GENERAL COMMENT BY berkey: Wed Jun 03 21:47:01 GMT 2020

Lost guiding during the kcor cal. Looks like the spar is too far out of balance in DEC and I left the clutch too loose this morning. Tightened the clutch up a bit and removed the 10# counterweight installed on the north face of the spar that was installed May 1st to put the spar out of balance to try and address the DEC deadband issue.

Nice data of data.

Watching Venus moving thru the corona north of the sun over the course of the day was nice.
