Freight Rail Service Issues

2004 in Review – Service Issues

- Board carefully monitored rail trends and performance
- Urged open communication between railroads and shippers
 - San Francisco, Atlanta, Kansas City and Houston Service forums
 - Worked to resolve many smaller service complaints
- Asked railroads to submit their fall peak plans
- Worked with railroads and shippers on service issues

2005 Service Issues

- Specific carrier service failures
- Grain and agriculture production
- Carriers' improved financial positions will increase pressure on rates and service
- Continued pricing pressure on shippers
- Will robust demand for freight transportation continue?

Insufficient Capacity – A New Kind of Regulatory Problem

- Current and future service issues may be demand and capacity driven
- Agency's regulatory powers intended for different type situation
- Most commodities are deregulated by virtue of being modally-competitive or shipped by contract
- Interstate Commerce Act laws and doctrine look at reasonableness of regulated traffic
- Customers want fairness for all movements

Service Actions

- STB is often asked to take action to improve service for individual shipper.
- It should do so only if:
 - Situation warrants action
 - Action can be productive
- Cannot make one shipper better off at the expense of another.

Long-Term Freight Railroad Issues

Capacity Constraints – Short-term Causes

- Increased rail demand and tightness in rail capacity
 - ✓ Expanding economy increased imports
 - ✓ Large grain harvests in 2003 and 2004
 - ✓ Shortness of crew and equipment
 - ✓ Insufficient capital expenditures
- Trucking capacity is also tight
 - ✓ Increased fuel prices
 - ✓ Driver shortages
 - ✓ High insurance costs
 - ✓ Uncertain hours of service rules

Capacity Constraints – Long-term Causes

- Future demand for freight movement predicted to increase
- Challenge for private companies to meet that demand
- Constraints on capital investment
 - ✓ Railroads inability to achieve revenue adequacy
 - ✓ Demands of investors
 - ✓ Under capacity and over capacity at the same time
- Demands of changing freight flows
- Returns will have to justify further investment

Railroad Revenue Adequacy

- Computed by comparing the railroad industry's cost of capital to individual railroads' rates of return on investment (ROI).
- ROI computed by dividing net railway operating income by the investment in road and equipment.
- If ROI equals or exceeds industry cost of capital for a period of time, the railroad is then determined to be revenue adequate.

Railroads and Communities

- Major carriers have rationalized their systems, so they now have more traffic on fewer lines.
- Communities now see a greater frequency of rail service on lines, and communities are struggling to co-exist with railroads.
- Communities are looking to partner with private carriers, states, and federal government to invest capital to increase rail fluidity, mobility for their citizens and livability.
- Will happen more and more, further straining carrier capital investment.
