Activities related to the creation of essential content in order to keep programming on air will continue such as the work performed by broadcast technicians, journalists, editors, producers, reporters.
Brief summary of significant agency activities that will cease during a lapse: Agency support services (i.e. HR, CFO Office, Training) except any support services necessary to facilitate the creation of content and/or necessary to keep broadcasts on air will cease during a lapse including most management positions, especially support service management will cease during a lapse. No new programs or projects will be initiated.

I. Background

The United States Constitution provides that “[n]o money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law.” U.S. Constitution Article I, § 9, cl.7. The Anti-Deficiency Act (ADA) seeks to ensure proper implementation of this constitutional requirement by prohibiting all officers and employees of the federal government from entering into obligations in advance of an appropriation. To that end, the ADA restricts the acceptance of services from federal personnel, entering into contracts and executing grants, except in cases of emergencies or as otherwise authorized by law. See 31 U.S.C 1341 et.seq.

U.S. Agency for Global Media (USAGM) Shutdown Guidance

In absence of an appropriation to continue operations, the ADA would prohibit many but not all government functions. The Office of Legal Counsel (OLC), the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), and the Government Accountability Office (GAO) recognize various activities that are excepted from the general prohibition against incurring obligations that would otherwise apply under the ADA (hereinafter, “excepted activities”). In respect of such excepted activities, agencies may continue to incur obligations during a funding gap.

The ADA provides for the possibility of imposing significant criminal penalties for any employee or government official who knowingly and willfully violates the Act, including by continuing to incur obligations from non-excepted activities during a funding gap. These penalties may include fines of up to $5,000 and imprisonment of up to two (2) years per violation. The Department of Justice has historically taken the position that it may seek to impose these penalties under appropriate circumstances against federal officials or employees who fail to cease applicable government functions during a funding gap (43 U.S. Op. Atty. Gen. 224, 229 (1980)). In addition to criminal penalties, the ADA also has significant administrative penalties for failure to comply.

II. Determination of Excepted Activities and Positions

A. Definition of Excepted Activities

Excepted activities that may be continued in an absence of appropriations include those activities which are (i) necessary to execute an orderly shutdown of affected operations, (ii) necessary for the safety of human life or the protection of property, and (iii) necessary for conducting foreign relations essential to the national security. Employees performing excepted activities will continue to report to work and perform their duties.

Please note that the definition of an employee of the federal government only includes those individuals who are directly employed by the United States Government. The definition does not include contractors, such as purchase order vendors, stringers, and other individuals or entities who maintain contractual relationships with the USAGM. The treatment of contractual services is covered in a later section of this guidance.

B. Essential Activities for the Protection of Human Life and Property

To qualify as an essential activity for the protection of human life and property, there must be some reasonable connection between the activity and the safety of human life or the protection of property. There must also be some reasonable likelihood that such safety and protection would be compromised to some degree by delay in the performance of the function in question. At the U.S. Agency for Global Media (USAGM), this would include the protection of all government property, including headquarters, domestic and overseas transmitting stations, overseas bureaus, and equipment used in USAGM operations. The Office of Security and security guards will continue to protect domestic facilities and personnel in the event of a shutdown. It would also include reasonable support services related to the protection of human life and property. As many USAGM employees are stationed overseas or may be on travel status and may need to be recalled, USAGM should maintain minimal operations to protect such personnel in case emergency travel is warranted or to the extent required to recall personnel to their duty stations or to the United States.

The chart below shows an estimate, by USAGM entity, of Government personnel that fall in this category. (Approximately 1.71% of the USAGM workforce, or an estimated 22 Government personnel.)

C. Conduct of Foreign Relations Activities Essential to the National Security

The USAGM Office of General Counsel (OGC) has issued a memorandum establishing that there is a sufficient legal basis for USAGM's determination that United States international broadcasting activities of the USAGM qualify as "foreign relations essential to the national security" and are, therefore, excepted activities which may continue during the appropriations lapse. These excepted activities represent the minimum activities necessary to produce and distribute Voice of America (VOA) and Office of Cuba Broadcasting (OCB) programming and to distribute programming of the USAGM. Federal employees who are covered by this exception include the minimum VOA, OCB, Technology, Services, and Innovation (TSI), and USAGM Mission Support employees required to produce and distribute relevant programming.

