. However, these professionals will not serve in dual-hatted roles to fill the prevention positions.

To address this effort, the Army took the following actions:

- Issued Execution Order (EXORD) 105-21 (Sexual Harassment/Assault Response) for commands to identify SHARP professionals to attend the DoD SAPRO integrated violence prevention training through 2022.
- Created an online survey to assess prevention efforts throughout the Army and followed up with a dedicated question and answer response line to address various queries from the field.

1.3 Future Plans: Identify any major leadership approved initiatives your Military Service/NGB is undertaking in support of prevention and/or the PPOA. Identify key considerations or obstacles that are currently affecting the implementation of the PPOA.

Major leadership approved initiatives to support prevention and/or the PPOA

The Army plans to continue PPOA Phase III through June 2022 in order to achieve the objectives in the POAM. Specifically:

- Complete a needs assessment that provides findings, recommendations, and proposed priority actions to address barriers to prevention activities.
- Conduct data collection efforts, including a review of the WGRA, to identify negative perceptions and other barriers to sexual assault prevention activities.
- Continue the prevention workforce initiative to include new position descriptions for the hiring of dedicated prevention personnel.
- Seek input from SMEs on the output of small group meetings to understand the current operational environment for problematic behaviors, and the potential desired end state of integrated prevention within the Army. These experts will pull from academia and industry to inform best practices.

- Conduct installation focus groups to build a data-driven understanding of Soldiers' experiences, focusing in particular on climate, culture, leadership response, and gender integration, and other barriers for sexual assault prevention activities.

Other Army plans to support prevention during FY22 include:

- Continue to work with RAND Arroyo Center by conducting a deeper dive into the relationship between climate and sexual assault/harassment risk.
- Continue to work with IDA to begin building an empirically-based, foundational understanding of the landscape of sexual misconduct in order to improve SHARP program effectiveness by ensuring that prevention activities align with Soldiers' experiences, perceptions, norms, and beliefs.
- Continue to work with CNA to develop an understanding of a broad range of Army prevention programs via a review of prevention policies and program documents, and interviews with program officials and SMEs.
- Continue to implement the Sergeant Major of the Army initiative, "This Is My Squad," at all echelons through various in-person visits, virtual webinars, conferences, and training venues.
- Continue to integrate the Prevention Annex on Sexual Harassment and Assault activities with the Army Prevention Strategy.
- Develop a virtual "Commander's Prevention Toolkit" and new prevention focused training classes for multiple leader courses.
- Conduct a pilot of the PAMT to assess initiatives, programs, and practices.
- Finalize charters for the prevention collaboration and prevention decision teams.

2. Goal 2—Victim Assistance & Advocacy: “deliver consistent and effective advocacy and care for all military Service members or their adult dependents, such that it empowers them to report assaults, promotes recovery, facilitates dignified and respectful treatment, and restores military readiness.”

2.1 Strategic Summary: Summarize your efforts to achieve the Victim Assistance & Advocacy goal. In this strategic summary, include significant updates and/or force-wide changes and/or initiatives begun or completed by your Military Service/NGB in FY 2021. As applicable, include significant updates on SARC and VA training; victim medical and mental health services; manpower and resource capabilities and/or shortfalls; certifications; regulation/policy publication; resources/products to support victims and responders; sexual assault victim and retaliation reporter care in garrison and deployed environments; response services for men who report sexual assault; collaboration with civilian victim response organizations; SAPR training for the force (e.g., junior officer (O1-O2), mid-level enlisted (E4-E6), and junior enlisted training on appropriate actions to report and respond to sexual assault), including efforts to implement the new DoDI 6495.02 Volume 2, SAPR: Education and Training; and Case Management Group (CMG) actions.

Advocacy enables the Army to provide care for Soldiers, Civilians, and Family members who are victims of sexual assault. Effective advocacy increases adaptability and resiliency that reduces attrition and improves a unit’s deployable status and readiness. Advocacy also fosters trust in the institution that if sexual assault, sexual harassment, or retaliation incidents do occur, the Army is postured to provide the best possible care and support to victims. The Army is committed to ensuring that every command has qualified and certified SHARP professionals who are capable of responding in a confidential, ethical, and compassionate way. Army SARCs and VAs are critical resources that enable coordination between commanders and other agencies to ensure the best possible response for victims. Efforts by the Army in specific areas of victim assistance and advocacy include:

SARC and VA Training

Full time Army SARCs and VAs attend the Army’s SARC/VA Career Course at the Army SHARP Academy at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. The SHARP SARC/VA Career Course is a 6-week course that provides instruction to prepare full-time military and Army Civilian SARCs and VAs for their roles and responsibilities at the brigade and higher echelon levels. This course satisfies the learning requirements set by the National Organization for Victim Assistance (NOVA) for earning certification and credentials.

The SHARP Foundation Course is an 80-hour certification that prepares collateral duty SARCs and VAs for their roles and responsibilities at the battalion level and below. This Foundation Course also meets the DoD Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program (D-SAACP) credentialing requirements.

The Army SHARP program also supports SHARP professionals through webinars and other forums that provide continuing education units (CEUs). SHARP personnel also have the opportunity to continue their education through annual training from NOVA.

Victim Medical and Mental Health Services

The Army provides 24/7 on-site emergency forensic healthcare, including sexual assault forensic examinations (SAFEs) at 26 Army MTFs. All other Army MTFs coordinate MOUs with local civilian resources to ensure appropriate emergency forensic healthcare is available to Soldiers and beneficiaries. Each MTF forensic healthcare team includes a sexual assault medical director (SAMD), sexual assault care provider (SACP), sexual assault care coordinator (SACC), and a sexual assault behavioral health (SABH). In addition, MTFs that provide 24/7 SAFEs have SAMFEs, who conduct medical forensic exams for sexual assault patients.

Patients who present to an MTF with an allegation of sexual assault receive a uniform standard of care, which is monitored and tracked until all healthcare related to the sexual assault is completed. The MTF notifies the SARC for all reports of sexual assault so that the SARC can assist the patient in selecting a reporting option. Each MTF screens sexual assault victims for traumatic stress upon initial contact and provide follow-up behavioral health care as needed. Appointed MTF social workers and psychologists provide trauma-focused crisis interventions, as well as clinical counseling to individuals who have experienced a sexual assault. Whether the patient presents at an Army MTF or at a civilian facility, the SACC monitors all follow-on care as needed.

Manpower and Resource Capabilities and/or Shortfalls

Readiness is essential to the Army and requires appropriate and necessary workforce. Ongoing initiatives with the PPOA, FHIRC report, and DoD IRC recommendations aim to ensure adequate resourcing of SHARP personnel across all formations. These initiatives restructure the Army SHARP program and more effectively manage all SHARP personnel, both military and civilian.

To ensure the Army has the most qualified SHARP professionals, the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Manpower and Reserve Affairs (ASA M&RA) issued a memorandum on January 4, 2021 implementing Tier 3 background check requirements. This change requires a secret clearance, or equivalent, restricting the qualifications of SHARP professionals who provide service to victims of sexual assault.

The Army SHARP Academy is the proponent for Army SHARP program force modernization. The SHARP Academy, a part of the U.S. Army Combined Army Center, is the Army's training and leader development proponent for SHARP and provides education and training to SHARP professionals.

During FY21, the Army developed a tool within the SHARP SMS module to be the authoritative data source to enhance SHARP workforce analysis. This performance management tool populates workforce information using existing resources, allowing Army viewing capabilities of Army Command (ACOM), Army Service Component Command (ASCC), and Direct Reporting Unit (DRU) hierarchies to ensure efficient personnel assignments and requirements.

Regulation and Policy Publication

In direct response to several FHIRC recommendations, the Army published Army Directive 2021-16 (Immediate Actions to Improve the Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention Program) in May 2021. This directive requires:

- Commanders to appoint an investigative officer outside of the subject's assigned brigade-sized element.

- The first colonel in the subject's chain of command to issue a military protective order (MPO) no later than six hours after determining it is warranted.
- Brigade (or equivalent) commanders to notify Soldier complainants within two business days of receiving the outcome of any judicial, non-judicial, or administrative proceedings.

The Army also published a memorandum, on September 17, 2021, outlining the procedures for implementing SHARP services for Department of the Army (DA) Civilians. This policy provides DA Civilians, who are sexual assault victims, with the option to file an unrestricted report and receive victim advocacy services through the SHARP program.

Resources to Support Victims and Responders

Victims have many resources, to include the DoD Safe Helpline, pamphlets, websites, and mobile applications which facilitate contacting a SHARP professional for support or information.

Based on feedback from junior enlisted Soldiers and junior officers during the People First Solarium in March 2021, Army senior leaders directed the development of a digital reporting capability. The PFTF is collaborating with the U.S. Army Futures Command (AFC) to develop requirements and functionality.

Actions reported by Army commands regarding resources to support victims and responders include:

- U.S. Army Forces Command (FORSCOM) established a mobile application allowing Soldiers to make a report and receive services without taking time away from the unit. This capability helps build trust and confidence in the program while protecting privacy.
- U.S. Army Materiel Command (AMC) initiated the campaign "This is My Organization" in support of military and civilian workforces.
- U.S. Army Special Operations Command (USASOC) offers additional resources to support victims and responders through access to military family life consultants, the employee assistance program, chaplains, and behavioral health professionals.
- U.S. Army Central (ARCENT) employs technology in reporting (e.g., WhatsApp), alternative training opportunities, and multiple SHARP field sites as ways to address the unique challenges of offering sexual assault care in a deployed location.
- U.S. Army South (ARSOUTH) implemented a two-day SHARP stand-down to focus on updating the command on new changes to include DA Civilian reporting options and first responder care.
 - The Military District of Washington (MDW) maintains a SHARP resource center for all victims to meet with responders and obtain referrals to on and off post organizations.
 - MEDCOM uses chaplains, SVCs, employee assistance program, substance use disorder clinical care, and family advocacy within each garrison to support victims and responders as needed.
- USMA implemented a "Return to Health Policy" to support cadets psychological and physical recovery following a sexual assault. This policy allows victims to request a cognitive profile (from an independently licensed medical or behavioral health provider) that identifies academic and physical accommodations to support their recovery.

Sexual Assault Victim and Retaliation Reporter Care

The Army trains SARC's how to accept and process reports of retaliation. The retaliation response process includes notifying and coordinating with the appropriate level of command and rendering comprehensive support services for retaliation reporters, both in garrison and deployed environments.

SARC's advise the retaliation reporter on the detailed investigative process, stakeholders involved, and the opportunity to use the inspector general office at any time. The SARC also advises the reporter of the availability of support services, consultation, referrals, and legal representation throughout the investigation, ensuring the retaliation reporter is aware of follow-up procedures.

