Alice readjusted socketcam and I will be starting up Kcor with the lens cover in to see how everything went.

GENERAL OBSERVATORY COMMENT BY waters: Fri Jul 10 19:30:57 GMT 2015

Ran Kcor for about three minutes. Upon stopping, socketcam gave this out:

*brdclse.h in threadsforavgng Brd0 cleanup error has occurred. Brd1 clean up error has occurred. Restarting avgng program with 'avgng stop' socketcam sending 'cam ready avgng' socketcam rcv error socketcam RecvSignalsThread ending.

Socketcam didn't crash and I was able to restart Kcor with no problems. That error did show up when I stopped the program again and also when I quit socketcam.

So those extra error messages in socketcam that I mentioned above are normal now. Thank you Alice!