Similarly, the USAGM OGC has determined that the non-federal entity networks, Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty (RFE/RL), Radio Free Asia (RFA), and Middle East Broadcasting Networks, Inc. (MBN), also engage in core broadcasting activities for the Agency that qualify as "foreign relations essential to the national security" and are, therefore, excepted activities which may continue during the appropriations lapse. Accordingly, the Agency may incur obligations in support of the non-federal entity networks' core broadcasting activities. Activities of USAGM's non-federal entity, the Open Technology Fund (OTF), that are necessary to support the production and distribution of programming are also excepted activities which may continue during the appropriations lapse. Accordingly, the Agency may incur obligations in support of these activities.

The scope of this excepted activity is based on the following programming assumptions:

- Minimum operations necessary to keep the USAGM global distribution network operational;

U.S. Agency for Global Media (USAGM) Shutdown Guidance

- Current programming schedule remains, with minimum operations necessary to stay on the air;
- Highest priority news programs continue;
- Breaking news is covered;
- No new programs or projects are initiated;
- Evergreen and pre-recorded material will be used to the highest extent possible;
- Internet and new media operations continue as appropriate; and
- Excepted employees are those essential to produce and distribute these programs.

The chart below shows an estimate, by USAGM entity, of Government personnel that fall in this category. (Approximately 74.83% of the USAGM workforce, or an estimated 963 Government personnel.)

D. Other Categories of Excepted Activities

USAGM is not planning on and does not maintain any activities that engage in military law enforcement or health care. In addition, USAGM is not requesting an exemption to continue operations for employees whose compensation is financed by resources other than the annual appropriation. As such, no USAGM employees fall into this category.

Table 1. Approximate USAGM Staffing Categories

USAGM FEDERAL ENTITIES	FURLOUGHED		EXCEPTED				TOTAL STAFF
			Human Life		Foreign Relations
	COUNT	PERCENT	COUNT	PERCENT	COUNT	PERCENT
VOA	100	10.85%			822	89.15%	922
OCB	9	17.31%			43	82.69%	52
IBB	128	75.74%	5	2.96%	36	21.30%	169
TSI	65	45.14%	17	11.81%	62	43.06%	144
GRAND TOTALS	302	23.47%	22	1.71%	963	74.83%	1,287

III. Shutdown Preparation Activities

To prepare for a shutdown, each USAGM office should assemble a list of those activities, inclusive of personnel requirements that are essential to performance of excepted activities. Information must, at a minimum, include the number of employees expected to be on board at the implementation of the plan, minimum number of employees to be retained under the plan, segregated by those employees essential for the protection of human life and property and those employees necessary to the conduct of foreign relations essential to the national.

All required information will be collected using a standard template provided by the USAGM Office of Human Resources (HR). Office of Chief Financial Officer (OCFO) will consolidate and assemble the information, update shutdown plans, and submit those plans to OMB.

U.S. Agency for Global Media (USAGM) Shutdown Guidance

In the event of an actual shutdown, the OCFO and HR will request the list of the names of employees who will be reporting to work in support of excepted activities in accordance with the shutdown plans.

The list should be accompanied by a certification from the USAGM CEO or Delegate, VOA Director, OCB Director, TSI Director, Chief Management Officer or CFO as appropriate, indicating, “Obligations for salaries for the attached list of employees are necessary to carry out excepted activities, as outlined in the USAGM shutdown plans, in the absence of an appropriation.”

Office of Human Resources will prepare employee notices.

Managers/Supervisors are responsible for ensuring they have contact information from all of their assigned personnel. Managers/Supervisors are also responsible for ensuring that the contact information of their personnel is updated regularly and provided to HR and required offices

A. Orderly Shutdown of Non-Excepted Activities

All employees scheduled to work on the first workday following a lapse in appropriations should report to work.