Response Services for Men Who Report Sexual Assault

The recognition of men as victims of sexual assault is an important consideration and helps inform Army SHARP training and outreach efforts. Historically, more men experience sexual assault in the military than women, even though Army women report sexual assaults at a much higher rate. Male victims are more likely to be assaulted at their duty station, during work hours, and to have experienced sexual harassment prior to the assault. These facts are part of the message Army SHARP communicates through outreach efforts to emphasize a recognition of men as victims of sexual assault. In addition, the Army's commitment to personalized care and advocacy assures male victims of privacy and full advocacy support. The Army trains SHARP personnel to be sensitive to the unique concerns and needs of male victims. Army training also includes male-focused scenarios to support men who have experienced a sexual assault, whether prior to or during military service. Additionally, the new SHARP webpage contains victim assistance information specifically for male victims.

All patients who present to a MTF for sexual assault receive specialized trauma informed care. SAMFEs provide compassionate and sensitive medical forensic healthcare while supporting patients' choices concerning the exam. When available, patients may choose the gender of their medical provider and SARC. The SACC supports gender-specific requests when scheduling follow-up medical and behavioral health appointments.

Collaboration with Civilian Response Organizations

The Army SHARP program office coordinates with NOVA who certifies SHARP personnel under D-SAACP. This collaboration ensures all Army SARC's and VAs have appropriate background checks and training required to have the knowledge, skills, and abilities to work with victims of sexual assault.

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs assists in providing services for victims who are transitioning from the military, and offer services to victims who experienced sexual trauma, during their service in the military.

Army installations and organizations collaborate with civilian victim response organizations and use MOAs to ensure collaborative support, coordination, and services.

Many installations employ a sexual assault response team (SART), which is an organized group of military and civilian professionals who promote a community-wide approach to end sexual violence and help victims of sexual assault. SARTs operate using procedures outlined by the National Sexual Violence Resource Center (NSVRC).

All MTFs coordinate MOAs with local civilian services to provide 24/7 SAFE capabilities for patients who have experienced a sexual assault. MTFs with on-site SAFE capabilities maintain MOAs/MOUs with local civilian services to ensure that Soldiers and beneficiaries, who choose to go outside the military health system, receive all necessary care and referrals. MTFs without 24/7 SAFE capabilities maintain MOAs/MOUs that establish the local civilian facility as the primary provider for SAFE capabilities.

Actions cited by Army commands to collaborate with civilian organizations include:

- U.S. Army Pacific (USARPAC) SHARP program in Alaska collaborates with a local university through a forum that consists of community partners, students, staff, and faculty to discuss ways to raise awareness of sexual assault and dating violence.
- The U.S. Army North (ARNORTH) SHARP program manager is a member of the local San Antonio SART, which meets quarterly to organize service delivery and enhance service efficiency.
- U.S. Army Intelligence and Security Command (INSCOM) units in Europe coordinated with a local non-profit association against sexual violence.
- U.S. Army Space and Missile Defense Command (SMDC) coordinates training events with off post resources such as Crisis Services of North Alabama and other nonprofit organizations that assist victims of domestic violence and sexual assault.
- U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) has partnerships with Veterans Administration offices, and continues to build relationships with regional hospitals.
- U.S. Army Human Resources Command (HRC) SHARP personnel worked with the Kentucky office of the attorney general to develop a victim assistance academy that trains new victim advocates and other community partners from across the state.
- U.S. Army Test and Evaluation Command (ATEC) employs an interagency collaboration with the Aberdeen Proving Ground SHARP resource center, which offers comprehensive services to victims of sexual assault.

Training for Junior Officers (O1-O2) and Mid-level Enlisted (E4-E6) Leaders

The Army SHARP Academy continues to enhance SHARP learning content in junior officer (BOLC) and mid-level enlisted leader (BLC) training by incorporating the knowledge, skills, and abilities (KSAs) directed in the DoD Junior Leader Working Group (JLWG). In addition to these enhancements, the SHARP Academy completely revised the SHARP Annual Refresher Training (SHARP-ART) by replacing briefing slide training with small group discussions. The new SHARP-ART training support package (TSP) has a dedicated prevention module and twenty-six new training vignettes targeted toward Soldiers, Civilians and recruiters.

Case Management Group (CMG) actions

The Army's CMG forum is the sexual assault review board (SARB). The SARB, outlined in Army Regulation (AR) 600-20 (Army Command Policy), provides executive oversight, procedural guidance, and feedback concerning an installation's SHARP program. The SARB also reviews the installation's prevention program and the response to any unrestricted report of sexual assault involving cases on the installation, to include reviewing cases and procedures to improve processes, system accountability, and victim access to advocacy services. The SARB remains victim-centric to avoid potential interference with the administration of justice.

The Army requires the installation commander or the deputy installation commander to chair the multi-disciplinary SARB on a monthly basis to review unrestricted reports of sexual assault, facilitate monthly victim updates, and direct system coordination. The lead SARC serves as co-chair of the SARB. Commanders provide updates to victims within 72 hours after the SARB regarding status of investigations, medical, and legal actions.

The SARB co-chair guides the discussion of the status of victim services, existence of retaliation issues, and safety concerns. The SARB co-chair confirms all retaliation reports reviewed at the SARB, on DD Form 2910-2. SARB members adhere to procedures to discuss, track, and appropriately review retaliation and reprisal allegations at the SARB. Quarterly SARB discussions focus on trends, victim safety, expedited transfer timelines, and system coordination for victim response services. These quarterly discussions include the SARB chair, co-chair, SARCs, commanders, and staff judge advocate (SJA).

At monthly SARBs, commanders report their expedited transfer requests to the SARB chair, which includes the status of losing SARC and gaining SARC meetings. Monthly SARB meetings also discuss the number of days between an expedited transfer request and the actual transfer date. SHARP professionals trained commanders and all SARB members on the new policy allowing the expedited transfer of a Soldier whose adult military dependent makes an allegation of sexual assault that is not domestic abuse.

In FY21, the Army SHARP program office developed a SARB slide template to provide consistency and standardization across all Army installations. The template supports verbal updates required at the SARB. The Army SHARP program office uses organizational inspection program (OIP) checklists, found in AR 600-20, to validate that all commands and installations are compliant with SARBs and victim services. The Army uses this template to conduct SAVs and assist commands and installations with OIP preparations, program effectiveness, improvement, and to offer support and guidance to commanders.

2.2 SARCs and SAPR VA Suspension, Revocation, and Reinstatement: Without providing personally identifiable information, how many SARCs and SAPR VAs in your Military Service received a suspension? A revocation? A reinstatement? (Identify how many SARCs and SAPR VAs for each category). Are there any process improvements or changes that would make the Defense Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program more effective?

Approximately 1.5 percent of Army SARCs and 1.5 percent of Army VAs had their credentials suspended or revoked in FY21; compared to 1.0 percent of SARCs and 1.5 percent of VAs in FY20. Total suspensions, revocations, and reinstatements reported in the Army during FY21:

- 39 suspensions (SARCs = 13; VAs = 26)
- 29 revocations (SARCs = 7; VAs = 22)
- 8 reinstatements (SARCs = 3; VAs = 5)

Process improvements to make the Defense Sexual Assault Advocate Certification Program (D-SAACP) more effective

The Army SHARP program office has a designated representative working closely with D-SAACP to identify problems, address ongoing issues, and recognize challenges as they occur. One process improvement implemented in FY21 was allowing the Army SHARP program office (and other Services SAPR offices) to listen to the re-instatement process from the D-SAACP board panel. Involvement in this meeting helped the Services explain the process to their commands.

2.3 Sexual Assault Forensic Exam (SAFE) Kits: Was the medical care of any Service member hindered due to the lack of a SAFE kit, timely access to appropriate laboratory testing resources, or other resources? If yes, explain and also address how many times this occurred and what actions were taken to mitigate the issue? (Note: This answer should be consistent with the number reported in blocks A and C of the Victim Services matrices).

There were no reports of any Soldiers who had their medical care hindered due to the lack of a SAFE kit in FY21.

2.4 Military Protective Orders: How many Military Protective Orders (MPOs) were issued as a result of an Unrestricted Report (include the number of MPOs issued and the number violated)? Indicate if the victim(s) and the alleged offender(s) were provided with copies of the DD Form 2873, "Military Protective Order," as required.

According to data in DSAID, commanders issued 524 MPOs in FY21, compared to 379 in FY20. DSAID data also shows six MPOs violations by subjects and none by victims.

In coordination with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Army law enforcement enters MPO data into the National Crime Information Center (NCIC), a clearinghouse of crime data available to criminal justice agencies nationwide. All units issuing MPOs indicated commanders issued DD Forms 2873 as required by policy.

2.5 Future Plans: Describe your leadership-approved future plans (if any) to further improve the achievement of the Victim Assistance and Advocacy goal.

During FY22, the Army plans to move forward with actions to address DoD IRC recommendations related to victim advocacy, including:

- Eliminate collateral duty for SARCs and VAs, with exceptions for isolated installations.
- Implement a "No Wrong Door" approach to sexual harassment, sexual assault, and domestic abuse.
- Allow survivors flexibility to take non-chargeable time off for seeking services or time for recovery from sexual assault.
- Increase victim control of the response process by maximizing survivor preference on reporting status and expedited transfers.

During FY22, the Army also plans to launch a one-year pilot program designed to better care for and protect sexual assault victims. The pilot features the installation fusion directorates at six (6) locations and coordinates the response services needed to support victims under a newly established fusion director. Specifically:

- The fusion directorate consists of three branches (response, training, and program management) and specialized elements from legal, medical, criminal investigation, and others as needed.
- The fusion director oversees case management to ensure timely, comprehensive, and compassionate response to victims. The director serves as special staff and reports directly to the senior commander.
- The Army plans to open pilot sites in FY22 at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Schofield Barracks, Fort Bragg, Fort Irwin, Fort Riley, and Fort Sill.
- The U.S. Army Reserve Command (USARC) also plans to conduct a virtual fusion directorate pilot with the 99th Readiness Division.
- The Army National Guard (ARNG) plans to develop unique, state-based products complementing the fusion directorate concept.

Finally, the Army plans to publish a sexual harassment/sexual assault regulation and DA pamphlet specifically for the SHARP program. The new regulation and pamphlet extracts sexual harassment and sexual assault policy from AR 600-20 (Army Command Policy) and provides more flexibility to implement immediate updates, address changes in a more expedient manner, and improve the overall effectiveness of the SHARP program.

3. Goal 3—Investigation: “sustain a high level of competence in the investigation of adult sexual assault using investigative resources to yield timely results.”

