African Centre for Disease Control	It was formally established in January 2015 by the AU Assembly. A Multinational Taskforce has been created to oversee the development of its , mandate/scope, nature and legal framework by June 2015. The Coordination Office is to be housed initially at the AU headquarters. The recent outbreak of Ebola in some west African countries highlighted the need for its immediate set-up
African Climate Change Fund	It was established in April 2014 under the auspices of the African Development Fund (AfDF). It received initial financial support from the government of the Federal Republic of Germany. Its main objective is to assist African governments, Non-Governmental Organizations, regional institutions, research organizations etc in addressing the issue of climate change and its associated challenges.
African Education Observatory	As per the draft statutes, when established the African Education Observatory will be constituted by the Pan African Education Institute for Development (Kinshasa), the International Centre for Girls and Women's Education in Africa (Ouagadougou) and collaborative relationships with the Association for Educational Development in Africa, UNESCO and UNICEF in addition to others. To be located within the Pan African Education Institute for Development in Africa, it will amongst others: develop an integrated data base of African Education; conduct educational policy analysis; develop early warning systems for triggering policy shifts in education development and management; provide advisory services and technical assistance to member states; promote the use of Educational Information Management Systems; create a platform for networking and sharing of best practices in education.
African Minerals Development Center	It was established to support the implementation of the Africa Mining Vision adopted by the AU through the Executive Council's Decision on the Development and Management of Africa's Mineral Resources [EX.CL/ Dec.471(XIV)].
African Mining Vision	Developed through a consultative process by theAUC/ UNECA/ AfDB in 2009 aims for the continent "a transparent, equitable, and optimal exploitation of mineral resources to underpin broad based sustainable growth and socio-economic development on the continent" . This is to be achieved through: creation of down stream (manufacturing), up stream (mining capital goods, consumables and services industry) , side stream (power, logistics, water, communications) linkages for mineral beneficiation; building of mutually beneficial partnership between the state, private sector and civil society in the exploitation of mineral wealth and developing capacity for building a comprehensive knowledge base of member states mineral resources and development process.

TERM/NAME	DEFINITION/EXPLANATION
African Peace and Security Architecture	It is a continental framework for the promotion of peace, security and stability in Africa. It is supported by the Protocol relating to the Establishment of the Peace and Security Council of the African Union, and the Common African Defence and Security Policy (CADSP). The Protocol was adopted by the AU assembly on 9 July 2002 in Durban, South Africa, and entered into force in December 2003. CADSP was adopted by the AU Assembly on 28 February 2004 in Sirte, Libya. It is under the overall leadership of the AU Peace and Security Council
African Standby Force	It is one of the pillars of the Peace and Security Council established under Article 13 of the Protocol Relating to the Establishment of the Peace and Security Council of the African Union. It is composed of five brigades from ECOWAS, SADC, ECCAS and Eastern and Northern geographical regions of Africa.
African Summit	Meetings of the Heads of States and Government of the African Union
Assembly Decision	Regulations, directives, declarations, resolutions, opinions, etc that are adopted by the AU Assembly of Heads of States and Government and the Executive Council during their meetings.
AU Policy Organs	The policy organs in order of hierarchy are the Summit (Heads of States and Government) , The Executive Council (Currently the Foreign Ministers of Member States) and The Permanent Representative Council (currently Ambassadors of member states accredited to the AUC and mostly based in Addis Ababa)
The African Vision	The collective foresight of the African Union defined as “building an integrated, prosperous and peaceful Africa, driven by its own Citizens and representing a dynamic force in the international arena”.
Africa’s Blue Economy	It is constituted by all economic activities that emanate from Africa’s oceans, seas / sea beds, lakes, rivers. Example of blue economy activities include: fishing, marine/lake transport/shipping, seabed mining, marine tourism , generation of tidal energy etc.
Basic Education	Education level from early childhood to junior high school
Boosting Intra African Trade (BIAT)	BIAT was adopted by the AU Assembly in January 2012 to provide and ensure the attainment of the full potential /benefits from the envisaged continental free trade areas and custom unions to be created. The seven priority action areas /policies cover the following: trade, trade facilitation, production capacity, trade related infrastructure, trade finance, trade information and factor market integration.

TERM/NAME	DEFINITION/EXPLANATION
Creative Arts Industry	Economic activities I covering the following areas in general: drama/theater, music, film, creative writing, graphic design, photography, visual arts etc
Diversification Index	It provides a summary of the changes in the structure of an economy resulting from diversification of production and export.
Domestic Resource Mobilization (DRM)	Domestic Resource Mobilization (DRM) refers to the savings and investments generated by households, domestic firms, and governments. In contrast to mobilizing external resources (through FDI, aid, trade, and debt relief), DRM offers the advantages of greater domestic policy ownership and greater coherence with domestic needs. It does not suffer from the disadvantages associated with FDI and foreign aid, which are tied to the objectives of foreign investors (e.g. exclusive focus on sectors such as OGM and telecommunication to the detriment of the agriculture sector) and donors (e.g. tied aid and conditional aid).
Executive Council	The Executive Council of the African Union – currently made up of foreign ministers of Member States of the Union. It is the next highest Policy Organ of the Union after the AU Summit
Fast Track Programmes/Projects	These are priority projects / programmes whose immediate implementation and impact are expected to galvanize and sustain the commitment of the African Citizenry to the cause of Agenda 2063. There are 12 such programmes identified and approved by the AU Policy Organs for inclusion in the First Ten Year Implementation Plan. These appear in Text Box 2.1
Generation-based Incentives	(GBI) is an alternative to VGF as VGF is considered not to incentivize enough project developers to build and operate most efficient power plants (namely through the upfront payment). GBI promotes the construction of efficient plants and through its two main structuring options: (i) Feed-in tariff which offers long-term contract to the developer and (ii) off-take agreement that guarantees payment security. Both instill a level of confidence in the financing community to fund the concerned projects.
Gini Co-efficient	It measures the extent to which the distribution of income or consumption expenditure among individuals or households within an economy deviates from a perfectly equal distribution. A Lorenz curve plots the cumulative percentages of total income received against the cumulative number of recipients, starting with the poorest individual or household. The Gini index measures the area between the Lorenz curve and a hypothetical line of absolute equality, expressed as a percentage of the maximum area under the line. Thus a Gini co-efficient of 0 represents perfect equality, while a co-efficient of 100 implies perfect inequality.
Illicit Financial Flows (IFF)	Involve capital that is illegally earned, transferred, or utilized and are unrecorded, unlike broad capital flight which consists of a mix of licit and illicit capital. Import mis-invoicing, capital account restriction, tax evasion through tax base erosion and profit shifting and corruption are found to be among the key drivers of illicit capital flight

Index Insurance	Is a relatively new but innovative approach to insurance provision that pays out benefits on the basis of a pre-determined index (e.g. rainfall level, seismic activity, livestock mortality rates) for loss of assets and investments, primarily working capital, resulting from weather and catastrophic events, without requiring the traditional services of insurance claims assessors. Index insurance is considered to be an effective income poverty alleviation tool for farmers in addition to being a saving mobilization vehicle.
Linguistic Atlas for Africa	An atlas that shows the spatial distribution of African languages on the continent
Micro-insurance	Is a mechanism to protect poor people against risk (e.g. accident, illness, death in the family, and natural disasters) in exchange for payments tailored to their needs, income, and level of risk.
Neo-natal deaths	They are deaths that occur during the first 28 days of life
Official development assistance (ODA):	ODA represent the “flows of official financing to developing countries which have an economic development or anti-poverty purpose and are concessional [interest rate or grace periods more generous than market loans] in character with a grant element of at least 25% (using a fixed 10% rate of discount).”
Public-Private Partnership (PPP)	is about mobilizing private sector money, expertise and capacities for government infrastructure development. I involves a long-term relationship between government and private sector(usually>10years); sharing of risks and rewards (mutualizing profits and losses) with private sector agreeing to performance level.
A pillar assessment	Is an assurance engagement to assess the systems put in place and the controls, rules and procedures applied by the entity for each pillar against the criteria set by the Commission. More specifically, EU pillar assessment looks at the level of standards and best practice adoption in the area of accounting, internal control, audit and procurement.
Project Development Funds (PDF)	Are meant to meet the high project development costs (prefeasibility studies, engineering studies, feasibility studies, business plan and investment memorandum) involved in the process of bringing an infrastructure/PPP project to bankability and investment readiness stage. Project development cost for large-scale infrastructure/PPP projects can represent 5% to 10% of total project investment.
Private equity	Provides equity capital to enterprises not quoted on a stock market. Private equity can be used in venture creation and business development; to develop new products and technologies, to expand working capital; to make acquisitions; to strengthen company’s balance sheet; and in business transmission and control in the form of succession in family-owned businesses or management buy-out (MBO) / management buy-in (MBI). Broadly speaking, there are three categories of private equity: Venture capital : invests in new companies; Buy-out capital or LBO : buys big and small businesses with internal (MBO: management buy-out) or external management (MBI: management buy-in); Mezzanine capital or subordinated debt : This is a capital that ranks below bank debt and above the equity from the LBO (leverage buy-out).