Non-excepted employees (employees receiving furlough notices) should perform those tasks necessary to safeguard property, records, and information for an orderly shutdown. In addition, non-excepted personnel should take measures to secure files; make external contacts necessary to communicate the office's status, such as notifying parties of the cessation of normal business; cancel non-essential meetings, conferences, travel, and other previously arranged business; document the status of cases and projects so that they can be resumed, transferred, or otherwise appropriately handled when the Agency's operational status is regularized; complete, approve, and record time and attendance for all employees through last day before the shutdown; perform those tasks necessary to protect confidential information; and perform necessary functions to process all unpaid and due bills on hand for obligations incurred prior to the shutdown. It is anticipated that these activities will take approximately four (4) hours.

Non-excepted telework and remote workers may conduct shutdown activities remotely.

After performing the functions necessary for an orderly suspension of non-excepted operations, employees performing “non-excepted” activities will be furloughed. Managers are reminded that the Federal Government cannot accept voluntary services; therefore, no employee may work if he or she is in a non-excepted status. These employees should listen to the news for information about the appropriation. USAGM will post information about the status of the shutdown on the USAGM website, www.USAGM.gov, and provide information about when furloughed employees should report to work. The USAGM has also established a phone line (202-920-4357) where employees may call in to determine the status of the shutdown. Furloughed personnel may continue to monitor their USAGM email accounts for up to date information on shutdown related matters only if another Continuing Resolution (CR) or an appropriation bill is enacted (passed by the House and the Senate and signed by the President), employees will be directed to report back to work on their next scheduled workday, unless otherwise told to do so earlier (e.g., in rare cases recalled from furlough for excepted work).

B. Personnel

HR staff will coordinate the electronic delivery of furlough notices to the employee's official USAGM email. The electronic notice requests a reply acknowledgment from the employee. Employees are authorized to use Government-issued laptops and mobile devices and to monitor their USAGM email accounts for shutdown related matters only.

If the employee does not have Government-issued equipment, is unable to monitor their Government email, or does not acknowledge receipt of their furlough notice within a week of distribution, an email will be sent to their respective personal email for notification of furlough actions (if their personal email is available).

The CFO will examine the text of any subsequent appropriation or continuing resolution to determine if Congress has authorized retroactive pay for employees.

1. Furlough Decision Notice Due to Lapse of Appropriations (5 CFR PART 752)

The text of the notice of furlough appears below:

In the absence of either a Fiscal Year (FY) 2024 appropriation, or a continuing resolution for the U.S. Agency for Global Media (USAGM) (formerly the Broadcasting Board of Governors), no further financial obligations may be incurred by USAGM, except for those related to the orderly suspension of USAGM operations or performance of excepted activities as defined in the Office of Management and Budget memorandum for Heads of Executive Departments and Agencies dated November 17, 1981 and subsequent guidance. Because your services are no longer needed for orderly suspension of operations and you are not engaged in one of the excepted functions, you are being placed in a furlough status effective four (4) hours after the beginning of your first daily tour of duty beginning on or after [insert date here]. This furlough, i.e., non-duty, non-pay status, is not expected to exceed 30 calendar days. Therefore, this furlough notice expires on [insert date here].

You should monitor public broadcasts and USAGM.gov for further information. Furloughed personnel may continue to monitor their USAGM email accounts for up-to-date information on shutdown related matters only. When you hear that a continuing resolution or a Fiscal Year 2024 appropriation that covers USAGM has been approved, you will be expected to return to work at the beginning of your daily tour of duty on your next regular duty workday.

This action is being taken because of a sudden emergency requiring curtailment of the Agency's activities; therefore, no advance notification is possible. The customary 30-day advance notice period and opportunity to answer are suspended under the provisions of 5 CFR 752.404(d)(2). The 30-day advance notice otherwise required by 5 CFR 359.806(a) for Senior Executive Service (SES) career appointees (other than reemployed annuitants) has been waived due to a sudden emergency requiring curtailment of activities.