3.1 Strategic Summary: Summarize your efforts for achieving the Investigation goal. In this strategic summary, include significant updates and/or force-wide changes and/or initiatives begun or completed by your Military Service in FY 2021. As applicable, include significant updates made to your Military Services Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution Capability for Military Criminal Investigative Organizations (e.g., investigator and prosecutor coordination); investigative resources (e.g., crime scene processing and anonymous hotline capabilities) and manpower capabilities; training for military criminal investigators, law enforcement personnel, and/or first responders (e.g., interview techniques and the CATCH a Serial Offender (CATCH) Program); policy and regulation updates; case quality reviews; sexual assault-related retaliation investigations; and information sharing within DoD and other organizations (e.g., federal and/or local civilian law enforcement).

The Army is committed to achieving high competence in every sexual assault investigation. In FY21, CID issued operational/policy changes and updates to field investigative units, highlighting important investigative issues requiring increased attention in order to ensure a more thorough and complete investigative outcome. The operational memorandums also identified how to approach crime scenes, evidence, interviews, and processing equipment in a COVID-19 environment.

CID agents coordinate early in the investigative phase with the trial counsel or prosecutor to ensure initial and ongoing collaboration throughout the investigative process. CID policy directs supervisors to conduct a case review every ten working days on open investigations to ensure timely, thorough, and quality investigations. Additionally, all sexual assault investigations are subject to further mandatory supervisory reviews during field office visits by senior management and quality assistance visits by senior special agents. Certain identified completed sexual assault investigations receive a secondary review for thoroughness and quality assurance at a headquarters one level above the field office that approved the final report.

CID’s inspector general (IG) makes the timely and thorough investigation of sexual assaults a matter of special interest during inspections and case reviews at field investigative units. Supervisors at all levels of command review all sexual assault investigations to ensure they are accurate and thorough. CID incorporates all deficiencies, shortcomings, or better business practices identified by any of the inspections into the annual refresher training of investigators to improve the conduct of investigations and reinforce the importance of sexual assault investigations.

The U.S. Army Military Police School (USAMPS) Special Victim Capability Course (SVCC) training, attended by investigators and prosecutors from all military services, emphasizes the need for early and frequent coordination between investigators and prosecutors to ensure all physical and testimonial evidence collected meets the elements of proof for a crime. USAMPS refined the content of the SVCC to introduce trauma informed interview techniques along with other enhancements to address the full spectrum of sexual assaults that affect Soldiers, Family Members and Army Civilians.

CID is in the midst of a comprehensive transformation (outlined in Section 3.3) that will be a dramatic change from its past practices and processes. The goal of this transformation is to improve the timeliness and quality of sexual assault investigations. CID is also involved in the Army's PFTF and its initiatives to improve services to victims of sexual assault and increase the evidence available for commanders to take appropriate action against offenders.

The CID continues to support its investigators with cutting-edge investigative tools and resources. These new resources include state-of-the-art alternate light source equipment to enhance the ability to detect the presence of forensic evidence at crime scenes. CID agents also use advanced automated crime scene processing software to improve the description and sketching of crime scenes. Automated collection and accountability of physical evidence, along with new cyber tools to conduct field processing of digital evidence (including cell phones), aid in identifying investigative leads. Finally, CID has state-of-the-art video equipment record the interviews of sexual assaults victims and suspects.

CID remains engaged with local law enforcement counterparts to report the progress of any civilian investigation to the appropriate commander. This enables continued visibility and awareness in the event that civilian authorities defer prosecution to the military or civilian prosecutors decline the case. This also allows CID to pursue any remaining investigative leads quickly.

CID utilizes the law enforcement information exchange (LInX)/DoD data exchange (D-DEX) program, which is a federal cooperative data sharing system. The system collaborates with the FBI's national data exchange and other databases. Updated daily, all system users must be sworn law enforcement agents whose respective agencies contribute data to the system. Utilizing LInX/D-DEX, CID has had success in locating investigations involving Army members previously not reported to the Army.

At the initiation of each criminal investigation, CID queries the NCIC database, along with other databases, to obtain background information on the subject of the investigation. MPOs and civilian protective orders (CPOs) are included in these queries. CID reports any violations of protective orders found during an investigation to the local law enforcement agency, if appropriate, and to the command for action.

CID employs a mobile and web-based anonymous tip hotline application, available to download onto any smart device, or accessed on the internet. The tip hotline enhances the reporting of law enforcement information and supports ongoing investigations by providing an additional mechanism for CID to enlist the assistance of the public. The tip hotline allows a member of the public to submit a tip and anonymously "chat" with an agent in real time.

In keeping with the Army's commitment to ensure the thoroughness of sexual assault investigations, the Secretary of the Army signed Army Directive 2021-34 in September, 2021. This directive creates a civilian director for CID and transfers authorities and responsibilities for CID from the Commanding General to the Civilian Director. The Director, USACID reports to the Under Secretary of the Army and exercises all direction and control over USACID, to include prescribing USACID missions, functions, and responsibilities to the extent permitted by law.

3.2 Evidence Processing Challenges: Describe any evidence processing challenges at the Defense Forensic Science Center (e.g., shipping delays and turnaround time for processing of SAFE kits and other evidence) and actions taken to address or mitigate these challenges.

The average turnaround time for forensic examination of sexual assault evidence at the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Laboratory (USACIL) was 85 days, up from 73 days in FY20. COVID restrictions and quarantines were the causes for the increased turnaround time. In most instances, when laboratory examiners were required to testify in court martial hearings they had to report the site up to two-weeks early for the quarantine period, and then upon their return to USACIL, they were required to be in quarantine for another two-weeks before they could return to work. That resulted in many examiners being unable to conduct examinations for months.

The easing of COVID restrictions at the end of FY21 enabled USACIL to start processing sexual assault evidence in a more timely manner. An assessment of that experience, and of the existing personnel shortfalls at USACIL, resulted in the Army authorizing an additional 14 laboratory examiners for FY22. The resumption of almost normal processes and practices not impacted by COVID, and the addition of 14 more laboratory examiners should result in a dramatic decrease in the turnaround time.

3.3 Future Plans: Describe your leadership-approved future plans (if any) to further improve the achievement of the Investigation goal.

The lack of experienced investigators, as noted in the FHIRC report, was not a unique circumstance confined to only Fort Hood. It has been a long-standing issue noted across almost all CID offices worldwide. As a result, the Army authorized a transformation program that will result in a 60/40 split of civilian CID agents to military CID agents by 2027. Between FY22 and FY27, the transformation will add more than 500 new civilian positions (investigators, intelligence analysts, evidence custodians, forensic scientists), while downsizing the number of military investigators.

Concurrently, CID plans to “flatten” its existing structure and streamline approval and oversight processes in order to facilitate more timely and thorough investigations. Additionally, CID plans to institute an increased compliance and metrics-based evaluation system, similar to the New York Police Department’s competencies-based, self-assessment toolkit. This toolkit highlights trends and threats, assesses capability posture, quickly allocates resources as needed, and promotes accountability, in order to improve the quality and timeliness of investigations and crime prevention in support of the Army.

4. Goal 4—Accountability: “maintain a high competence in holding alleged offenders appropriately accountable.”

4.1 Strategic Summary: Summarize your efforts to achieve the Accountability goal. In this strategic summary, include significant updates and/or force-wide changes begun or completed by your Military Service in FY 2021. As applicable, include significant updates on any new legal support resources, manpower capabilities, and/or redesign of services provided to victims/clients; training and certification (as required) of personnel affiliated with the Special Victim Investigation and Prosecution Capability program (paralegals, trial counsel, and victim-witness assistance personnel) for responding to allegations of sexual assault; and policy and regulation updates.

FY21 was a year of candid, transparent self-assessment, and continued transformation of the military justice response to sexual assault. Independent comprehensive investigations by the Army FHIRC and the DoD IRC revealed troubling gaps in trust of junior enlisted Soldiers, systemic inefficiencies, and cultural failures that have impeded progress in addressing sexual assault and harassment. Addressing those findings, along with the continued implementation and assessment of military justice redesign, were the focus for the Army Judge Advocate General’s Corps (JAGC) this year.

The FHIRC report revealed a loss of trust by junior enlisted Soldiers in their leadership, particularly at the squad level, to address sexual assault reports. Specifically, in terms of accountability, the FHIRC found that the mechanics of the Army’s adjudication process involving sexual assault and harassment degraded confidence in the SHARP program. As a result, the Army leadership formed the PFTF to implement the FHIRC recommendations. Working with the PFTF, the JAGC implemented recommendations regarding increased transparency of disciplinary actions, staffing assessments for the SVC and SVP programs, and development of a fusion cell plan.

The DoD IRC report recommended removing commanders from the disposition of special victims’ cases. Following the report, the Secretary of Defense directed that the DoD to work with Congress to amend the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) by removing the prosecution decision of special victim offenses from the military chain of command in favor of dedicated offices within each military department staffed by judge advocates with specialized training and experience.

After the close of FY21, Congress passed and the President signed the FY22 NDAA, which codified the changes to disposition authorities under the UCMJ. The FY22 NDAA requires the Department and Services to replace commanders as the disposition authority for specified covered offenses, including sexual assault and domestic violence, with an independent Judge Advocate, The Special Trial Counsel. The cooperative and comprehensive work to create the Office of the Special Trial Counsel, led by a general officer and reporting directly to the Secretary of the Army, is well underway. As Congress has been briefed, the Army will establish an independent supervisory chain for all Judge Advocates assigned as Special Trial Counsel, with regional and HQDA supervision, a substantial restructuring of the JAGC. The immense task of amending the Rules for Courts-Martial, is also underway by the Joint Service Committee on Military Justice. The Army’s timeline anticipates establishment of the Office of The Special Trial Counsel in July 2022, initial operating capacity by July 2023 and full operating capacity by the statutory deadline of December 2023.

Prior to passage of the NDAA and either of these publicly released independent reviews, the Army JAGC implemented a systemic restructure of military justice personnel, called the military justice redesign (MJR). This restructure positioned the JAGC for success in the seismic shift from command disposition authority to judge advocate and the establishment of special victim prosecution offices. MJR ensures that a specialized cadre of judge advocates, led by the existing SVP teams, are prosecuting only special victim crimes, while other judge advocates are gaining critical litigation experience in general crimes and military justice advisor billets.

Currently, the Trial Defense Service (TDS) is implementing a parallel restructure (TDS 2.0) which divides defense counsel responsibilities to litigation defense counsel and administrative defense counsel. TDS also developed additional reach-back assistance from a complex litigation section and launched the defense investigator program, consisting of twelve investigators assigned to eight TDS regions. Data-driven assessments by outside analysts and feedback from practitioners continue to refine and improve the efficient and effective delivery of legal services to commands and to accused Soldiers.