TERM/NAME	DEFINITION/EXPLANATION
PanWise	It is a continental network that brings together panels or bodies of wise Africans under the AU Panel of the Wise umbrella to promote peace, security and stability on the continent.
Permanent Representative Committee	The African Union Committee of Ambassadors and other plenipotentiaries of the AU Member States. It a Policy Organ of the AU and reports to the Executive Council of the AU
Remittance securitization	Typically involves the borrowing entity (such as a bank) pledging its future remittance receivables to an offshore Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV). The SPV issues the debt. Designated correspondent banks are directed to channel remittance flows of the borrowing bank through an offshore collection account managed by a trustee. The collection agent makes principal and interest payments to the investors and sends excess collections to the borrowing bank. Several banks in developing countries (e.g., Brazil) have been able to raise cheaper and longer-term financing from international capital markets via securitization of future remittance flows.
Regional Economic Communities (RECS)	They are the 8 regional economic communities recognized by the African Union. These are: Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa (COMESA); Community of Sahel-Saharan States (CEN-SAD); East African Community (EAC); Economic Community of Central African States (ECCAS); Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS); Inter-Governmental Authority on Development (IGAD); Southern African Development Community (SADC) and the Union of Maghreb States (AMU)
Regional Industrialization Hubs	The concept is yet to be developed but a generalized framework could be : Institutional collaboration of academic, research and development, science and technology practitioners that support value chains, business development and services, innovation and incubation, entrepreneurship to create wealth and employment and strengthen informed advancement of the regions private sector
Regional Power Pools	Coordination of generation of power by member states and their sharing / distribution at the REC level to ensure optimal power availability and use by member states within the REC.
Results Framework for Agenda 2063	It is matrix of different levels of results expected under each of the seven aspirations, the associated goals under each aspiration, the priority areas under each goal and the targets under each priority area for national, regional and continental level interventions. Figure 4.1 provides graphical/ hierarchical presentation of the Agenda 2063 Results Framework. The results framework forms the basis for designing implementation strategies and also the point of reference for the monitoring and evaluation of implementation interventions at the national, regional and continental levels.
Specialized Technical Committee	Ministerial Committees of the AU responsible for coordinating sectorial policies, plans, programmes and performance at the continental level. Some of the STCs are Finance, Economy, Planning and Integration; Education; Health; Infrastructure etc
Ship Call Time	Also called ship turn around time – it is the sum of the time a ship goes through the following events: (i) time it takes to be allowed to birth at the port (ii) time it takes to unload/load cargo and (iii) time it takes to leave port after completion of unloading /loading of cargo.

TERM/NAME	DEFINITION/EXPLANATION
Social Protection Policies	The AU Social Policy Framework for Africa encourages member states to adopt minimum social protection policies covering the following: essential health care, social insurance, social welfare, employment guarantee and non-contributory cash transfer schemes for children, informal workers, the unemployed, elder persons and persons with disabilities. Member States are expected to formulate an implement their minimum social protection policies along the above dimensions.
“Takaful” or Ethical Insurance	Is a mutual insurance scheme where members contribute money into a pooling system in order to guarantee each other against loss or damage.
The African Peer Review Mechanism	It was initiated in 2002 and established in 2003 by the African Union in the framework of the implementation of the New Partnership for Africa’s Development (NEPAD). The objectives of the APRM are primarily to foster the adoption of policies, standards and practices that lead to political stability, high economic growth, sustainable development and accelerated subregional and continental economic integration through experience sharing and reinforcement of successful and best practices, including identifying deficiencies and assessment of requirements for capacity building.
Total Factor Productivity	It is the portion of an output of an economy / sector of an economy not explained by the amount of inputs (eg labor, land, capital) used in production. As such its level is determined by how efficiently and intensely the inputs are utilized in production. For example, doubling total factor productivity in crude terms means- double output for the same amount of labor, land and capital currently being utilized.
Transformation Index	It provides a summary of the changes in the structure of an economy resulting from (i) diversification of production and exports (ii) export competitiveness (iii) productivity increases (iv) technology upgrading and (v) human economic well being. (See annex 1 2014 African Transformation Report for computational process)
A venture capital (VC)	Is, strictly speaking, a subset of private equity and refers to equity investments made for the launch, early development, or expansion of an unproven business. Typically, the business will be a new and potentially promising (i.e. high expected return) but unproven (i.e. high risk) business idea. Hence, VC has a particular emphasis on entrepreneurial undertakings rather than on mature businesses.
Viability Gap Funding (VGF):	The Viability Gap Funding scheme provides financial support in the form of grants, one time or deferred, or other incentives to infrastructure projects undertaken through PPPs with a view to make them commercially viable. Indeed, there are many projects with high economic returns, but with financial returns that may not be adequate for a profit-seeking investor. For instance, a rural road connecting several villages to the nearby town would yield huge economic benefits by integrating these villages with the market economy, but because of low incomes it may not be possible to charge an adequate level of user fee. In such a situation, the project is unlikely to get private investment. In such cases, the government can pitch in and meet a portion of the cost, making the project viable. This method is known as viability gap funding (VGF).
Water Productivity	Simply put it is the money earned from using a cubic meter of water in production in any sector an economy – agriculture, mining, energy etc.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Over the past 50 years (1963-2013) Africa focused her collective on the decolonization, the struggle against apartheid and attainment of political independence for the continent. On the occasion of the golden jubilee (May 2013) of the Organization of African Unity (OAU)/African Union (AU) which spearheaded the decolonization process, the continent re-dedicated herself to the attainment of the Pan African Vision of An integrated, prosperous and peaceful Africa, driven by its own citizens, representing a dynamic force in the international arena. To achieve this vision, the Golden Jubilee Summit of the Union came up with a solemn declaration in eight areas spanning: social and economic development; integration, democratic governance and peace and security amongst others as the planks of the vision.

In order to make the solemn declaration a reality and within the context of the AU Vision, the Golden Jubilee Summit of the Union directed the African Union Commission (AUC), supported by the New Partnership for Africa's Development (NEPAD) Planning and Coordinating Agency (NPCA), the African Development Bank (AfDB) and the UN Economic Commission for Africa (UNECA), to prepare a continental 50-year agenda through a people-driven process outlining the Africa We Want, namely Agenda 2063.

The Seven Aspirations

- Aspiration 1: A prosperous Africa based on inclusive growth and sustainable development.
- Aspiration 2: An integrated continent; politically united and based on the ideals of Pan-Africanism and the vision of Africa's Renaissance.
- Aspiration 3: An Africa of good governance, democracy, respect for human rights, justice and the rule of law.
- Aspiration 4: A peaceful and secure Africa.
- Aspiration 5: An Africa with a strong cultural identity, common heritage, shared values and ethics.
- Aspiration 6: An Africa, whose development is people-driven, relying on the potential of African people, especially its women and youth, and caring for children.
- Aspiration 7: Africa as a strong, united, resilient and influential global player and partner.