If employees are being retained in your competitive level or competitive area, they are retained because their services are required during the orderly suspension of agency operations or because they are performing one of the excepted activities defined in the OMB memorandum.

U.S. Agency for Global Media (USAGM) Shutdown Guidance

During the furlough period, you will be in a non-pay, non-duty status and you may not work at your workplace or any alternative worksite unless and until recalled. You are not permitted to work as an unpaid volunteer. Any paid leave (annual, sick, court, etc.) approved for use during the furlough period is hereby cancelled.

After the lapse ends, you will receive your “standard rate of pay” for the furlough period in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 1341(c) as soon as possible. (This means that employees who would have been in pay status but for the lapse in appropriations will receive their full regular pay for any furlough period.)

FILING WITH THE MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD

Employees who have completed a probationary or trial period or one (1) year of current continuous employment in the competitive service under other than a temporary appointment limited to one (1) year or less may appeal this action to the Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB). GS employees in the excepted service who have veteran’s preference may appeal to the MSPB if they have completed one (1) year of current continuous service in the same or similar positions as the one now held. GS Employees in the excepted service who do not have veteran’s preference and who are not serving a probationary or trial period under an initial appointment pending conversion to the competitive service may appeal to the MSPB if they have completed two (2) years of current continuous service in the same or similar positions in an Executive agency under other than a temporary appointment limited to two (2) years or less.

Career SES appointees (except reemployed annuitants) who believe requirements of 5 CFR part 359, subpart H, or the Agency's procedures have not been correctly applied may also appeal to MSPB. Career SES appointees may inspect the regulations and records pertinent to this action in the Office of Human Resources.

You may file an appeal electronically through the MSPB website (<https://e-appeal.mspb.gov/>.) If you opt to file in this manner, you should follow the link to e-Appeal. The date of filing shall be determined by the date the appeal is postmarked, the date of the facsimile transmission, the date it is delivered to a commercial overnight delivery service, the date you send it electronically, or the date of receipt, if you deliver it personally.). If you are unable to access this information through the internet, please contact the Office of Human Resources, at (202) 920-2400, and arrangements will be made to provide you with this information.

You may seek corrective action before the Office of Special Counsel (OSC), www.osc.gov. If you choose to seek corrective action concerning whistleblowing activities directly with the OSC and not as affirmative defense to a MSPB appeal, OSC will notify you of its decision, including providing any appeal rights to the MSPB you may have at that time. Any appeal to the MSPB at that time must be filed within 60 days of notification that OSC has terminated its investigation or 120 days after seeking corrective action and OSC has not notified you that it shall seek corrective action on your behalf. If you appeal to the MSPB after first going to the OSC, the MSPB may only consider whether the Agency's action was taken against you in retaliation for making prohibited whistleblowing disclosures. You are prohibited from raising other affirmative defenses in this corrective action appeal.

You have the right to contact the Agency's Office of Civil Rights to initiate an EEO complaint within forty-five (45) calendar days from the date of receipt of this letter if you believe that the Agency is taking this action because of your race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age, genetic information, or in retaliation for your previous participation in the EEO process. You may either pursue discrimination allegations through the EEO process or you may raise discrimination based upon race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age, genetic information, or retaliation for your previous participation in the EEO process as a defense in the MSPB appeal, but not both.

If you are a bargaining unit employee covered either by the AGFE, Local 1812 or the AFSCME, Local 1418 Negotiated Labor Management Agreement (NLMA), you may file a grievance regarding this action under the applicable grievance procedures of the NLMA between your exclusive representative and this Agency or you may appeal to the MSPB in accordance with the procedures outlined above, but not both. You may contact your AFGE or AFSCME Local officials for more information on filing a grievance under the negotiated grievance procedure.

Filing a grievance will not extend the time limit for filing an appeal with the Board. These rights are described in the Code of Federal Regulations, 5 C.F.R. § 1201.21. If you are an AFSA bargaining unit member, you may use the grievance procedures under 3 FAM 4400.