4.2 Effectiveness of the Special Victims' Counsel (SVC)/Victims' Legal Counsel (VLC) Program: Describe any enhancements your Military Service/NGB has made to the SVC/VLC program; how your Military Service/NGB provides support to victims/clients in remote/deployed locations; training/certification updates (if any); and the progress toward ensuring SVC/VLC case load does not exceed, to the extent practicable, 25 cases at any time.

Under The Judge Advocate General's (TJAG) Domestic Violence Victim Representation Program (DVVRP), Army SVCs began representing eligible victims of domestic violence offenses on December 1, 2020, in coordination with legal assistance attorneys (LAA). Eligible victims of domestic violence are entitled to assistance from LAAs. The DVVRP enumerates four triggering events, identified by the LAA, allowing for SVC representation. The LAA consults with their installation's chief of legal assistance and coordinates for SVC representation. SVCs enter into dual representation with the LAA to meet the victim's needs and give the victim a voice in the military investigation and prosecution.

In accordance with Section 550C of the FY20 National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA), SVCs receive state criminal law training on victim rights, prosecution of criminal offenses, sentencing for conviction of criminal offenses, and protective orders. This training allows SVC to advise clients electing jurisdictional preference between the Army and civilian prosecutions. SVCs receive this training from their installation's SJA prior to assuming their position. Training is coordinated with local prosecutors' offices, law enforcement, and U.S. Army Reserve (USAR) judge advocates.

Section 541 of the FY20 NDAA directed the military services to ensure each SVC's average caseload does not exceed 25 cases at any given time by December 2023. To that end, the Army SVC program added 30 judge advocate positions and 12 paralegal positions in FY21 to meet the increasing demand for SVC services while simultaneously working towards the 25 case average per SVC. The SVC program studied the crime statistics and trends in requests for SVC services to determine which installations would receive the additional personnel. At the end of the third quarter in FY21, the Army had 76 active duty judge advocates were serving as SVCs, either full-time or as an additional duty, representing 2,274 clients.

Also in FY21, the military services executed MOUs on inter-service SVC availability, coordination, and support to provide clarity on the procedures to respond to victims seeking SVC support at remote locations during the initial stage of the process. Under the MOU, cross-service SVCs may provide initial support during the critical period following victim reporting. As soon as practicable thereafter, the cross-service SVC will coordinate a warm hand-off of the victim to their service's SVC.

During FY21, Army SVCs attended certification courses at The Judge Advocate General's Legal Center and School (TJAGLCS) as well as the Air Force Judge Advocate General's School. The Air Force and Army collaborated and sent attendees to each service's certification course to ensure consistency in training and course content. The certification courses were two weeks long, with training topics ranging from victim trauma/psychology to courtroom advocacy. Because of the training, TJAG certified 111 judge advocates to represent eligible victims of sex-related offenses. Additionally, every judge advocate serving as an active duty SVC attended regional training during January and February 2021. The rigorous two-day course addressed current topics that most benefited that SVC's growth and progress.

4.3 CATCH Program: Provide an update on your Military Service's implementation of the CATCH Program. How are you mitigating any challenges, if any, faced by victims and/or SARCs? Also, describe how Service members are made aware of the CATCH program.

Two agents and three analysts at CID headquarters have access to the catch a serial offender (CATCH) program database. Every week, the agents and analysts review new entries to determine if the names of alleged offenders (and/or the modus operandi of alleged offenders) matches any information in sexual assault case investigations or previous entries in the CATCH database. CID notifies the Army SHARP program office of any suspected matches so that the appropriate SARC can approach victim who made a restricted report to determine if they wish to change their report to unrestricted and participate in a criminal investigation.

The Army SHARP program office provides a monthly CATCH program update for ACOM, ASCC, and DRU SHARP program managers. These updates include current CATCH data from the DoD SAPRO, along with a reminder to have SARCs log into CATCH every 25 days to keep their account active.

It is a challenge for some SARCs to log into CATCH at least once every 30 days to keep their accounts active. The Army SHARP program office reviews CATCH accounts on a weekly basis and reactivates accounts inactivated because SARCs have not logged in within the past 30 days. It is also a challenge for some victims to enter information before their passwords expire. When this happens, SARCs generate a new password and inform the victim.

Challenges victims may face, if there is a match in the CATCH system, is making the decision to convert from a restricted report to an unrestricted report. To mitigate this challenge, SARCs, VAs, SVCs, CID, local law enforcement, and commanders provide reassurance and offer a military or civilian protective order, as appropriate.

Other Army actions regarding the CATCH program include:

- The Army highlights the availability of the CATCH program through annual SHARP training, routine messaging on social media, in newsletters, and during outreach webinars.
- Many installations use a victim's intake checklist, which includes a CATCH program fact sheet, outlining a thorough overview of the CATCH program process.
- Army SHARP professionals completed the required CATCH training.
- The Army also provides CATCH training during the SHARP Foundation Course, SARC/VA Career Course, and SHARP Program Manager's Course.
- All active duty SVPs, SVP NCOs (SVPNs), special victim witness liaison, (SVWLs), and SVCs completed the online DoD CATCH training.

4.4 UCMJ Article 93a (Prohibited Activities with Military Recruit or Trainee by Person in Position of Special Trust) Investigations and Convictions: Provide the number of personnel investigated for and convicted of UCMJ Art. 93a, specifically those who engaged in prohibited sexual activity with such specially protected junior members of the armed forces.

In FY21, the Army both investigated and convicted six Soldiers for a violation of Article 93a, UCMJ at a general or special court-martial.

4.5 Future Plans: Describe your leadership-approved future plans (if any) to further improve the achievement of the Accountability goal.

Current policy changes from the DoD and legislative changes from Congress will remove command disposition authority for special victim offenses. Under the new legislation, offices of Special Trial Counsel will handle the prosecution of these special crimes. In anticipation of this sea change, the JAGC formed an operational planning team to study, plan, and implement changes to law and policy. The Army JAGC hired two civilian advisors to TJAG to oversee the transition, advise Army senior leaders of relevant courses of action, and assist the Joint Service Committee in drafting changes to the Rules for Court-Martial.

Anticipating the need for additional expertise in prosecuting special victim offenses, the Trial Counsel Assistance Program (TCAP) will add additional regional SVPs, including one judge advocate assigned to the Reserve Component for the first time, and both TCAP and TJAGLCS will add specialized training courses to ensure that junior judge advocates are prepared to take on new roles and responsibilities.

Finally, as part of reforming the SHARP program, JAGC's support for the sexual assault/sexual harassment (SA/SH) fusion directorate pilot includes independent SVP teams and SVC, who will work alongside SARCs and VAs, specialized training personnel, medical response personnel, and investigative liaisons.

5. Goal 5—Assessment: “effectively measure, analyze, assess, and report SAPR Program progress to improve effectiveness.”

5.1 Strategic Summary: Summarize your efforts for achieving the Assessment goal. In this strategic summary, include significant updates and/or force-wide changes begun or completed by your Military Service in FY 2021. As applicable, include significant updates on initiatives to ensure the quality, reliability, validity, and secure retention of sexual assault and retaliation data collected in the Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID) and SARC and SAPR VA DSAID training.

The Army employs an organizational inspection program (OIP) that uses metrics and checklists outlined in DoD SAPR and Army policies. These metrics include assignment and availability of trained and certified SARCs and VAs, the conduct of monthly SARBs, and the timely and complete entry of sexual assault cases into the Defense Sexual Assault Incident Database (DSAID). Each inspection includes a formal in-brief and out-brief to the senior commander and concludes with a report of best practices, findings, observations, and recommendations to address challenges. Due to COVID travel restrictions and requirements to address the Secretary of Defense’s immediate actions, cited in section 1.2 of this report, the Army did not conduct OIP inspections in FY21.

A key element of the Army SHARP OIP is the SAV program. In coordination with each ACOM, ASCC and DRU, the Army SHARP program office identifies specific areas of interest for each SAV. As SAVs are not inspections, they provide guidance and support for installation and unit SHARP programs requiring assistance. During FY21, the Army conducted five (5) SAVs in addition to supporting the assessments required by the Secretary of Defense’s immediate actions.

The Army published an all Army activities (ALARACT) message 010/2021 on February 11, 2021. The message, titled “Assessment of Unit Climate on Sexual Harassment and Sexual Assault,” provided detailed instructions to leaders to assess their command climate with particular emphasis on sexual harassment and assault. The Deputy Chief of Staff (DCS), G-1, also sent a memorandum reinforcing the importance of the requirement for leaders to take immediate action to address the Army challenges regarding sexual harassment, sexual assault, and other “corrosive” behaviors.

The Army also published Army Directive 2021-16, “Immediate Actions to Improve the Sexual Harassment/Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP) Program” on May 5, 2021. This directive imposed immediate modifications to the SHARP program and required commands to assess their organizations, identify behavior associated with the climate, and assign an investigating officer from outside the subject’s assigned brigade-sized element to investigate any sexual harassment complaint.

The Chief of Staff of the Army, in coordination with the Center for the Army Profession and Leadership and the Army SHARP program office, conducted the annual Army Professional Forum (APF) in FY21. This 2-day event examined strategic leaders’ roles and responsibilities in shaping the Army’s culture, organizational climates, and individual leader/Soldier development as trusted Army professionals.

The Army’s SHARP program office also hosted the annual Program Improvement Forum (PIF) in FY21. The theme for the PIF was “Putting Prevention into Practice,” and featured presentations from the Secretary of the Army, the Chief of Staff, the Vice Chief of Staff, and the Sergeant Major of the Army. Additionally, members of the DoD IRC and the Army PFTF provided insights and updates on their efforts. The PIF allowed leaders and SHARP professionals to engage in training workshops, open conversations, and feedback forums with senior leaders.

The PFTF established a cohesion assessment team (CAT) pilot program in FY21, designed to assess organizational climate, cohesion, and effectiveness of command programs aimed at countering harmful behaviors, including sexual harassment and sexual assault. The CAT program selected units for assessment based on recorded trends of harmful behaviors in many risk categories, including sexual harassment and sexual assault. The CAT informed battalion and brigade commanders of potential blind spots and provided real-time actionable feedback, best practices, and tools to assist with action plans going forward. The team also informed Army senior leaders on trends pertaining to Army culture, climate, and leadership. The CAT conducted four brigade-size assessments in FY21 with six additional planned for FY22.

The Army continues to have a variety of measures in place to assess and address the quality, validity, and reliability of Army data reported in DSAID. The Army SHARP program office prepares monthly reports for each Army command and installation lead SARC. These reports provide information on all cases in DSAID that involve the command's personnel. The reports also identify data quality issues (i.e., data entry errors or missing data), potential duplicate cases, cases CID is investigating that are not in DSAID, interface errors between DSAID and the Army Law Enforcement Reporting and Tracking System (ALERTS), and a list of all cases entered at an installation. The Army SHARP program office works closely with SARCs at each Army installation to resolve any data quality issues.