After the adoption of the Agenda 2063 Framework Document by the Summit in January 2015 as the basis for Africa's long term socio-economic and integrative transformation, it directed the AUC to prepare the First Ten Year Implementation Plan of Agenda 2063 (2013 – 2023). This plan, the first in a series of five ten year plans over the fifty year horizon was adopted by the Summit in June 2015 as a basis for the preparation of medium term development plans of member states of the Union, the Regional Economic Communities and the AU Organs.

SCOPE OF THE FIRST TEN-YEAR IMPLEMENTATION PLAN

The plan document comprises seven chapters:

1. Introduction: Covers the context, purpose and foundation and preparatory process. It situates the plan within the context of Agenda 2063 and highlights its foundations as the AU Vision, The AU 50th Anniversary Solemn Declaration and the Seven African Aspirations with the purpose of providing a common results framework for Africa's socio-economic transformation within the first ten years of the 50 year horizon.

2. Goals and Priority Areas: Looks at the current development situation in the seven aspirational areas and provides the selection criteria for Goals and Priority Areas which form the basis for the plan framework; lastly it provides a snap shot of Africa in 2023 when all the set goals and targets have been attained.
3. Plan Framework It outlines for each of the 7 aspirations - the goals, the priority areas for each goal, the target(s) for 2023 (national, regional and continental) , the indicative strategies and key process actions/ milestones towards 2023 on continental frameworks (e.g. PIDA, CAADP).
4. Implementation Plan: It presents the principles (e.g. diversity, subsidiarity, inclusiveness, results orientation, leveraging of existing institutions) which will guide all stakeholders in the implementation of the First Ten Year Implementation Plan, the key stakeholders – national/ sub-national, RECs and AUC, PAP, ECA, AfDB etc. are identified and their roles indicated; timelines, policy guidelines for execution of key implementation activities and issues related to capacity and communication are presented.
5. Monitoring and Evaluation: It outlines the rationale for an M&E, structure of results framework, policy guidelines on M&E and knowledge and experience sharing required for the successful execution of the ten year plan.
6. Financing: It identifies the financing need of the First Ten Years together with the facilitative measures that will ensure funds availability; it also presents the implementation arrangements which will ensure funds availability.
7. Partnerships: It outlines the recommendations on partnerships with respect to having an AU common position on partnerships, measures to maximize Africa’s benefits from partnerships and deepening of transformative benefits from partnerships

There are six annexes in addition to the seven chapters:

1. Policy Guidelines on Implementation Monitoring and Evaluation
2. The First Ten Year Plan: Implementation Timeline
3. Linkages/Commonalities between AU Agenda 2063 and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)
4. Profile of Flagship Projects/Programmes
5. Critical Success Factors, Potential Risks and Mitigation Strategies
6. Funding Needs and Potential Sources of Funding

In summary the document seeks to : identify priority areas, their associated targets / expected outcomes and indicative strategies to stakeholders; highlight the fast track programmes/ projects that will bring quick wins and generate and sustain the interest of the African Citizenry in the African Agenda; assign responsibilities and accountabilities to all stakeholders in the implementation, monitoring and evaluation of the plan and outline the strategies required to ensure resource and capacity availability and sustained citizen’s engagement for plan execution.

GOALS AND PRIORITY AREAS FOR THE FIRST TEN YEAR IMPLEMENTATION PLAN

Determinants of the goals and priority areas

Agenda 2063 is a 50 year strategic document and hence priorities had to be set within it for the First Ten Year Implementation Plan. The goals, priority areas within a goal and targets within a priority area were to a large extent influenced by four factors:

1. Flagship Projects: All the flagship projects and programmes approved by the AU Summit are included in the First Ten Year Implementation Plan. The African Citizenry through the consultations in the preparation of the 50 year framework document and supported by the AU Summit came out with 12 programmes/projects which they will like to see implemented immediately even before the adoption of the First Ten Year Implementation Plan

Flagship Programmes/Projects of Agenda 2063

- Integrated High Speed Train Network: Connecting all African capitals and commercial centres through an African High Speed Train to facilitate movement of goods, factor services and people, reduce transport costs and relieve congestion of current and future systems.
- An African Virtual and E-University. Increasing access to tertiary and continuing education in Africa by reaching large numbers of students and professionals in multiple sites simultaneously and developing relevant and high quality Open, Distance and eLearning (ODEL) resources to offer the prospective student a guaranteed access to the University from anywhere in the world and anytime (24 hours a day, 7 days a week).
- Formulation of a commodities strategy. Enabling African countries add value, extract higher rents from their commodities, integrate into the Global Value chains, and promote vertical and horizontal diversification anchored in value addition and local content development.
- Establishment of an annual African forum. Designed to bring together, once a year, the African political leadership, the private sector, academia and civil society to discuss developments and constraints as well as measures to be taken to realize the Aspirations and goals of Agenda 2063.
- Establishment of the Continental Free Trade Area by 2017. To significantly accelerate growth of Intra-Africa trade and use trade more effectively as an engine of growth and sustainable development, through doubling of intra-Africa trade by 2022, strengthen Africa's common voice and policy space in global trade negotiations and establish the financial institutions within agreed upon timeframes: African Investment Bank and Pan African Stock Exchange (2016); the African Monetary Fund (2018); and the African Central Bank (2028/34).
- The African Passport and free movement of people: Transforming Africa's laws, which remain generally restrictive on movement of people despite political commitments to bring down borders with the view to promoting the issuance of visas by Member States enhance free movement of all African citizens in all African countries by 2018.
- Implementation of the Grand Inga Dam Project. The optimal development of the Inga Dam will generate 43,200 MW of power (PIDA) to support current regional power pools and their combined service to transform Africa from traditional to modern sources of energy and ensure access of all Africans to clean and affordable electricity.
- The Pan-African E-Network. This involves a wide range of stakeholders and envisages putting in place policies and strategies that will lead to transformative e-applications and services in Africa; especially the intra-African broad band terrestrial infrastructure; and cyber security, making the information revolution the basis for service delivery in the bio and nanotechnology industries and ultimately transform Africa into an e-Society.

- Silencing the guns by 2020. Ending all wars, civil conflicts, gender based violence and violent conflicts and prevent genocide. Monitor progress through the establishment and operationalization of an African Human Security Index (AHSI)
 - Africa Outer Space Strategy aims to strengthen Africa's use of outer space to bolster its development. Outer space is of critical importance to the development of Africa in all fields: agriculture, disaster management, remote sensing, climate forecast, banking and finance, as well as defense and security. Africa's access to space technology products is no longer a matter of luxury and there is a need to speed up access to these technologies and products. New developments in satellite technologies make these very accessible to African countries. The Brazzaville meeting on aerial space technologies underlines the need for appropriate policies and strategies in order to develop regional market for space products in Africa.
 - Establishment of a single African air transport market: This flagship Programme aims at delivering the single African air transport market to facilitate air transportation in Africa.
 - Establishment of the African financial institutions: Establishment of the Continental Financial Institutions: aims at accelerating integration and socio-economic development of the continent, as they are important institutions when it comes to the mobilization of resources and management of financial sector.
2. Near Term National and RECs Development Priorities: National Plans of Member States were reviewed in addition to the strategic plans of the RECs. The focus areas of their development priorities have been included in the First Ten Year Implementation Plan- this will ensure that their priorities in the near term converge with the priority areas contained in the 50 year framework document. The priority areas that emerged include:
- Sustainable and inclusive economic growth
 - Human Capital Development
 - Agriculture/value addition and agro-businesses development
 - Employment generation, especially the youth and females
 - Social Protection
 - Gender / Women development and youth empowerment
 - Good governance including capable institutions
 - Infrastructural development
 - Science, Technology, Innovation
 - Manufacturing-based industrialization
 - Peace and Security
 - Culture, Arts and Sports
3. Continental Frameworks: The AUC has developed continental frameworks as Comprehensive

African Agricultural Development Programme (CAADP), Programme for Infrastructural Development in Africa (PIDA), African Mining Vision (AMV), Science Technology Innovation Strategy for Africa (STISA), Boosting Intra African Trade (BIAT), Accelerated Industrial Development for Africa (AIDA) amongst others to support Member States of the Union in their development efforts. These frameworks are being implemented by some member states and to ensure coherence and convergence, they have to be captured in the priority areas of the First Ten Year Implementation Plan.