If you are an AFGE, Local 1812 bargaining unit member, selection of the Negotiated Grievance Procedure does not prejudice your right to request MSPB review of the final decision pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 7702. If you are an AFSCME bargaining unit member and you allege that this action is based on discrimination as discussed above, you must appeal to either the MSPB or the EEOC.

Any communication from the MSPB, including the Acknowledgement Order and a copy of the appeal, should be sent to:

2. Hiring and Recruitment during the Furlough

An immediate hiring freeze will apply during a lapse in appropriations. Entry-on-duty dates for prospective employees with employment offers are suspended until the funding lapse is over. No new job offers may be made.

NOTE: All non-excepted personnel support activities are suspended.

3. Foreign Service Nationals (FSNs) /Foreign National Personal Services Contracts (FS PSCs) /Locally Employed Staff (LES)

Foreign Service Nationals, Personal Service Agreements (PSAs), Foreign National Personal Services Contracts personnel, or Locally Employed Staff may, under local foreign law, be required to be paid whether or not work is performed. For these cases, the USAGM entity lead must notify the USAGM CFO and USAGM General Counsel of these cases for a resolution. FSNs, PSAs, FS PSCs, and LES employees may be authorized by USAGM to continue work if they can be supervised properly. Supervisory American staff may not be justified as “excepted” employees during a furlough solely on the basis of their supervisory role; their “excepted” status must be independently justified based on the categories of excepted activities discussed above. If supervisory staffs are not excepted and FSNs, PSAs, FS PSCs, and LES employees cannot operate without such supervision, these employees must be put on administrative leave.

4. Part-Time and Intermittent Employees

For part-time employees, time spent in non-pay, non-work status will be prorated based upon the number of hours normally worked during a pay period.

Intermittent employees are non-full-time employees without a regularly scheduled tour of duty. This group of employees may be called to work during a furlough only to perform excepted functions.

5. Rotation of Personnel

There may be instances where the USAGM or entity leadership determine will need to have a rotation of personnel to accomplish excepted activities. Rotations are discouraged for several reasons, including that rotations may affect the eligibility of individuals for unemployment compensation, may impair continuity in USAGM functions, and may entail an unnecessary administrative workload required to bring employees in and out of furlough status. Even though rotations are discouraged, there may be the need to bring furloughed employees into excepted status and as well as change excepted personnel to furloughed status.

Should the shutdown extend longer than a few days, VOA, OCB, TSI, or USAGM Mission Support senior management should be consulted regarding whether rotations of personnel are warranted. Any such requests will be provided in writing. These decisions will be made on a case-by-case basis. Decisions on rotations must be made on the basis of the USAGM's needs related to the positions needed to carry out the excepted activities and the qualifications of individual employees in those positions. Any rotation of personnel decisions will be made by the USAGM CEO, VOA Director, OCB Director, TSI Director, Chief Management Officer, or their designated representatives and will be based solely on the requirement for providing continuing services of the USAGM.

Additionally, USAGM Offices should submit excepted/furlough status changes using provided template to OCFO and HR. Templates will be used to update the master employee status list.

C. Time and Attendance Reporting

During a lapse of funding, appropriations are not available for the payment of any obligation, including payroll. A subsequent continuing resolution or the FY 2024 appropriations bill must contain a provision that authorizes payments for payroll obligations incurred during the shutdown period. Until the appropriation is passed, the exact terms of the provision, including retroactive compensation for furloughed employees, remain unknown.

Accurate time and attendance records should be maintained for all excepted employees utilizing processes in place in each office to record time worked and each excepted employee must badge in and out of the building. This includes the requirement that excepted employees continue the normal time and attendance documentation process, to include recording their time in WebTA.

The following guidance should be utilized only if a subsequent continuing resolution or the FY 2024 appropriations bill contains provisions for retroactive compensation for furloughed employees. Additional guidance will be provided if no appropriations bill or continuing resolution is passed to provide retroactive compensation. Additional guidance for timekeepers will be transmitted to the CFO Timekeepers group email distribution.