During FY21, the Army SHARP program office expanded its use of SMS, the Army's enterprise program for performance management managed by the Army Office of Business Transformation. The Army SHARP program office fielded the SHARP-SMS module with specific sexual assault and sexual harassment dashboards and related data displays for use by commanders and SHARP professionals. These dashboards provide situational awareness to leadership regarding SHARP programs, personnel, and incidents. The Army can also assess training and credentialing of SHARP professionals using a SMS personnel dataset to collect SHARP personnel data, D-SAACP certification information, SHARP Academy training, and authorized versus assigned personnel by command. Leveraging suicide data within SMS, the SHARP program helps the Army identify how many sexual assault and suicide events occurred involving active military who arrived to a unit within a 180-day timeframe. SMS is also able to collect survey responses, analyze data, and aggregate results by command or location. SMS also supported the Army's response to the Secretary of Defense immediate action requirements.

The Army Resilience Directorate (ARD) assessed the SHARP program's ability to provide relevant information during evaluation efforts. Findings of this effort concluded:

- Relevant data supporting the key process of prevention remains a challenge. However, evaluation efforts directed at the key process of response and professional training can occur.

- Greater clarity on the specific goals and objectives (response, prevention and professional training) would facilitate the assimilation of relevant information to illustrate progress throughout the Army.

- The lack of a dedicated regulation and associated internal controls detracts from providing reasonable assurance that this program operates as intended.

- Categorizing performance measurement indicators into categories of compliance, operations, and reporting will foster a greater understanding of the data's purpose.

Other oversight and assessment actions conducted by the Army SHARP program office include:

- Hosting monthly program manager teleconferences where ACOM, ASCC, and DRU program managers provide updates regarding their commands' SHARP program.

- Conducting daily verification checks of the DoD Safe Helpline to ensure that contact information is accurate for responders at Army installations.

- Collaborating with operations research and systems analysis personnel to conduct data and trend analysis assessments for Army leadership.

- Providing measures of effectiveness data to help commands evaluate and modify their mitigation action plans to reduce incidents of sexual assault and sexual harassment.

Efforts reported by Army commands include:

- FORSCOM continued to invest in SHARP-SMS to improve analysis of data to help commanders better assess their units. This tool has proven to be invaluable in commanders' efforts to identify emerging issues and develop strategies to address them.

- The U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command (TRADOC) established a People First Assessment Team (PFAT) to conduct internal reviews of unit policies and procedures with a focus on harmful behaviors such as sexual harassment and sexual assault. The PFAT visited 11 TRADOC installations/subordinate commands and conducted hundreds of sensing sessions and focus groups with leaders and SHARP professionals.

- Each AMC command created an OIP schedule to assess compliance with policies and training standards for the prevention, reporting, and response to sexual assault, sexual harassment, and retaliatory behaviors. As an AMC SHARP program "best practice," annual inspections ensured there were no offensive materials within the workplace that affected promoting a climate of dignity and respect.

- USARPAC collaborated with the Army PFTF to help pilot the CAT program. Through individual surveys, focus group discussions, leader and Soldier interviews, and small group observations, the CAT team provided leaders with recommendations to improve trust and cohesion.

- U.S. Army Europe and Africa (USAREUR-AF) continues to conduct command staff inspections to assess and ensure SHARP programs are operating effectively.

- ARCENT instituted metrics and staff assistance checklists to measure performance and effectiveness. Additionally, ARCENT used the WGRA and command climate surveys.

- ARNORTH commanders brief the senior commander quarterly on their SHARP program to include training statistics, DSAID errors, trends and analysis, prevention efforts and best practices. ARNORTH conducts a SHARP OIP, including SAVs.
- INSCOM established a People First Protection Council to enhance SHARP readiness by reviewing program updates, data, and metrics.
- MEDCOM conducts on-going analysis and assessments of the SHARP and forensic healthcare programs through the use of its OIP, IG inspections, commander surveys, table top exercises, DSAID command reports, in-person observations, and unit self-assessments. Due to COVID-19 travel restrictions, the MEDCOM SHARP office conducted several virtual inspections.
- USACE trained SARCs on the new DSAID SAPR-related inquiry (SRI) module. SARCs notify the USACE SHARP program manager whenever they enter a SRI case into DSAID.
 - The ATEC SHARP office conducts focus groups during command OIPs and SAVs.
 - HRC uses command climate surveys, unit risk assessments, and community assessments to help evaluate the effectiveness of the SHARP program.

5.2 Future Plans: Describe your leadership-approved future plans (if any) to further improve the achievement of the Assessment goal.

The Army SHARP program office plans to conduct SAVs during each quarter of FY22, to include initial assessments and follow on assessments from FY21 to ensure compliance and that any noted deficiencies were corrected. The FY22 OIP/SAV engagements will also address challenges faced by high-risk installations identified in the RAND report, “Organizational Characteristics Associated with Risk of Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment in the U.S. Army.”

Assessments of the fusion directorate pilot begin in FY22 and continue throughout the duration of the pilot (April 2023). The assessments include:

- A detailed study plan with reporting templates and checklists.
- Initial site visits to each of the six (6) pilot locations to establish a baseline and ensure supporting elements (command teams, SHARP professionals, and medical, legal, investigative) understand the concept and expectations.
- Monthly reporting and community of practice meetings and quarterly touchpoints (physical or virtual) with each pilot location.
- Findings captured in quarterly best practice white papers distributed to SHARP program offices Army-wide and used to inform periodic updates to Army senior leaders.

The Department of the Army Inspector General (DAIG) has two significant activities planned for FY22 to assess the SHARP program:

- Review training and execution aspects of the SHARP program during “New Soldier Experience” inspections.

• Conduct a follow-up assessment of the FY18 special inspection of the SHARP program to determine the extent to which stakeholders revised Army policies and processes based on the findings and recommendations of the inspection report.

Other evaluation and assessment plans for FY22 include:

- Implementing IRC outcome metrics.
- Implementing a prevention activity monitoring tool to assess prevention practices and policy.
- Implementing the prevention collaboration system to analyze collaborative working group efforts, build stronger partnerships, and share perspectives.
- Continuing the CAT pilot program with six brigade-sized assessments and determine ways to institutionalize the assessment team under the correct headquarters with the appropriate composition.

6. Core Functions (Communication and Policy): Provide a brief summary for new efforts taken in FY 2021 on the following:

6.1 Monthly Case Management Group (CMG) Procedures: How is your Military Service ensuring the CMG Chair is notifying the victim's commanding officer when apprised that the alleged suspect is the rater/senior rater of the victim of the sexual assault and/or retaliation reporter and the commanding officer is taking appropriate action in accordance with Military Service instructions and procedures?

As previously noted, the Army conducts CMG activities using the SARB. In FY21, the Army SHARP program office created a SARB briefing template that identifies the subject's name, rank, relationship to the victim, and contains a brief synopsis of immediate actions to safeguard the health, welfare, and safety of the victim. The SARB chair follows up with the victim's and subject's commanders regarding immediate actions and to ensure the subject and victim are physically separated.

The senior commander at each Army installation also enforces procedures requiring immediate notification in the event senior personnel are the alleged subject of a sexual assault. Commander's critical information requirements (CCIR) and serious incident reports (SIR) establish guidance for reporting certain sexual assaults to HQDA through the Army Operations Center to Army senior leaders. These reports require a "wake up notification" and alert senior commanders to take prompt action for sexual assaults involving senior leaders or raters. Army SHARP program office SAVs and unit OIPs also have detailed checklists that include alerting the SARB chair of cases involving senior leaders, raters, and/or senior raters.

Related actions cited by Army commands include:

- Retaliation is an agenda item at each monthly SARB at every TRADOC installation. The SARB chairperson also queries subordinate commanders' lead and brigade SARCs to determine if any reports of retaliation or reprisal occurred.
- ARNORTH requires the first lieutenant colonel (LTC) in the chain of command to report any retaliation or reprisal, with an action plan, to the SARB chair within 24 hours.
- USAREUR-AF uses CCIRs and SIRs, and complies with monthly SARB case notification requirements.
- U.S. Army Cyber Command (ARCYBER) reports allegations of retaliation at the SARB and to the inspector general.
- The MDW commanding general requires all colonel commanders to attend the SARB if they have a sexual assault or retaliation case.

6.2.1 Monthly Case Management Group Procedures in Expedited Transfers: How is your Military Service ensuring that the CMG Chair is confirming that commanding officers are notifying the SARC of every Expedited Transfer request for Service members, or for their adult military dependents?

The Army has protocols in place to ensure the SARB (CMG) chair confirms that commanders inform SARCs of every expedited transfer request from Soldiers or eligible adult Family members. These protocols include:

- Using a SARB briefing template as a control measure for the SARB chair to monitor several processes including expedited transfer processing procedures, timelines, coordination of intake meetings, and any anticipated delays.
- SARCs initiating the expedited transfer process with the Soldier and assisting with completing and processing the DA Form 4187 (Personnel Action).
- Complying with ALARACT 095/2020 (Additional SHARP Program Guidance: Expedited Transfers, 24-Month Stabilization, and Incentives) which requires brigade commanders to ensure the victim schedules a final meeting with the losing SARC.

6.2.2 Monthly Case Management Group Procedures in Expedited Transfers: How is your Military Service/NGB ensuring the CMG Chair is tracking Expedited Transfers taking longer than 30 days and assessing the victim’s safety for transfers taking longer than 30 days?

As noted in Section 6.2.1, the Army SHARP program office created a SARB briefing template to assist the SARB chair, commanders, and SARCs with specific guidance for talking points during the SARB. The SARB template includes specific expedited transfer information, including:

- The number of days between the approval date and date of a victim's request.
- Date the victim physically departs the losing station for a permanent change of station (PCS), or the date the victim changes duty assignment for a local transfer. Expedited transfers taking longer than 30 days must have documented reasons for the delay in the SARB minutes, and reported immediately for review by the SARB chair.
- The SARB chair may initiate a high-risk response team (HRRT) when circumstances indicate risk of harm to the victim.

• Follow-on with the gaining command and any safety concerns.

Additional actions cited by Army commands include:

- FORSCOM requires brigade commanders to brief the senior commander on any delays in expedited transfers.
- TRADOC units, with assistance from their SARC, provide updates to the senior commander and SHARP program manager throughout the expedited transfer process.
- ARNORTH uses the SARB tracker to monitor all expedited transfers for the number of days until the actual PCS occurs.
- MEDCOM commanders must provide valid reasons for delays and provide a memorandum that becomes part of the expedited transfer tracker.