4. Agenda 2063 Results Framework: All the targets in the 50 year framework document that are due by 2023 must be included in the First Ten Year Implementation Plan. Examples are AU Decisions /Directives and AU Plan of Action / Treaties.

IMPLEMENTATION MONITORING AND EVALUATION OF THE PLAN

The targets set in the plan cover national, the RECs and continental bodies, especially the AU Organs. Roles and responsibilities have been assigned to all these stakeholders in the implementation, monitoring and evaluation of the First Ten Year Implementation Plan. The implementation also covers building capacities of all the stakeholders to execute the plans and engaging citizens to own the process and outcomes of the plan implementation.

Highlights of Implementation, monitoring and evaluation responsibilities of Key Stakeholders:

Member States shall:

- Adopt/ integrate Agenda 2063 and the associated Ten Year Implementation Plans as the basis for developing their national visions and plans.

- Use the national planning systems- structures for implementation monitoring and evaluation, methodologies, systems and processes, rules and regulations, forms and formats in the execution of Agenda 2063.
- Develop policy guidelines on the design and implementation, monitoring and evaluation by various stakeholders.
- Ensure that the Legislature adopts Agenda 2063 as the blue print for Africa's social, economic and political development in the next 50 years.

Continental bodies as the United Nations Economic Commission for Africa (ECA) and the African Development Bank (AfDB) have been assigned roles appropriate to their mandates.

Capacity Development for the Implementation of the First Ten-Year Plan

Lessons learnt from the implementation of past continental frameworks indicate the necessity for building the capacities of all stakeholders at the continental, regional and national levels. It is against this background that a capacity assessment and development plan is being prepared to cover some of the AU Organs and the RECs in the first instance and later to the national levels.

It is anticipated that the implementation of the outcomes of the capacity assessment and development studies will deepen the planning, monitoring and evaluation skills of development managers; strengthen institutional / organizational effectiveness in development management; provide transformative and visionary leadership and the enabling policy, legal and regulatory environment required for the successful execution of the First Ten Year Implementation plan at all levels.

The Role of Communications

Again among the major shortcomings experienced in the execution of previous continental strategies and frameworks was the lack of effective use of communication tools. In order to ensure successful implementation of the Agenda 2063, a Communication Strategy has been developed.

The Agenda 2063 Communication Strategy will generate sustained public awareness, involvement, support and ownership by the African population of the Agenda and its execution. It will ensure extensive out-reach with up-to-date and accurate information. It is linked to the overall Communications Strategy of the African Union, and targets AU Member States, staff, organs and agencies; RECs; African citizens both within the continent and in the diaspora and their institutions, including private sector, civil society etc.; as well as AU's partners.

FINANCING THE TEN YEAR PLAN

Financing Needs for First Ten Years: Agenda 2063 Financing and Resource Mobilization Strategy (RMS) outlines the key areas where resources will be required, the potential sources to finance each of these needs, processes for operationalization for matching demand and supply for funds at the national and regional/continental levels and institutional arrangements for making it happen.

Annex 5 outlines areas requiring financing by aspiration and the potential sources for funding each need while table 6.1. shows a succinct presentation of the areas requiring scaled-up financing at both continental/regional and national levels in the first ten years based on annex 5.

Sources of Finance for the First Ten Years: The typology of the sources for financing the First Ten Year Plan as per Annex 5 ranges from government budgetary increases, crowd sourcing for social causes, pure commercial finance from both public and private sources/savings including domestic capital markets, concessional loans, market price-based commercial loans, equity and other market instruments, FDI, portfolio investments by the private sector (debt, bonds, equity and other securities).

Domestic resource mobilization (DRM) is meant to contribute at least 75% to 90% of the financing of Agenda 2063 on average per country, namely through: (i) enhanced fiscal resource mobilization, (ii) maximization of natural resource rents – OGM, agriculture, maritime, tourism, etc.; (iii) the leveraging of the increasingly important pool of African institutional savings – pension funds, central bank foreign exchange reserves, sovereign wealth funds and capital market development;

(iv) enhanced retail savings mobilization through financial inclusion namely; (v) the curbing of illicit financial flows; (vi) the reduction of inefficiency and governance/corruption-based financial leakages and wastages – government, infrastructure services, agriculture value chain, etc. Agenda 2063 should also be rightly financed through external financing mechanisms including (i) FDI, official development assistance (ODA); (ii) financial cooperation from emerging development partners such as BRICS countries, Arab world, etc.; (iii) FDI, PPP et other forms of investment partnerships; (iv) the leveraging of Diaspora remittances and savings; (v) improved access to the international financial markets

Channeling Resources into Agenda 2063 Programs and Projects: It is to be noted that Africa needs not only funds, but also a more effective and inclusive means of channeling funds (including financial institutions and markets, financial instruments and financial services) to where they can be most effective and where there is market failure in the allocation of the needed resources.

From that perspective, three levels of financial intermediation vehicles and resource channeling vehicles will be considered as part of the First 10 Year Implementation Plan:

- Existing commercial financial intermediation vehicles such as, on the one hand, commercial banks, microfinance institutions (MFI), development finance institutions (DFI), insurance companies, etc. that will need to be up-scaled through additional capitalization and capacitated in relevant financial services and project finance expertise areas; and on the other hand, stock exchanges and bond markets that will need to be expanded, deepened and regionalized.
- New commercial financial intermediation vehicles to be created such as Africa 50 Fund, Africa Credit Guarantee Facility (ACGF), Africa Investment Bank (AIB), Africa Infrastructure Development Facility (AIDF), Diaspora bonds, Diaspora remittances securitization, African-owned private equity funds, African Angel Investors Network (AAIN), regional stock exchanges, regional commodity exchanges. Other processes that will promote commercial financing include: Intra-African investment promotion, PPPs targeted at African investors and local government DRM tools such as retail bond for infrastructure services for example
- Non-commercial finance channeling or intermediation vehicles to be considered include existing vehicles such as AU, RECs and Member State budgets and new vehicles to be created such as African Integration Fund (AIF), Fund for African Women, Youth Empowerment and Entrepreneurship Fund; but also crowd funding solutions for social or emergency causes.

Facilitation Measures for Access to Finance: During the period of the First Ten Year Plan the following facilitation measures will be put in place at the national, regional and continental level, depending on its appropriateness within the context of Agenda 2063 Resource Mobilization Strategy (RMS).

- Developing / implementing generic “framework conditions” (policy, legal, regulatory and institutional framework) for private sector development and industry/issue-specific enabling conditions (financial industry development, PPP/Infrastructure financing, large industrial project financing, private equity/venture capital market development, SME finance/banking and micro-finance).
- Setting up relevant project development funds, viability gap funds, capitalization funds, blending facilities to address demand side readiness.

- Establishing information infrastructure (country rating system, corporate governance standards, credit bureau and collateral registries etc.)
- Developing expertise in financial advisory services and specialist financial services where there is significant gap across Africa (project finance, capital market, private equity/venture capital, financial engineering, risk management and industry-specific financial services)
- Putting in place risk sharing and guarantee facilities to “de-risk” investment into African securities and enhance the risk of lending to African SME namely.

