Corrected to add updated links for radar monitoring web pages as follows:

WNG Current Site Data Link -----	Replacement Link ----- weather.noaa.gov/monitor/radar3	http://radar3pub.ncep.noaa.gov
weather.noaa.gov/monitor/radar2	http://radar2pub.ncep.noaa.gov

Corrected to change disable date to August 3, 2016.

The NWS will eliminate the web service found at the following address, effective August 3, 2016:

<http://weather.noaa.gov>

Comments on this change were requested via the following notice:

https://www.weather.gov/media/notification/pdfs/pns16-05decommissioning_web.pdf

After addressing all questions, comments and feedback, a decision was made to terminate the service.

This legacy website was launched over a decade ago to provide accessibility to NWS weather products for the general public. The WNG website will be decommissioned as part of the NWSTG Re-Architecture project. The WNG website is obsolete because NWS weather.gov site is now the primary hub for NWS web services and data products. A list of options available for obtaining weather data normally found via the WNG URL is provided below.