6.3.1 Quarterly SAPR Case Management Group Meetings: How is your Military Service ensuring the CMG Chair is conducting quarterly discussions at the CMG meeting on system coordination challenges, timely victim access to resources, High-Risk Response Team responses, retaliation allegations, timeliness of Expedited Transfers, sharing resources in joint environments, tenant commander concerns, and reporting and service access trends for the installation?

The senior commander (SARB chair) conducts quarterly discussions at the SARB with key stakeholders, including equal opportunity (EO), equal employment opportunity (EEO), substance abuse, suicide prevention, medical, behavioral health, legal, military police, CID, IG, SVC, and chaplain personnel. These quarterly SARBs allow commanders to have open dialogs to strengthen their team with education and awareness on specific topics and incorporate prevention strategies. SMEs often conduct training on various topics within their field of expertise and share areas of concerns for the attendees.

These quarterly sessions review challenges, timely responses, retaliation prevention and response processes, expedited transfer procedures, available resources, and victim safety requirements. Many installations use these sessions to provide training on topics such as victim response, coordination of HRRTs, reporting options, and survivor speaking engagements.

Army commands reported compliance with this requirement, including:

- TRADOC installation SARB chairpersons conduct discussions on system coordination challenges, timely victim access to resources, high-risk response team responses, retaliation allegations, timeliness of expedited transfers, tenant commander concerns, and service access trends for the installation.
- AMC SARB co-chairs guide discussion of the status of victim services, expedited transfers, retaliation issues, and safety concerns for each sexual assault case.
- AFC disseminates a pre-approved template used to identify all required and identified systems to summarize mandatory requirements for victim assistance, command support, and SHARP program knowledge.
- USARPAC commanders provide quarterly updates to the commanding general on sexual assault cases in their area of responsibility.
- USAREUR-AF conducts discussions about sharing resources in joint and forward deployed environments.
- The ARNORTH commanding general chairs the quarterly update. ARNORTH includes meeting details in the SARB action plan and SARB charter. The SARB chair signs all quarterly SARB minutes.
- ARSOUTH covers victim resources, HRRT responses, retaliation, expedited transfers, and issues that need senior commander assistance during the quarterly SARB.
- All MEDCOM commanders attend the SARB hosted by the local senior commander. All command teams, SARCs, and medical first responders attend and participate as required.

6.3.2 Quarterly SAPR Case Management Group Meetings: How does your Military Service/NGB ensure the CMG Chair is confirming that the required CMG members are attending the quarterly discussions? If members are not in attendance, what does the CMG Chair do as a result?

Each SARB begins with a roll call. If members are not in attendance, a designated representative must attend on their behalf. Commanders rarely have difficulty meeting this requirement, as the SARB is a means to improve services and provide the best possible care and advocacy support to victims.

Additional actions cited by Army commands include:

- Most commands report tracking all SARB member attendance on the SARB sign-in roster that is included in the SARB minutes.
- FORSCOM procedures allow participants who will not be present to have a suitable replacement who are knowledgeable about the cases.
- TRADOC senior commanders appoint SARB members on appointment orders. If a member is absent the lead SARC (co-chair) contacts the member to provide a representative for the meeting.
- The ARNORTH commanding general signs the quarterly commander update minutes which include a list of who is present and who is absent.

6.3.3 Quarterly SAPR Case Management Group Meetings: How does your Military Service ensure the CMG Chair is reviewing the minutes and actions taken at the prior quarterly meeting to drive progress and conducting oversight on any open system coordination and accountability issues?

The purpose of the quarterly SARB is to protect victims' rights and support them during the healing and recovery process. Quarterly meetings also bring together retention, ready and resilience, substance abuse, and other offices that can aid in the trend analysis and systems approach to preventing sexual harassment and assault, while taking care of the victim. This collaboration facilitates a holistic approach to address high-risk behaviors.

Appendix F of AR 600-20 (Army Command Policy) prescribes SARB procedures and duties for all SARB members. The senior commander serves as the SARB chair and reviews the minutes and actions taken prior to each meeting. The SARB chair also analyzes the SARB meeting agenda, provides oversight, maintains accountability, evaluates performance measures, analyzes reporting requirements, identifies trends, risks, problematic behaviors, and addresses immediate actions to mitigate sexual harassment, sexual assault, and retaliatory behaviors.

Additional SARB requirements ensure the SARB co-chair (lead SARC) keeps the minutes, to include those in attendance and issues discussed, without providing any personal identifiable information or violations of victim's confidentiality. Once the SARB chair signs and approves the minutes, the lead SARC sends the minutes through encrypted email, to their ACOM, ASCC, or DRU SHARP program manager.

Additional actions reported by Army commands include:

- FORSCOM SARB chairpersons review and sign all the minutes.
- TRADOC subordinate commands are required to submit SARB minutes, signed by the chair and co-chair, fourteen working days after the SARB.
- In AMC, the SARB chairperson signs the minutes and conducts bi-weekly follow-up actions until resolution of any issues.
- In USARPAC, the lead SARC prepares minutes and forwards them to the SARB chair for signature. Each commander receives a copy of the minutes.
- The ARNORTH commanding general signs the minutes.
- ARSOUTH ensures the commander reviews all SARB meeting minutes.

6.4.1 SARC Responsibilities in Expedited Transfers: How were SARCs trained on the requirement for new mandatory “intake meeting with the gaining SARC,” which requires the gaining SARC to explain the full range of support options at the new installation, facilitate appointments with mental health, medical, advocacy, legal services, or other response personnel, and help answer any questions the Service member victim may have?

The Army SHARP Academy developed training for the new expedited transfer requirements and conducted four virtual training sessions in February and March 2021. These sessions covered all changes directed by DoD and the Army and were attended by more than 800 SARCs and VAs. Students in the SARC/VA Career Course and the SHARP Foundation Course also receive a block of instruction covering the requirements of expedited transfers, including the transfer of Soldiers if an adult family member is the victim of a non-domestic abuse sexual assault.

The losing SARC for each expedited transfer victim conducts an out-brief with the victim to address any concerns and provide information about the gaining SARC at the new location. The gaining SARC conducts follow on meetings with the victim to explain all support options to include, advocacy, legal, medical, and behavior health. The gaining SARC also updates DSAID with additional support services and coordinates with victim’s commander for a separate meeting.

6.4.2 SARC Responsibilities in Expedited Transfers: Describe the training provided to SARCs on the Expedited Transfer process because their adult dependent was the victim of a non-domestic abuse sexual assault? How many adult dependent Expedited Transfer requests has your Military Service/NGB had in FY 2021? Were any disapproved? If so, why?

In December 2020, the Secretary of the Army directed all senior commanders and SHARP professionals to complete required training on expedited transfers, no later than March 31, 2021. The Army SHARP Academy developed the training content and supported the execution. In order to meet the timeline, the Army SHARP program office published EXORD 105-21 (Sexual Harassment/Assault Response), which required all senior commanders and SHARP professionals (command program managers, SARCs, VAs, and instructors) to complete the training. This training was easily accessible through the Army Training Network or website platforms.

The Army SHARP Academy delivered a series of four (4) 90-minute instructional sessions through Microsoft Teams for SHARP program managers and lead SARCs, who then conducted desk side training to their commanders, using the approved training materials and regulatory guidance. Additional training now exists in the SARC/VA Career Course and SHARP Foundation Course.

During FY21, HRC reported receiving ten (10) requests for expedited transfers from Soldiers whose adult dependent was the victim of a non-domestic abuse sexual assault. The Army approved all of the requests.

6.5 SARC Responsibilities for the Retaliation Reporting Form (DD Form 2910-2): Describe the training provided to SARCs responding to a request for a DD Form 2910-2 by a retaliation reporter who was not the sexual assault victim associated with the retaliation report? What difficulties are SARCs experiencing handling retaliation involving adult sexual assault victims?

The Army ensures that SARCs, VAs, and potential retaliation reporters are aware of DD Form 2910-2 through Army policy, annual training, and command information products. Installation SHARP program managers and lead SARCs train other SHARP professionals how to handle the forms. SARCs and VAs (who receive training on the DD Form 2910-2 through the Army SHARP Academy) inform victims of the resources available to report instances of retaliation or to request an expedited transfer or MPO. SARCs and VAs also review the DD Form 2910-2 with each victim, witness, responder, and Family Member, as appropriate.

Difficulties some SARCs have with retaliation cases include associating the retaliation report with an unrestricted report and meeting timelines in deployed areas. Specifically:

- The SARC must annotate the DSAID case number of the unrestricted report on the DD Form 2910-2. In the event, the SARC cannot associate the retaliation report with an unrestricted sexual assault report, the SARC must contact the Army SHARP program office DSAID program manager for assistance.
- In deployed locations with limited communication systems, there may be delays in reporting beyond the 96-hour requirement.

6.6 Independent Review Commission (IRC) Recommendations Implementation Efforts: Summarize the efforts undertaken during the reporting period to support the IRC.

The Army supported the IRC efforts in FY21 by providing subject matter expertise to all four line of effort working groups and with leadership participation to the working group consultative teams. The Army fully supported the IRC's efforts as it solicited independent findings and recommendations from SHARP professionals, victims, and military justice professionals. Additionally, Army SHARP SMEs for victim support services assisted in coordinating panels and discussions with DoD-wide direct victim service providers, including SVCs and medical personnel. The purpose was to obtain input regarding their experiences with victim care and support and any recommendations.

Since submitting its findings and recommendations to the Secretary of Defense, the Army worked closely with DoD leadership to identify areas where the IRC recommendations overlap with the FHIRC recommendations.

6.7 COVID-19 Impact: Discuss any continuing impacts the COVID-19 pandemic is having on your Military Service's/NGB's efforts in any of the five SAPR goals (e.g., prevention efforts, in-person training, SAFE/evidence processing). If there is a continuing impact, what adjustments were made in FY 2021 to ensure the advancement of your SAPR efforts?

Victim Assistance and Advocacy

Despite COVID-19, the Army continued to offer and provide victim advocacy support and assistance. Victim access remained uninterrupted as Army SHARP personnel leveraged technology and social media to guarantee awareness of ongoing services. Face-to-face meetings with clients continued with safe health practices, such as social distancing and face masks. The Army provided specific guidance to SARCs and VAs to observe safe health practices while providing victim services and interactions with medical personnel. SHARP professionals followed COVID guidelines for report intake and victim services, mitigating challenges during telework by leveraging technology. For example, when obtaining a victim's "wet" signature on DD Form 2910 was not possible, the SARC/VA annotated that the victim provided a "virtual" signature due to COVID-19.