1. Telework

During a lapse in funding resulting in a government shutdown, supervisors may need to limit employees' ability to telework due to changes in employee work assignments, changed needs for in-office staff coverage, or other unique circumstances. In the event of a shutdown, the Agency's Telework Policy still governs telework by excepted employees, including a supervisor's discretion to cancel scheduled telework days, a supervisor's discretion to deny requests for situational telework, and an employee's responsibility to report to the office whenever the supervisor informs the employee that his/her physical presence is required. Provided that changed circumstances do not affect an excepted employee's ability to telework, excepted employees with regular telework schedules may be allowed to telework on the days specified in their telework agreements.

2. Remote work

During a lapse in funding resulting in a government shutdown, the Agency's Remote Work policy still applies.

3. Pay for the Furlough Period

For the furlough period, employees must receive the same compensation they would have received had they performed their normal duties. Once new legislation is enacted, we will inform you whether to implement this guidance. Therefore, allowances, differentials, and other payments will be paid as if an employee actually continued to work. Unless the new legislation overrides existing statutes and regulations, the only exception to this rule would be Sunday Premium Pay, which is only paid to eligible employees who are scheduled to work during Sunday and actually worked on that day.

4. Reporting Hours during the Furlough Period

During the lapse in appropriations, employees must be either (1) at work performing excepted activities, or (2) furloughed. They, therefore, cannot be in a paid leave status (i.e., annual leave, sick leave, other paid leave, or compensatory time off) during that period, unless stated in OMB or OPM updated guidance. Normal hours worked during the furlough period by excepted employees should be reported as regular duty hours. Except as provided below, absences resulting from the furlough of non-excepted employees should be reported as administrative leave. These absences should not be charged to regular duty hours or any form of paid leave (i.e., annual leave, sick leave, other paid leave, or compensatory time off). If an excepted employee had an emergency which precluded them from working, the absence should be reported as time in a furlough status. In the case of employees who were on approved leave without pay during the lapse of appropriations, these absences must continue to be charged to leave without pay.

5. Reporting Time for the First Workday of a Lapse and Subsequent Days with a Lapse in Appropriations

Special attention should be paid to reporting time and attendance for employees for the first workday of a lapse since the shutdown may occur during the workday and non-excepted employees may have worked varying periods of time before departing on furlough. A determination should be made on the amount of time each non-excepted employee worked on the first furlough day. The remaining period of time in the employee's duty day would then be considered furlough time and must be reported as furlough time (for timekeepers: hour type code "KE"), even if the employee had been previously scheduled to take paid leave later in the day.

D. Contracts

As the GAO has long recognized, funding gaps due to lapses in appropriations raise particularly thorny issues in the area of contractual commitments, where generally applicable ADA requirements may be in apparent conflict with orderly shutdown activities and with continuation of excepted functions.

The following guidance provides a framework for consistent treatment of contractual commitments by USAGM during a shutdown that will minimize ultimate costs and disruptions.