Implementation arrangements of the resource mobilization strategy (RMS) for the First Ten Years: The articulation of the institutional arrangements for the implementation of the RMS is still under consideration. The evolving consensus within Agenda 2063 implementation framework is that:

- Under the direction of the Agenda 2063 Ministerial Committee and the AUC the African Development Bank will be the lead institution in facilitating, coordinating, monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063 RMS.
- Identifiable key stakeholders in the implementation of the RMS at the continental level in addition to the AU and AfDB include UN-ECA at continental level; and RECs, regional DFIs and regional stock exchanges at the regional level. Regional associations such as the African DFI associations, the African Venture Capital Association (AVCA) and the Association of African Stock Exchange will also play a significant role in the implementation. At the national level, governments and financial sector-related organizations (stock exchange association, banking association, Insurance sector association, MFI association, etc.) and other non-state actors will be assigned responsibilities appropriate to their relevance and competencies.

LEVERAGING AFRICA'S STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIPS

The African Union has entered into a number of strategic partnerships to support its development process: Africa-EU, Africa-USA, Africa-Japan, Africa-China, Africa-India, Africa-Arab League of States, Africa-South America, Africa-Turkey, and Africa-Korea with more demand for partnership in the pipeline. However, the full potential of the financial pledges and technical assistance pledges embedded in these partnerships are yet to fully leverage from the African side. Hence, going forward the following three levels of actions need to be considered by the AU to take maximum advantage of its strategic partnerships:

- Preparing a comprehensive AU policy framework and articulating a partnership strategy for all high-potential partners around a limited number of interventions with meaningful socio-economic transformational benefits;
- Maximizing Africa's potential to exploit the full potential of its partnership by enhancing its strategic, governance, technical, logistical and financial support to the partnership management function of the AUC; by bringing more clarity to the implementation model of Africa's various continental programs (PIDA, CAADP/3ADI, AIDA/APCII/RADS/AMV, BIAT) to facilitate result-oriented cooperation with its strategic partners; and by improved involvement and coordination of/among Africa's various stakeholders of the partnership process: AUC, NPC, AfDB, RECs, Member States, PSO, CSO and other AU organs; and

- Deepening transformational benefits of the partnerships through alignment to Agenda 2063 priorities, namely: Agenda 2063 flagship projects, natural resource-based and STI-based industrialization and technology transfer, intra-African trade and export development, private sector and MSME development, financial market development, support to the post-2015 Agenda in social and sustainable development and domestic financial resource mobilization.

BACKGROUND

In May 2013, Africa celebrated the Golden Jubilee of the founding of the Organization of African Unity (OAU). On that occasion, Africa's political leadership took stock of past achievements and challenges, and through the 50th Anniversary Solemn Declaration rededicated itself to the continent's socioeconomic and political transformation. In this regard, the Assembly requested the elaboration of a forward looking 50-year continental framework, namely Agenda 2063, founded on the AU vision of “ an integrated, prosperous and peaceful Africa, driven by its own citizens and representing a dynamic force in the international arena”.

Agenda 2063 – a shared strategic framework for inclusive growth and sustainable development – was developed through a people-driven process and was adopted, in January of 2015, in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia by the 24th African Union (AU) Assembly of Heads of State and Government, following 18 months of extensive consultations with all formations of African society¹.

Agenda 2063 is anchored on the AU vision and is based on the seven aspirations derived from the consultations, namely:

1. A prosperous Africa based on inclusive growth and sustainable development;
2. An integrated continent, politically united, based on the ideals of Pan Africanism and the vision of Africa's Renaissance;
3. An Africa of good governance, respect for human rights, justice and the rule of law;
4. A peaceful and secure Africa;
5. An Africa with a strong cultural identity, common heritage, values and ethics;
6. An Africa whose development is people-driven, relying on the potential of African people, especially its women and youth, and caring for children; and
7. Africa as a strong, united, resilient and influential global player and partner.

In order to ensure effective implementation, the 24th Assembly of the Union further requested the African Union Commission (AUC) to finalize a First Ten Year Plan of Agenda 2063 for consideration and adoption by the June 2015 meetings of the AU Policy Organs.

This document presents the First Ten-Year Implementation Plan for Agenda 2063. It builds upon the Agenda 2063 Framework Document adopted in January 2015, and seeks to accelerate Africa's political, social, economic and technological transformation while continuing the Pan African drive for self-determination, freedom, progress and collective prosperity. Covering the period 2013-2023, it is the first of a series of five ten year implementation plans to be developed to realize the vision of the “Africa We Want By 2063”.

PURPOSE OF THE PLAN

The purpose for developing the plan is to:

- Identify priority areas, set specific targets, define strategies and policy measures required to implement the first ten years on the journey to 2063.
- Bring to fruition the Fast Track programmes and initiatives outlined in the Malabo Decisions of the AU to provide the big push and breakthroughs for Africa's economic and social transformation.
- Provide information to all key stakeholders at the national, regional and continental levels, the Diaspora, development partners, global financial institutions the expected results / outcomes for the First Ten Year Implementation Plan and the roles expected of them
- Assign responsibilities to all stakeholders in the implementation, monitoring and evaluation.
- Outline the strategies required to ensure availability of resources and capacities together with citizen's engagement to implement the First Ten Year Plan.

THE CONTEXT

Africa's achievements over the last decade and a half are significant. Across the region, economic growth has firmly taken root (and there is more to that growth than just export of raw materials), with increased exports and foreign direct investment. If current growth trajectory is maintained, incomes are projected to double in 22 years.²

Furthermore, political stability, peace and security and reforms in governance have changed the political landscape. Women and youth are progressively having a greater voice in decision-making. With aid declining, Africa is also increasingly financing its own development thanks to export earnings, trade and remittances among others.

However, these positive developments are juxtaposed with significant challenges and the positive overview also masks significant variations across regions and between countries. The current global outlook on growth underscores the headwinds that African economies have to contend with especially, the decline in commodity prices among others.

A detailed situational analysis has been undertaken and presented in Chapter 3 of the Agenda 2063 Framework Document, namely: Africa the Last Fifty Years and the Present: Progress, Challenges and Implications for Agenda 2063. Below is a summary of the key priority areas African Governments, Regional Economic Communities, Continental AU Organs and other stakeholders must address in the next 50 years if the vision for the "Africa We Want By 2063" is to be attained.

Aspiration 1: A Prosperous Africa based on inclusive Growth and Sustainable Development: ending poverty, inequalities of income and opportunity; job creation, especially addressing youth unemployment; facing up to the challenges of rapid population growth and urbanization, improvement of habitats and access to basic necessities of life – water, sanitation, electricity; providing social security and protection; developing Africa's human and social capital (through an education and skills revolution emphasizing science and technology) and expanding access to quality health care services, particularly for women and girls; transforming Africa's economies through beneficiation from Africa's natural resources, manufacturing, industrialization and value addition, as well as raising productivity and competitiveness; radically transforming African agriculture to enable the continent to feed itself and be a major player as a net food exporter; exploiting the vast potential of Africa's blue/ocean economy; and finally putting in place measures to sustainably manage the continent's rich biodiversity, forests, land and waters and using mainly adaptive measures to address Climate change risks.

Aspiration 2: An integrated continent, politically united, based on the ideals of Pan Africanism and the vision of Africa's Renaissance: accelerating progress towards continental unity and integration for sustained growth, trade, exchanges of goods, services, free movement of people and capital through: (i) establishing a United Africa; (ii) fast tracking of the CFTA; (iii) improving connectivity through newer and bolder initiatives to link the continent by rail, road, sea and air; and (iv) developing regional and continental power pools, as well as ICT.

² Africa Progress Panel 2014

Aspiration 3: An Africa of good governance, respect for human rights, justice and the rule of law: consolidating democratic gains and improving the quality of governance, respect for human rights and the rule of law; building strong institutions for a development state; and facilitating the emergence of development-oriented and visionary leadership in all spheres and at all levels.

Aspiration 4: A peaceful and secure Africa: strengthening governance, accountability and transparency as a foundation for a peaceful Africa; strengthening mechanisms for securing peace and reconciliation at all levels, as well as addressing emerging threats to Africa's peace and security; and putting in place strategies for the continent to finance her security needs.

