Point patrons in the right direction with the Directional Arrow Sign. This functional and weather-proof sign is mounted onto a base and easily arranged on your path or along the walkways of your recreational space. The sign is 37.5" high and can be moved inside once it's done being used to increase the longevity of your investment. Our Directional Sign proves to be a great resource for schools, parks, and community centers--especially those undergoing changes in path management or landscaping--and is easy to store and clean. Remember: any trike path must be placed outside of the use zone to insure safety of your riders and pedestrians.
