KCOR COMMENT BY berkey: Fri Jan 22 18:31:39 GMT 2016

O1 and field lens inspection found a rather dirty O1 and relatively clean field lens. Both optics blown off which should re move the artifcats from the images.

GENERAL COMMENT BY berkey: Fri Jan 22 18:34:26 GMT 2016

During cleaning when I bumped the spar (18:22ut) it started osscillating, a series of open/close loop bumps brought got it stable again.

Back to science!

GONG COMMENT BY berkey: Fri Jan 22 19:15:32 GMT 2016

Swapping the 147S yesterday didn't solve the problem in the gong shelter. Command and VME boards were swapped today per-r equest from GONG HQ, hopefully that fixed it.

Nice helmet head streemers near PA 70 and PA300. THE PA70 does not appear to be associated with disk/limb activity.

GENERAL COMMENT BY berkey: Fri Jan 22 20:41:44 GMT 2016

Cloud/dome sensors mounted. The Dome and south cloud sensors appear to be working properly but we are having an issue wit h the North sensor. We will troubleshoot this after local noon as it is currentlty difficult to reach while pointed at the sun.

The North sensor failure mode is such that it still allows the automatic dome roration to work

GENERAL OBSERVATORY COMMENT BY waters: Sat Jan 23 00:32:35 GMT 2016

Dome Rotator Key has been put in the toolbox that belongs in the doghouse. I put it in the Electronic Equip drawer and has blue tape on the package that says 'Dome Rotator Key' on it. The key itself has green tape on it.