Aspiration 5: An Africa with a strong cultural identity, common heritage, values and ethics: inculcating the spirit of Pan Africanism; tapping Africa's rich heritage and culture to ensure that the creative arts are major contributors to Africa's growth and transformation; and restoring and preserving Africa's cultural heritage, including its languages.

Aspiration 6: An Africa whose development is people-driven, relying on the potential of African people, especially its women and youth, and caring for children: strengthening the role of Africa's women through ensuring gender equality and parity in all spheres of life (political, economic and social); eliminating all forms of discrimination and violence against women and girls; creating opportunities for Africa's youth for self-realization, access to health, education and jobs; and ensuring safety and security for Africa's children, and providing for early childhood development.

Aspiration 7: Africa as a strong, united, resilient and influential global player and partner: improving Africa's place in the global governance system (UNSC, financial institutions, global commons such as outer space); improving Africa's partnerships and refocusing them more strategically to respond to African priorities for growth and transformation; and ensuring that the continent has the right strategies to finance its own development and reducing aid dependency.

The priorities that emerge from the analysis are also in line with those identified from an extensive review of national plans, and regional and continental frameworks and serve to inform the Agenda 2063 goals, priority areas and targets.

SELECTION OF GOALS AND PRIORITY AREAS

Agenda 2063 has a fifty-year horizon with five ten-year plan frameworks. This first ten-year plan is focused on issues pertinent to the period but aligned with the expected outcomes at the end of 2063. The key underpinnings for the selection of the goals, priority areas and targets for this first ten-year plan, which should be seen as a sub-set of the fifty-year plan framework are: areas where the African citizenry expects to see immediate impact within the context of the African Aspirations – these areas constitute the flagship programmes of first ten year plan, the short / medium term development priorities of Member States and the RECs, on-going continental frameworks that fall within the next 10 years and targets within the Agenda 2063 Framework Document which fall within the next ten years.

Fast Track Projects and Initiatives

This is an innovative approach designed to provide the big push and propel growth and transformation through fast tracking the implementation of programmes identified by the AU Assembly as having immediate positive impact on perceptions of the African Citizenry with respect to the success of Agenda 2063. The Malabo AU Summit of June 2014 mandated the AU Commission to explore and prepare concrete actions for the implementation of priority programmes and projects identified in Agenda 2063, notably, the Integrated High Speed Train Network; hastening the process for the creation of a Continental Free Trade Area; the African Passport and free movement of people; capitalization of opportunities in the aviation sector within the framework of the implementation of the Yamoussoukro Decision on the Unification of African Air Space; implementation of the Grand Inga Dam Project; the Pan-African E-Network, the creation of an Annual Consultative Platform for policy dialogue involving a wide range of stakeholders, and any other integrative initiatives that are in line with the spirit of Agenda 2063. These programmes / projects have been incorporated into the first ten year plan. Further details of these flagship programmes / projects are contained in annex 4. Text Box 2.2 provides highlights of the flagship programmes

Near Term National and RECs Development Focus

The preparatory process of Agenda 2063 entailed extensive consultations with the African Citizenry including the Diaspora, African Civil Society Organizations and the Regional Economic Communities (RECs) amongst others. All these groups indicated the need to make the development initiatives of member states and the RECs as part of the foundations of the first ten-year plan. Building on these member states and RECs initiatives will not only serve as an incentive for full national and regional commitment but also ensure that both the processes and the outcomes of Agenda 2063 are owned by the people – who provided the inputs into the preparation of their national and RECs plans.

In view of the above a review of member states and RECs plans was done. Lessons learnt from the reviews indicated that the focus of first Ten-Year Plan of Agenda 2063 should include the following areas:

- Sustainable and Inclusive Economic Growth;
- Human Capital Development;
- Agriculture/ value addition agro-business;
- Industrialization / Manufacturing and value additions to natural resources;
- Employment Generation;
- Social Protection;
- Gender / Women's Development and Youth Empowerment;
- Good Governance, including capable institutions;
- Infrastructural development;
- Science, Technology and Innovation;
- Peace and Security; and
- Culture, Arts and Sports.

Text Box 2.1: Highlights of Fast Track Projects/Initiatives

- Integrated High Speed Train Network: Connecting all African capitals and commercial centres through an African High Speed Train to facilitate movement of goods, factor services and people, reduce transport costs and relieve congestion of current and future systems.
- An African Virtual University . Increasing access to tertiary and continuing education in Africa by reaching large numbers of students and professionals in multiple sites simultaneously and developing relevant and high quality Open, Distance and eLearning (ODEL) resources to offer the prospective student a guaranteed access to the University from anywhere in the world and anytime (24 hours a day, 7 days a week).
- The Single African Aviation Market: Open skies concept whereby all African Airlines can fly to any member country
- Establishment of the Continental Monetary and Financial Institutions: The African Investment Bank, The African Remittances Institute, The African Credit Guarantee Facility, The African Monetary Union and the African Central Bank.
- African commodities strategy. Enabling African countries add value, extract higher rents from their commodities, integrate into the Global Value chains, and promote vertical and horizontal diversification anchored in value addition and local content development.
- Creation of an annual African Consultative Platform:. Designed to bring together, once a year, the African political leadership, the private sector, academia and civil society to discuss developments and constraints as well as measures to be taken to realize the Aspirations and goals of Agenda 2063. Establishment of the Continental Free Trade Area by 2017. To significantly accelerate growth of Intra-Africa trade and use trade more effectively as an engine of growth and sustainable development, through doubling of intra-Africa trade by 2022, strengthen Africa's common voice and policy space in global trade negotiations.
- The African Passport and free movement of people: Transforming Africa's laws, which remain generally restrictive on movement of people despite political commitments to bring down borders with the view to promoting the issuance of visas by Member States enhance free movement of all African citizens in all African countries by 2018.
- Implementation of the Grand Inga Dam Project. The optimal development of the Inga Dam will generate 43,200 MW of power (PIDA) to support current regional power pools and their combined service to transform Africa from traditional to modern sources of energy and ensure access of all Africans to clean and affordable electricity.
- The Pan-African E-Network. This involves a wide range of stakeholders and envisages putting in place policies and strategies that will lead to transformative e-applications and services in Africa; especially the intra-African broad band terrestrial infrastructure; and cyber security, making the information revolution the basis for service delivery in the bio and nanotechnology industries and ultimately transform Africa into an e-Society.
- Silencing the guns by 2020. Ending all wars, civil conflicts, gender based violence and violent conflicts and prevent genocide. Monitor progress through the establishment and operationalization of an African Human Security Index (AHSI)

Africa Outer Space Strategy aims to strengthen Africa's use of outer space to bolster its development. Outer space is of critical importance to the development of Africa in all fields: agriculture, disaster management, remote sensing, climate forecast, banking and finance, as well as defense and security. Africa's access to space technology products is no longer a matter of luxury and there is a need to speed up access to these technologies and products. New developments in satellite technologies make these very accessible to African countries. The Brazzaville meeting on aerial space technologies underlines the need for appropriate policies and strategies in order to develop regional market for space products in Africa.

Continental Frameworks

The AUC has developed frameworks to guide the continent towards a common focus in the developmental / political evolutionary process of member states, regions and the continent. These frameworks which cover the areas of agricultural production and productivity, economic integration, industrialization including mining, infrastructure, health and education, science and technology good governance / democracy and culture amongst others have been integrated into the first ten year plan, to ensure that they are not seen as parallel initiatives to Agenda 2063. In view of this, there was a review of the continental initiatives. The goals, targets, timelines and processes of these initiatives cascading from the continental to the RECs and ultimately to the member states have been captured by the plan. The process for implementing the continental frameworks requires that targets are set not only at the national level but also at the RECs and continental levels.