1. Previously awarded contracts that continue in performance during a lapse in appropriations and have adequate funding previously obligated to permit continued performance during a shutdown period should generally be permitted to continue unless adequate oversight of contractor performance during a shutdown period cannot be accomplished or the goods or services are not deemed necessary during a shutdown. If adequate monitoring of contractor performance cannot be provided, suspension or reduction in performance of non-excepted services should be considered if authorized by the terms of the contract or if the contractor will negotiate such a suspension or reduction. Care should be taken not to incur unnecessary costs or jeopardize USAGM's future contractual rights by unilateral stop work orders or directions to reduce the scope of work that are not authorized by the terms of the contract or that will cause the contractor to incur costs that could subsequently be charged to the government. In conjunction with the respective Contracting Officer, offices should review contracts to determine whether suspension or reduction in performance of non-excepted services is authorized by the terms of the contract. Contracting Officers should coordinate any such adjustments to the contracts, as appropriate.
2. For previously awarded contracts and leases that (in the absence of funding) require renewal or modification during a lapse in appropriations, obligation of additional funds for continued performance may be authorized only if necessary to support excepted activities authorized for continuance under USAGM's shutdown plan. The necessity for such renewals or modifications must be certified to the Contracting Officer by the USAGM CEO or Delegate, VOA Director, OCB Director, TSI Director, or Chief Management Officer, as appropriate, and authorized on a case-by-case basis by the CFO. Requests must be accompanied by a written statement/justification of the basis for such necessity as well as the statement signed by the appropriate Director: "The obligation is necessary to carryout excepted activities in the absence of an appropriation." Incurring unfunded obligations for such services during a funding gap does not violate the ADA, but payment of such unfunded obligations must be deferred until appropriations are provided by the Congress. Unfunded contractual commitments should be kept to the minimum cost and duration that will meet the essential need.
3. New contractual commitments during a lapse in appropriations may be made only if necessary to support excepted activities authorized for continuance under USAGM's shutdown plan. The necessity for such renewals or modifications must be certified to the Contracting Officer by the USAGM CEO or Delegate, USAGM Chief of Staff, VOA Director, TSI Director, OCB Director, or Chief Management Officer, as appropriate, and authorized on a case-by-case basis by the CFO. Requests must be accompanied by a written statement/justification of the basis for such necessity as well as the statement signed by the appropriate Director: "The obligation is necessary to carryout excepted activities in the absence of an appropriation.” Unfunded contractual commitments should be kept to the minimum cost and duration that will meet the essential need.

4. No new grants or cooperative agreements may be entered into during the period of a lapse in appropriations. This includes travel grants.
5. Foreign national personnel with personal services contracts/agreements should be treated in the same manner as FSN direct hires, where local labor law necessitates. Any Personal Services Contractors should be treated in a similar manner as similarly situated civil service or Foreign Service employees, retaining only if necessary to perform an excepted activity.

E. Obligations and Disbursements

No obligations, or adjustments to existing obligations, may be incurred against USAGM annual accounts during any lapse of appropriations. However, during a funding lapse, obligations may continue to be incurred for excepted activities only and must only be incurred for the minimum amounts necessary. All USAGM personnel must operate under strict constraints that ensure USAGM is in compliance with GAO, OMB, and OPM guidelines.

While USAGM has legal authority to incur obligations to continue excepted activities during a lapse in appropriations, obligations cannot be formally recorded in Momentum (USAGM Financial System of Record), as there are no funds to record the obligations against. Such obligations must be kept to a minimum and must be manually tracked and immediately recorded in the financial management system when USAGM appropriations are received. All paper documents are official records and must be scanned and attached to the financial transaction in the financial management system when appropriations are received.

Payments may not be processed or disbursed during a lapse period, if the United States Treasury is part of the funding lapse.

All obligations, adjustments to obligations, and obligating documents issued during the lapse period must be approved by the USAGM CEO or Delegate, VOA Director, TSI Director, OCB Director, Chief Management Officer, or CFO, as appropriate, and have the following statement affixed and signed by the appropriate Director: “This obligation is necessary to carry out excepted activities in the absence of an appropriation.” This should be accompanied by a written justification on how the transaction qualifies under the “excepted” activities. All paper documents are official records and must be scanned and attached to the financial transaction in the financial management system when appropriations are received. These excepted activities will be documented on the template provided by the OCFO. Each excepted activity document will have the entity leader, or designated representative signature, an approval signature from the USAGM OGC, and an approval signature from the CFO, Deputy CFO, or Budget Director. Without these approval signatures, this activity WILL NOT be considered excepted activities and will not proceed. The template for these transactions can be obtained from the USAGM CFO Office Budget Division.

F. Travel

Travel should be limited to that absolutely necessary for emergencies involving the safety of human life or the protection of property or that considered absolutely necessary for the creation, production or distribution of USAGM programming which has been deemed to constitute the conduct of foreign relations essential to the national security. All other travel plans (non- excepted activities) should be suspended.

All travel authorizations must be approved by the USAGM CEO or Delegate, VOA Director, OCB Director, TSI Director, Chief Management Officer, or CFO, as appropriate. The template for these transactions can be obtained from the USAGM CFO Budget Division.