In-person Training

COVID-19 affected in-person training of the SARC/VA Career Course and the SHARP Foundation Course. Five SARC/VA Career Courses used a blended learning methodology where students spent the first two weeks in quarantine at their hotel, conducting synchronous training in a virtual classroom environment using BlackBoard technology. After the quarantine period, students completed the remaining four weeks in an in-person classroom environment. The Army also used synchronous training in a virtual classroom environment to conduct 102 SHARP Foundation Course classes in FY21. Once the quarantine period was over, students returned to the classroom for the remainder of the course, which required social distancing and masking.

SARC and VA certification and continuing education were uninterrupted due to an increase in online webinars and virtual training. For example, the annual NOVA training and the Army SHARP PIF were virtual for most attendees. Virtual attendees did receive CEUs, a requirement for SHARP professionals to maintain their certification and provide victim advocacy support. These modifications still exist and are in practice to confirm SARCs and VAs remain certified, educated, and trained.

TCAP conducted twelve of twenty-five training sessions virtually. The Defense Counsel Assistance Program (DCAP) held in-person training for one of the two core courses and sent individual defense counsel to a variety of virtual, hybrid, and in-person specialized courses. TJAGLCS conducted command legal training for general officers and incoming brigade commanders virtually, transitioned two courses, including the graduate course, to a hybrid model, but is currently conducting the officer basic course in person.

Impacts/actions cited by Army commands include:

- FORSCOM used online opportunities to meet education requirements.
- AFC developed in-person training that is compliant with COVID-19 policies.
- AMC SHARP training was predominantly virtual with some in-person small groups to encourage dialogue despite the challenges of COVID restrictions.
 - USARPAC was not able to bring guest speakers from CONUS to conduct training. Local in-person training was limited to ensure social distancing.
- USAREUR-AF conducted SHARP training over MS Teams, ensuring command presence and facilitation during training
 - ARNORTH conducted first responder and annual SHARP training through virtual platforms and held all FY21 Foundation Courses according using BlackBoard.

- ARSOUTH used virtual platforms for mandatory training and resorted to phone interviews and video teleconferences to complete some victim intakes.
- MEDCOM conducted the SAMFE course virtually. This led to delays in newly trained SAMFEs completing some requirements.
- USARC conducted virtual training and command-wide OIPs in support of compliance and assessment.
- In order to accommodate all personnel, USACE conducted SHARP annual refresher training virtually when conditions were not safe to meet face-to-face.
- HRC used virtual platforms to conduct SHARP training.

SAFE/Evidence Processing

As noted in section 3.2, COVID restrictions and quarantines caused increases in the average turnaround time for forensic examination of sexual assault evidence at the USACIL. However, the easing of COVID restrictions, at the end of FY21, enabled USACIL to start processing sexual assault evidence in a timelier manner.

During the first quarter of FY21, SAMFEs at one MTF were unavailable to conduct SAFEs due to a high volume of COVID-19 patients. This MTF made immediate arrangements with the civilian MOU facility to conduct the SAFEs. Five patients who requested SAFEs went to the civilian facility that conducted all the exams within the required timeframe.

SAMFEs provided SAFE exams with additional precautionary procedures, including COVID-19 screening, utilizing personal protective equipment, frequent hand-washing, wearing masks, and social distancing in designated waiting area.

Accountability

Many civilian criminal justice systems paused due to COVID in FY21. For example, New York City did not conduct any jury trials from November 2020 to March 2021. The Army, however, tried to completion 205 courts-martial during the same period and more than 600 courts-martial in all of FY21. The Army initially reported more than 200 courts-martial delays related to COVID-19, but all were resolved by the spring of 2021. In FY 2021, SVPs prosecuted 444 special victim cases, securing 311 convictions and oversaw the management of 1,982 special victim cases per month across the force, providing guidance to law enforcement and assistance to victims.

7. National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) Requirements:

Provide your Military Service's/NGB's status on the NDAA sections listed below.

There are unique requirements embedded within each NDAA section's language, so referring to the entire section is necessary.

After reviewing the designated NDAA section:

- If the requirement(s) has/have been implemented, provide the completion date and a short narrative (300 words or less) describing the action taken (e.g., Completed: January 15, 2021. Requirement added to AR 600-20, Army Command Policy).

- If the requirement(s) has/have not been implemented, provide the projected completion date only without narrative.

7.1 NDAA for FY 2021, section 538(b)(1)(A). Coordination of Support for Survivors of Sexual Trauma. Specifically, address whether SARCs and Uniformed Victim Advocates receive annual training on resources available through the Department of Veterans Affairs regarding sexual trauma.

Completed: October 2021.

Since September 27, 2017, the Army SHARP Academy provides training on resources available through the Department of Veterans Affairs during the SARC/VA Career Course and Foundation Course. On October 4, 2021, the SHARP Academy established the SHARP Academy Learning Portal, which provides information updates to all SARCs and VAs.

7.2 NDAA for FY 2020, section 599. Information for Members of the Armed Forces on Availability of Services of the Department of Veterans Affairs Relating to Sexual Trauma. Specifically, address how SARCs and Uniformed Victim Advocates are advising members of the Armed Forces who report sexual trauma regarding the eligibility of such members for services at the Department of Veterans Affairs, and whether such information is included in mandatory training materials.

Completed: October 2019.

The Army SHARP Academy incorporated information regarding the Department of Veterans Affairs service eligibility for victims of sexual trauma into mandatory SHARP annual refresher training.

SARCs conduct exit briefings, and identify locations of nearby facilities so victims can receive ongoing care and support. SARCs also perform a warm-hand-off by helping victims transitioning from the Army make contact with a sexual trauma coordinator at a veteran facility.

8. Analytics Discussion

8.1 Military Services/NGB*: Provide an analytic discussion (1,500 words or less) of your Statistical Report of reported sexual assault cases from DSAID. The discussion shall include information on Unrestricted Reports; Restricted Reports; conversions of Restricted Reports to Unrestricted Reports; service referrals for victims alleging sexual assault; and case synopses of completed sexual assault and related retaliation investigations.

This section must briefly address each of the following:

- Notable changes in the data over time
- Insight or suspected reasons for noted changes, or lack of change, in data
- The application of insights from data analyses for programmatic planning, oversight, and/or research
- Total number of Sexual Assaults (Restricted Reports and Unrestricted Reports) over time (since FY 2008) (Metric #11)
- The number of sexual assault investigations completed by the MCIO in the FY and the corresponding mean and median investigation length. Case open date can be in any year, but the close date must be by the end of the FY (Non-Metric #6)
- The number of subjects with victims who declined to participate in the military justice process (Metric #7)
- Command action for military subjects under DoD legal authority (to be captured using the most serious crime investigated, comparing penetration to contact crimes) (Non-Metric #1)

Sexual Assault Historical Reporting Data (Metric #11)

As displayed in figure 1, there were 3,212 unrestricted reports and 869 restricted reports of sexual assault in the Army during FY21. The total number of reports (restricted and unrestricted) increased more than 25 percent from FY20. The number of Service members (SMs) making an unrestricted or restricted report in FY21 also increased by nearly 30 percent from FY20. Combined with a modest increase in the population of the Army from FY20 to FY21, the number of SMs making a report of sexual assault in FY21 equates to 7.1 reports per 1,000 active duty Soldiers, compared to 5.5 reports per 1,000 Soldiers in FY18, FY19, and FY20.

The Army believes that the increase in the rate of reporting of sexual assault by SM victims (from 2.3 in FY12 to 5.5 in FY18 through FY20, and 7.1 in FY21) does not necessarily correspond to an increase in the number of actual assaults. Rather, the priority placed on sexual assault prevention and response by the Army since FY12 may have encouraged more victims to come forward and report incidents of this vastly under reported crime.

NOTE: Designated Army SARCs enter sexual assault case data into DSAID based on information received directly from victims, information provided by a VA and/or information from CID investigators. Subject and case disposition data populates DSAID from a system interface with ALERTS, and manual data entry by SARCs and HQDA OTJAG through the DSAID Legal Officer module.

Prevalence of Sexual Assault vs. Reporting (Metric #2)

The Army continues to make every effort to achieve its goal of a culture of dignity and respect that results in positive command climates in which sexual offenses are rare and victims feel safe in reporting, and free from intimidation and retaliation. Although trends in the Army indicate an increase in reporting, sexual assault remains a very under-reported crime in the Army and throughout the United States. According to the 2020 Criminal Victimization report published in October 2021 by the Department of Justice, fewer than 23 percent of rape and sexual assault victims in the United States reported their incident to police, down from 34 percent in 2019.

Because sexual assault is such an under-reported crime, the Army must use survey data to estimate the magnitude (prevalence) of its sexual assault problem. Prevalence of sexual assault in the Army is an estimate of the number of Soldiers who identify, through survey questions, that they were victims of sexual assault during the previous year, while in the Army. The Army determines prevalence of sexual assault based on responses to the Workplace and Gender Relations Survey of Active Duty Members (WGRA), administered by DoD every 2 years. DoD conducted the most recent WGRA during 2018, inviting more than 240,000 Soldiers (including 83 percent of Army women and 47 percent of Army men) from private to colonel to take the survey. DoD postponed the 2020 WGRA survey due to issues related to COVID-19. DoD plans to conduct the next WGRA in FY22.

Figure 2 shows estimated prevalence data for FY10 and FY12 based on the percent of male and female Soldiers who said they experienced “unwanted sexual contact” in their responses to WGRA surveys. Figure 2 also depicts data derived from the 2014 RAND Corporation Military Workplace Study, which replicated the WGRA surveys but also collected more detailed information, had more respondents, and higher response rates. For the FY16 and FY18 WGRA, DoD replicated the FY14 RAND study. The FY16 data, combined with the increase in reports per 1,000 Soldiers, significantly narrowed the gap between prevalence and reporting. As a result, 38 percent of Soldiers who responded that they experienced "unwanted sexual contact" in the FY16 and FY18 surveys actually reported the incident. This was a significant increase from the Army rate of 28 percent in FY14 and greater than the DoD average of 32 percent in FY16 and 30 percent in FY18. Since closing the gap between prevalence and number of reports of sexual assault incidents is a stated goal of the Army, the Soldier victim reporting data is encouraging.

Unrestricted Reports (Victim Information)

One demographic trend for Army sexual assaults that has remained consistent over the past several years is the rank of the vast majority of victims who make an unrestricted report. Eighty-one percent of Army victims in FY21 completed investigations were E1-E4, unchanged from FY20, and compared to 79 percent in FY19, and 80 percent in FY18.

The percentage of Soldiers who make an unrestricted report that are 24 years or younger also has remained consistent. In FY21, 76 percent of victims in completed investigations were 24 years old or younger, a slight increase from 73 percent in both FY19 and FY20, and 72 percent in FY17 and FY18.