Agenda 2063 Results Framework

All targets that fall between 2013 and 2025 in the Agenda 2063 results framework are automatic candidates for inclusion in the first ten year plan. In this regard their associated goals and priority areas have been included in the results framework for the first ten year plan. The focus areas under this category in general fall under:

- AU Assembly Decisions / Directives – timelines for ending hunger, malnutrition, silencing of guns amongst others and
- AU Plan of Action / Treaties - timelines on the minimum integration programmes.

GOALS AND PRIORITY AREAS FOR FIRST TEN YEARS

The goals and related priority areas for the first ten years of Agenda 2063 are presented in table 2.1. In all there are 20 goals and 38 priority areas. They are derived from the overall Agenda 2063 results framework subject to the selection process discussed in the preceding section.

They are presented around the seven aspirations. Under each aspiration are the goals for those aspirations. Under each goal are the priority areas presented in column 3 of the table. The targets for the goals/priority areas, part of the results matrix is provided in the plan framework in chapter 3.

Issues Related to the Goals, Priority Areas and Their Associated Targets

Text Box 2.3 explains / outlines the issues related to the goals, targets and indicative strategies of the results matrix for the first ten years. It explains or defines some of the concepts and targets in relation to the corresponding nomenclature in the SDGs. It raises the issue of base line information, sources of the targets for the first ten-year plan and the nature of such targets.

Text Box 2.2: Definitions, Base Line Information , Sources and Nature of Targets

Definitions

- The definition of goal is different from that of the SDGs. Since Agenda 2063 is of a 50 year horizon, the goals are broader. The priority areas and their associated targets define the goals. While the goals are fixed, the priority areas and their associated targets can change over the various ten year plan cycles. In the case of the MDGs (with their 15 year horizon) the goals are very specific and are like a target under this ten year plan results framework.
- The definition / computational methodology for various targets are consistent with the definitions specified by the relevant agencies as the World Bank, UNESCO, WHO, UNIDO, ILO, FAO amongst others.

1. Base Line Information

Agenda 2063 will be implemented mainly at the national level. The targets that have been set have built in flexibilities to address the diversities of Member States in the development trajectory. National level base line information built on existing national systems would be used to track the progress of implementation by member states at the national level. The existence of continental level average base line information is not a necessary requirement for the implementation of Agenda 2063.

2. Sources for the Targets for 2023: The First Ten Year Plan

With the 2063 targets as the end points, the targets for the first ten years have been derived from four main sources (i) Continental frameworks - these frameworks have set targets varying from 2018 to 2025. For example the targets on agriculture were obtained from CAADPs 10 year targets; those for water and sanitation were obtained from the Africa Water Vision; the Minimum Integration Programme targets were adopted /adapted for the integration targets; the targets for Science, Technology and Innovation were obtained from the emerging targets under Science, Technology and Innovation Strategy for Africa (STISA) (ii) AU Summit Decisions – these decisions contain milestone which must be met. Examples are on integration, food security, silencing of guns (iii) informed judgment- sector departments within the AUC with their knowledge and experience on the sectors dynamics across the continent, provided feasible targets. Examples in this area include, the GDP growth rate, targets on climate, bio-diversity, culture, women and youth amongst others and (iv) aspirational targets covering universal primary and secondary education and access to basic services amongst others.

3. Nature of Targets - (i) They are as far as possible SMART selected. In addition, national capacities for the use / tracking of the targets are taken into account. (ii) They allow for diversities in the positions of member states in the development trajectory. The phrase “at least X times the 2013 level” should be seen in this vein.

AFRICA IN 2023

Africa’s main challenge for the next 50 years is the realization of the African Vision of “building an integrated, prosperous and peaceful Africa, driven by its own citizens representing a dynamic force in the international arena”. This first ten year plan within Agenda 2063, lays the foundation for the trajectories of the seven aspirations whose terminal ends would converge towards the realization of the African Union Vision by 2063.

Within the context of Agenda 2063, the African citizenry expects that by 2023:

Aspiration 1: A prosperous Africa based on inclusive growth and sustainable development

- Every African would see an improvement in his or her standard of living. It will be manifested by increases in real incomes by at least 30%. This will be fuelled by sustainable inclusive economic growth and transformation that expands job opportunities to at least one in four persons looking for work coupled with state income support to the vulnerable, the marginalized and the disabled in the society. The proportion of the labour force not receiving livable wages would have declined by at least 25%. Incidences of hunger and malnutrition would have been reduced by at least 80% and hunger by at least 30% with accent on women.
- Education as a main vehicle for inter-generational social mobility would have been expanded and improved. The chances of child having an early childhood education would have increased and education from the basic to secondary level will be compulsory and available to all with accent on science, technology and innovation. At least seven out of ten secondary school students who do not proceed to tertiary educational institutions would have the opportunity for technical, vocation and training programmes. Tertiary levels of education, especially the universities, will see proliferations of virtual universities to provide expanded access to a large number of students beyond what traditional systems could admit. With an African Educational Accreditation Agency and a common educational qualification system in place the African youth will have the choice to study in any university and work any where outside his or her country on the continent.
- By 2023, all forms of malnutrition, maternal, child and neo-natal mortalities would have been reduced by at least 50% against the background of an expanded access to quality health care and services. Access to Anti Retroviral for persons afflicted by HIV/AIDs will be universal and the proportion of deaths attributable to HIV/AIDs and malaria would have been reduced by 50%. The African Center for Disease Control will be functional and will be providing the leadership in coordinating continental efforts in preventing and managing communicable diseases within and across countries and will be supported by a functioning Africa Volunteer Health Corp.

- Basic necessities of life – safe drinking water and sanitation will be available to nine out of ten persons and electricity access and internet connectivity increased by at least 50%. Improved sanitation will be underpinned by a recycling of at least 50% of the waste generated in the cities who by 2023 as the latest will be ready for the take off on a mass rail transit system.
- The beginnings of transformed African economies which provide the resources and the medium for eliminating poverty and hunger, maternal, child and neo-natal mortality, universal primary and secondary education will be visible by 2023. GDP will be growing at 7%, with at least a third of outputs generated by firms owned by citizens of member states. Labour intensive manufacturing / industrialization underpinned by value addition to commodities, doubling of total agricultural factor productivity and increased value addition of the blue economy (arising out of fisheries, eco-friendly coastal tourism, marine bio-technology products, and port operations) in GDP, amongst others will be the signals not only to the African Citizenry but also to the global community of the emergence of the African economic and social transformation. Regional industrialization hubs linked to the global value chains and commodity exchanges and the African Minerals Development Center will all be in place by 2023 and will be providing the impetus for sustainable economic transformation taking place.
- The inception gains from the economic transformation will go hand in hand with improved environmental conditions. At least 17% of terrestrial and inland water and 10% of coastal and marine areas would have been preserved. All trans boundary natural resources would have been shared equitably and would be exploited to the benefit of the African Citizenry. Lastly a third of farmers, fisher folks and pastoralists will be practicing climate resilient production systems.

Aspiration 2: An integrated continent politically united and based on the ideals of Pan Africanism and the vision for Africa's Renaissance

- The key first steps towards a continental government would have been taken by 2023. The legal framework for a continental government will be approved by the 2023 Assembly of the Union. Visa at the point of entry will be the norm and will facilitate the free movement of people, goods and services and opportunities offered to citizens in every REC will be available to non-REC residents of African descent. The volume of intra-African trade would, especially in agricultural value added products have increased three fold.. A continental free trade area, an African Customs Union, an African Common Market and an African Monetary Union existence will no longer be dreams; their existence will provide the building blocks towards a continental government by 2063.
- The foundations of a world class infrastructure – transport, energy, water, e-connectivity will be noticeable in the continental economic system. The African Integrated High Speed Train Network will be taking its first set of passengers between some connected cities, especially the youth imbued with the spirit of adventure, mobility and pan Africanism. The African Skies will be open to all African Airlines. ICT penetration and contribution to GDP would have been doubled. Broad band accessibility is increased by 70%, digital broadcasting will be the norm and every adult/youth will have access to a mobile phone. . Regional power pools boosted by at least 50% increase in electricity generation will be in existence and will be contributing to the industrial / manufacturing growth and comfort of the African Citizenry.