Travel should not be initiated unless clearly in support of an excepted activity. If personnel are in travel status overseas at the time of the lapse but are not performing excepted activities, they should stop work and await further instructions. Because funding for overseas travel is obligated when the travel commences or when any cost is incurred for the travel (i.e., prior to the lapse), and because it is likely that any hiatus in funding will be temporary, managers should not instruct personnel in non-excepted travel status abroad to return to their home duty stations, unless otherwise directed. If such personnel are not performing excepted activities, they should be furloughed.

Personnel in domestic travel status who are not performing excepted functions should make arrangements to return to their duty station city as soon as practicable. Personnel in domestic travel status who are performing excepted functions may continue.

*NOTE: During a lapse in appropriations, it is anticipated that United States Department of State Passport and Visa operations will be suspended, except for emergency reasons.

G. Training

In accordance with the shutdown plan, employees enrolled in training should not attend class. This applies to all training, whether conducted by USAGM employees or contractors.

Those domestic personnel in training who are designated as necessary to perform “excepted functions” should return to their positions; those not so designated will be furloughed.

H. Representation Events

It is important to consider the perception of a representation event during a government shutdown.

- 1. Domestic Representation - As a general rule, no domestic representation events should be held during the shutdown period. Events already scheduled should be cancelled and no new events planned until the shutdown is over. The USAGM CEO or Delegate, or CFO may authorize a domestic representation event only if it is necessary to support excepted activities. Any such request for representation funds must be previously approved by the VOA Director, TSI

Director, OCB Director, or Chief Management Officer, as appropriate.

2. Overseas Representation - As a general rule, no overseas representation events should be held during a shutdown period. The USAGM CEO or Delegate, , or CFO may authorize a representation event abroad only if it is necessary to support excepted activities. Any such request for representation funds must be previously approved by the VOA Director, TSI Director, OCB Director, or Chief Management Officer, as appropriate.

I. Communications

If there is no resolution of the budget situation on the last day before a lapse in appropriations and as directed by Office of Management and Budget, a house announcement will be issued via e-mail and a notice will be placed on www.USAGM.gov with an update. If a government shutdown is ordered at midnight, all employees must report to work on the first regularly scheduled workday to ensure an orderly closure of non-excepted activities.

Non-excepted employees will perform only those tasks necessary such as:

- Completing and submitting your timesheet for work performed through the current pay period;
- Safeguarding property, records, and information;
- Securing files; making external contacts necessary to communicate the office's status, such as notifying parties of the cessation of normal business;
- Cancelling non-essential meetings, conferences, and other previously arranged business and travel;
- Documenting the status of cases and projects so that they can be resumed, transferred, or otherwise appropriately handled when the Agency's operational status is regularized;
- Performing those tasks necessary to protect confidential information;
- Approving and processing all timesheets;
- Processing contractual stop work orders as needed;
- Processing all unpaid and due bills on hand for obligations incurred prior to the shutdown, and
- Setting up out of office voice/email messages.

It is expected that these activities will take no longer than four (4) hours.

U.S. Agency for Global Media (USAGM) Shutdown Guidance

Those who work atypical schedules, such as Saturdays/Sundays or weekday hours outside the period of 8:15 AM to 5:00 PM, should confer with their first-line supervisors to obtain a shutdown notice and carry out shutdown activities.

A contractor may continue to work provided that the contract or order has sufficient funds, and that an excepted employee is available to accept the supplies or services that are required by the contract or order and they have not been notified by the office of contracts to stop work.

After performing the functions necessary for an orderly suspension of non-excepted operations, employees designated as non-excepted will be furloughed. Managers are reminded that the United States Government cannot accept voluntary services; therefore, work cannot be accepted from any non- excepted employees during a furlough. The Agency will create a standard out-of-office message for use on the e-mail accounts of all furloughed employees. Furloughed personnel may continue to monitor their USAGM email accounts for up to date information on shutdown related matters only.
