GENERAL COMMENT BY lisapg: Wed Jun 15 23:54:14 GMT 2022
Did some water hose pressure tests with Paul. He was able to daisy chain some hoses to reach our North facing porch. Without a pump installed in between, we got a stream of water about 40 seconds per gallon; with the pump, we got about 20 seconds per gallon. He's thinking one more 50ft hose would reach to our door facing the West.

No a great day to take data; a lot of cirrus coming in from the Southwest had only a few openings to take data and the rest of the day looks like full coverage of cirrus. Hopefully tomorrow is better.
