Cool, clear, light south wind.

COMMENT: Sun Sep 21 16:59:19 GMT 1997

Late startup. Truck coming downhill ran me off the road into the lava about 5 miles down the road. No one hurt, no apparent damage to the GSA car. Took a while to move all of the large rocks so I could back the car back onto the pavement. I had to get completely off the road to avoid a head-on with this truck as the driver had completely lost control and was heading straight for me on my side of the road.

MKIII COMMENT: Sun Sep 21 17:28:31 GMT 1997

Dark shutter wasn't all the way out. This was causing the "smudge" in the north.

Opal did not go out during Calibrate.

MKIII COMMENT: Sun Sep 21 18:39:37 GMT 1997

Dark shutter went in OK, but had to do an OK to get barrel started as in the other cal scans.

Redoing Cal with Opal in (stationary) in all scans. 0-Tilt scan shows a funny in the northeast due to my putting the snout back on and opening up the dust cap while the cal was in progress.