The Army continues its efforts to reduce the stigma of male victim reporting. During FY21, 25 percent of Army victims making an unrestricted report were male, unchanged from FY20, and compared to 27 percent in FY19, and 22 percent in FY18.

Figure 3 shows the breakout of victims and each type of sexual assault offense for Army unrestricted reports in FY21. Excluding attempts, and cases where the offense code was not available, DSAID data shows the proportion of assaults reported as penetrative offenses (specifically rape, aggravated sexual assault/sexual assault, and forcible sodomy) was 46 percent in FY21, compared to 48 percent in FY20, and 46 percent in FY19. This percentage has decreased significantly from 66 percent in FY11. Although this trend may suggest penetrative offenses are less prevalent than non-penetrative offenses, it may also suggest that Soldiers are increasingly reporting non-penetrative offenses.

Other notable trends for victims making an unrestricted report include:

- Four percent of victims in FY21 declined to participate in the military justice process (Metric #7), precluding command action for subjects where evidence supported command action. Five percent of victims declined to participate in FY20, compared to six percent in FY19, and five percent in FY16 through FY18.
- During FY21, 79 Soldiers made an unrestricted report for an incident occurring prior to joining the Army, compared to 79 in FY20, 86 in FY19, and 61 in FY18.
- The Army processed 331 permanent change of station (PCS) expedited transfer requests in FY21. Nine requests were denied (one victim was the subject in a separate criminal investigation, two victims rescinded their requests, two victims had preexisting transfer orders, and four cases found no credible determination that a sexual assault occurred.) (FY20=244 requests/3 denied; FY19=252/4; FY18=262/7.)
- Army units reported 39 unit/duty expedited transfer requests in FY21. Four requests were denied (one victim was pending UCMJ action; one victim rescinded the request; one victim was pending separation; and one victim had a pre-existing transfer order.)
- Soldiers receiving victim services for unrestricted reports continue to use military facilities more often than civilian facilities. In FY21, 96 percent of victim services occurred at military facilities, unchanged from FY20, and compared to 92 percent in FY19.
- Overall, 67 percent of unrestricted reports in FY21 occurred on a military installation, compared to 66 percent in FY20, 63 percent in FY19, and 65 percent in FY18.

- There were 179 SAFE exams conducted for SM victims of unrestricted reports in FY21, compared to 175 in FY20, 194 in FY19, and 201 in FY18.

Unrestricted Reports (Subject Information)

FY21 data regarding alleged offenders (subjects) continue to show trends similar to previous years. Identified alleged offenders were 93 percent male in FY21, compared to 94 percent in FY20, 96 percent in FY19, and 95 percent in FY18. Fifty-eight percent of alleged offenders in FY21 were E1-E4, compared to 60 percent in FY20, 58 percent in FY19, and 57 percent in FY18. The percentage of subjects that were E5-E9 was 34 percent in FY21, compared to 32 percent in FY20, 33 percent in FY19, and 35 percent in FY18.

Given the correlation between age and rank, the percentage of subjects 24 years old or younger follows a trend similar to that of junior enlisted Soldiers. This age group continues to be the largest category among all subjects. During FY21, 51 percent of known alleged offenders were 24 years old or younger, compared to 50 percent in FY19 and FY20.

Figure 4 shows the breakout of subjects and each type of sexual assault investigation completed during FY21. Excluding attempts and cases where the offense code was not available, the proportion of FY21 cases with Service member subjects was 77 percent, compared to 81 percent in FY20, 71 percent in FY19, and 73 percent in FY18. Twenty percent of alleged offenders in FY21 were unidentified (unknown), compared to 16 percent in FY20, 25 percent in FY19, and 24 percent in FY18.

Unrestricted Reports (Investigation Information)

The previous discussion of the unrestricted reports represent sexual assaults reported during FY21 in which either the victim or alleged offender was a Service member, neither was a juvenile, and the subject and victim are not each other's spouse, former spouse, or intimate partner. While other jurisdictions may dispose of reports of sexual assault before opening an investigation, the Army formally investigates every allegation as a sexual assault. Although this practice may ostensibly contribute to a higher number of cases, and a higher number of allegations in which there was insufficient evidence to prove legally, the elements of a sexual assault, it demonstrates the Army's commitment to investigate all unrestricted reports of sexual assault thoroughly and transparently.

The average completion time (Non-Metric #6) for sexual assault investigations completed by CID during FY21 was 131 days (median=95 days), compared to 149 days (median=108) in FY20, and 143 days (median=111) in FY19. Each case is unique and the amount of time to complete an investigation is dependent on several factors, including type of complaint, delays in reporting, amount of physical evidence, and cooperation of witnesses. The high number of cases reported to CID also affects the timeliness of completing investigations. As a result, 1,028 of the 2,779 investigations initiated during FY21 were pending completion at the end of the fiscal year. CID attributes the decrease in investigation completion times in FY21 to increased command emphasis of timely and thorough investigation and supervisory oversight.

Unrestricted Reports (Disposition Information)

In the Army, a commander is not limited to a single disposition choice and may use more than one disciplinary tool, including judicial, non-judicial, and administrative action to address an allegation fully. The disposition of any offense depends on the unique facts and circumstances of the allegation. Commanders, upon the advice of judge advocates, must use independent judgment to determine the appropriate level of disposition. Additionally, the Army withholds the authority to dispose of a "penetrative" offense (an allegation of rape, sexual assault, or forcible sodomy) to the special court-martial convening authority at the colonel (O6) level, with a servicing legal advisor.

Although the format of this report requires the Army to place each allegation into a single disposition category, the following explanations reflect that several disposition categories may be appropriate for a single allegation.

Using the data input into DSAID, there were 2,228 allegations of sexual assault, ranging from rape to indecent assault ready for disposition (Non-Metric #1 and Non-Metric #2) decisions in FY21. This includes allegations from cases opened in previous years completed in FY21. Of these 2,228 allegations:

- 512 allegations were disposed of through the referral of court-martial charges. A conviction of some offense, either sexual assault, a lesser-included offense, or a non-sexual assault offense was achieved in 71 percent of cases in which a penetrative offense was charged; and 81 percent when a contact offense was charged.
- 212 allegations were disposed of through an involuntary, adverse administrative discharge of the subject.
- 146 allegations were disposed of through other adverse administrative actions.
- 390 allegations were disposed of through non-judicial punishment (including 162 that also resulted in an administrative discharge). All of these involved an unwanted touch over the clothing (non-penetrative).
- 328 allegations provided probable cause only for a non-sexual assault offense, as there was insufficient evidence to prosecute a founded sexual assault offense. Subsequently, commanders took punitive action for a non-sexual assault offense, such as adultery, fraternization, or violation of punitive policies. In 43 of these cases, court-martial charges were preferred. In 87 of these cases, the Army administratively discharged the subject for the non-sexual assault offense. In 154 of these cases, the subject received non-judicial punishment and in 44 cases, the subject received an adverse administrative action.

- 95 allegations were complicated by the refusal of the victim to cooperate in a military justice action (Metric #7). Without the cooperation of the victim in these cases, the Army was unable to take any punitive actions against the subject.
- 8 allegations involved an expired statute of limitations.
- 535 allegations had insufficient evidence of any offense. Although allegations made against the offender met the lower standard for titling in a criminal investigation, there was insufficient evidence to proceed with a military justice action.
- 2 allegations were unfounded by command or legal authority.

Disposition data trends (illustrated in figure 5) continue to reflect a judicial system, in which commanders employ the wide spectrum of disciplinary tools available to address misconduct from an unwanted touch over the clothing to a forcible rape.

In addition to the 2,228 allegations, there were 775 allegations that could not be disposed of by the Army:

- 670 allegations involved an unknown subject.
- 7 allegations involved a subject who was deceased or had deserted.

- 91 allegations were made against a civilian or foreign national subject and disposed of by a civilian or foreign authority, because the accused was not subject to the jurisdiction of the military.

- 7 allegations were disposed of by a civilian or foreign authority although the accused was subject to Army jurisdiction. In these cases, which occurred outside the limits of a military installation, the civilian authority asserted primary investigative and prosecutorial jurisdiction.

Finally, Army dispositions include cases in which the military justice process addressed allegations of sexual assault involving Soldiers, when a civilian or foreign justice process did not fully address the alleged misconduct. These actions illustrate Army commanders' interests in accountability given some of the challenges facing civilian jurisdictions, especially when prosecuting alcohol-facilitated sexual assaults.

Restricted Reports

During FY21, the Army also recorded 1,061 restricted reports, of which 192 later converted to unrestricted, leaving 869 reports that remained restricted (FY20=850-150; FY19=825-157; FY18=741-162). The 869 reports that remained restricted in FY21 is the most ever recorded and a 24 percent increase from FY20.

The majority of victims filing restricted reports in FY21 were 24 years old or younger, similar to victims filing unrestricted reports. Specifically, 75 percent of restricted report victims were 24 years old or younger in FY21 (FY20=71 percent), compared to 76 percent for FY21 unrestricted reports (FY20=73 percent).

During FY21, 95 percent of Service members receiving victim services related to restricted reports of sexual assault did so in military facilities, unchanged since FY18. These services included 52 SAFE exams for FY21 restricted reports, compared to 56 SAFE exams for FY20 restricted reports (FY19=75; FY18=60).

Most (82 percent) services provided to non-Service member victims in FY21 also occurred in military resources, compared to 95 percent in FY20, and 83 percent in FY19. These services included 25 SAFE exams for non-military victims compared to 16 in FY20 and 51 in both FY18 and FY19.

Notable contrasts between restricted and unrestricted reports include:

- Only 45 percent of FY21 restricted reports were for alleged assaults that reportedly occurred on a military installation (FY20=53 percent; FY19=52 percent), compared to 67 percent for unrestricted reports (FY20= 66 percent; FY19=63 percent).

- During FY21, 33 percent of restricted reports were reported more than a year after the incident (FY20=27 percent; FY19=21 percent; FY18=26 percent), compared to only 19 percent of unrestricted reports (FY18-FY20=15 percent).

- Victims who reported a sexual assault in FY21 that occurred prior to their military service were more likely to do so with a restricted report. Of the 181 reported in FY21 (FY20=151; FY19=148), 102 were restricted reports (FY20=72; FY19=62).

8.2 Complete the following table with your numbers as of the end of the fiscal year. Use the job/duty descriptions provided and the following inclusion criteria:

- Include all Reserve and Active Duty military personnel. Army and Air Force do not need to include their respective National Guard component information as it will be included in the National Guard Bureau's response.
- Include civilian and contractor personnel, as applicable
- Only include filled positions
- Indicate the number of full-time and part-time personnel
- Provide the exact number of current personnel, whenever possible.