Aspiration 3: An Africa of good governance, democracy, respect for human rights, justice and the rule of Law

- Democratic values and culture as enshrined in the African Governance Architecture would have become entrenched in all Africa by 2023. Free, fair and credible elections will be the norm and at least 7 out of 10 persons will perceive democratic processes and institutions as being accountable and relevant. Respect for the rule of law and due process, the rights of all citizens will be part of the socio-political culture and the institutions that nurture them will be found to be capable by at least 70% of the citizenry. At least 70% of the citizenry will perceive the judiciary to be independent and impartial and acknowledge the relevance of the legislature as a key component of the democratic process. The African Peer Review Mechanism would have been adhered to by all members of the Union and its impact would be reflected by the perceptions of the citizenry in the various continental governance metrics.

Aspiration 4: peaceful and secure Africa

- By 2023, all inter and intra national conflicts would have ceased and the target of silencing of all guns on the continent would have been attained. Local and national mechanisms for conflict prevention and resolution would be entrenched and functioning for the cause of peace. The African Stand by Force, the Defense and Security Policy and the African Peace and Security Architecture in general will all be in place and be contributing towards the preservation and maintenance of peace in the continent and around the world.

Aspiration 5: Africa with a strong cultural identity, common heritage, values and ethics.

- The enjoyment or participation in national cultures and the creative arts will be a pastime for at least 20% of the population. Beginnings of the use of national languages in administrative systems and structures will emerge. One out of five polytechnics on the continent will be offering programmes in the creative arts and the management of micro cultural enterprises to support the growth of the creative arts businesses which will be contributing twice as much of the 2013 contribution to GDP in real terms. Local content in all print and electronic media would have increased by at least 60%
- The outcomes of intergenerational dialogue on culture will be used to define the continent's cultural trajectory beyond 2023. At least 30% of cultural patrimonies and treasures would have been repatriated and catalogued for future use in the envisaged African Museum of 2035.
- Focal points for managing Diaspora relations will be in place in all states and will be managing the dual citizenship programmes for the Diaspora amongst others. The cultural content of school curricula is increased by at least 60% of the 2013 level.. The first edition of the Encyclopedia Africana will be launched by the Assembly of the Union by 2023, and all legacy projects – the Diaspora Skills Data Base, Diaspora Volunteer Force and Diaspora Market Place would not only be functional but would also be contributing to the growth of the continent.

Aspiration 6: Africa whose development is people driven, relying on the potential offered by African People, especially its Youth and Women, and caring for children

- All over the continent, obstacles related to women owning or inheriting property or businesses, signing a contract, owning or managing a bank account will be history. At least one in five of all rural women will have access to and control productive assets and gender parity in control, representation, advancement will be the norm in all AU Organs and the RECs.
- Reduction in all forms of violence against women by a fifth of the 2013 levels will provide the point of departure for an Africa where the mutual respect of sensitivities of both sexes is the rule rather than the exception. All harmful social norms and customary practices would be things of the past by 2023.
- By 2023, the African Youth will not only be mobile across the continent, 15% of all new business startups will emanate from their ingenuity and talent acquired in part from the fruits of the skills revolution driven by science, technology and innovation that will be taking place all over the continent. This development will ensure that at least the proportion of 2013 youth unemployment will be reduced by a quarter by 2023. One out of every five youth/children would have gone through talent based development programme, leisure and recreation.
- Since the guns would have been silenced and primary and secondary education will be compulsory, child labor exploitation, marriages, trafficking and soldiering would not be seen or experienced by children born after 2023.

Aspiration 7: Africa as a strong, united, resilient and influential global partner and player

- Africa speaking with one voice in global affairs announces the setting up of an Africa Space Agency and the setting up of national systems / infrastructure for research and development that will contribute to the stock of global intellectual capital. A new African Global Partnership Platform in place by 2017, will contribute to an increase in the share of Africa's exports in global exports in 2023 by at least 20%.
- Africa's increased financial self reliance and sophistication will be earning respect in the global financial system. The African Investment Bank, the African Credit Guarantee Facility, the African Remittances Institute and at least 2 regional stock exchanges in place by 2023 will be the major drivers for the continents growing financial self-reliance. National capital markets will contribute to at least 10% of development financing in addition to other financing avenues or instruments and the improvements in national fiscal systems and the end of all illicit capital flows will ensure that the proportion of aid in the national budget is no more than 25% of the 2013 levels.

THE CONTEXT

The plan framework for the first ten years is based on the selected goals and priority areas in chapter two (table 2.1) covering the seven aspirations. The situation analysis in chapter 2.1 – the current African development situation provides the base line information upon which Agenda 2063 and this first ten year plan are built. That is the goals, priority areas and the targets for both 2063 and 2023 (the first ten years) are influenced by the base line information provided in the chapter on the current African development situation. The aggregate desired outcomes for the first ten year plan based on the 2023 targets for the seven aspirations appear as part of chapter two (2.4) as Africa in 2023.

This plan framework outlines for each of the 20 goals under an aspiration the following:

- The priority area(s);
- The targets for 2013 for the national level and where applicable for regional and continental levels for each priority area;
- The process actions / milestones for key continental frameworks that will go to support the attainment of the targets at the national, regional and continental levels for each priority area; and
- The indicative strategies for each priority area for the national level and where appropriate regional and continental levels.

National (Member States) regional and continental stakeholders are to be guided by the plan framework as they prepare their national short / medium and to some extent their long term plans. That is the stakeholders are to be guided by the goals, 2013 targets and process actions and are required to integrate them into their existing national development plan results framework- which will form the basis for their plan execution. The indicative strategies provided are broad and stakeholders are expected to narrow them down to suit their circumstances.

Aspiration 1. A prosperous Africa based on inclusive growth and sustainable development

There are seven goals under this aspiration with seventeen priority areas. The goals under this aspiration are numbered as goals 1-7 in the results framework.

THE CONTEXT

The Agenda 2063 aspirations, goals and their associated targets have to be translated into reality. This entails having in place effective implementation, monitoring and evaluation arrangements at the national, regional and continental levels. In addition resources for the implementation will also have to be mobilized at all the three levels. Capacities of national, regional and continental institutions to be involved in the execution of the Agenda will have to be strengthened. Lastly the African Citizenry, Civil Society Organizations and all other identifiable groups need to be engaged in information exchange and participation in the decision making especially with respect to the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of the Agenda 2063.

All the above issues were raised as being pertinent in the 50th Anniversary Solemn Declaration, as part of the lessons learnt from the Stakeholder Consultations, the review of national and regional plans and assessment of Africa's past development experience.

This chapter provides the framework for ensuing How To Make Agenda 2063 Happen. It covers the objectives of the chapter followed by the principles that drive all the issues related to making Agenda 2063 happen. It also elaborates on some key implementation issues such as leadership, organization and responsibilities required for successful execution at the national, regional and continental level. Subsequent sections cover key implementation policies at the national, regional and continental levels required for the successful implementation of Agenda 2063. It ends with an implementation time line. Annex 5 provides the key successes factors, risks and threats and their mitigating strategies in the implementation of Agenda 2063, especially the first ten years.

OBJECTIVES

Lessons from Africa's development experience on continental initiatives over the last 50 years make it imperative that an implementation framework is included in the ten year plan for Agenda 2063. Its purpose is to:

- Indicate and create awareness for all the key stakeholders at the national, regional and continental levels who will be involved in the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063 including the functions they are expected to undertake;
- Outline the reporting relationships between national, regional and continental level entities / institutions involved in the execution of Agenda 2063;
- Outline the key policies that will drive the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063 at the national, regional and continental levels;
- Indicate how the initiatives in Agenda 2063 could be financed at the national, regional and continental levels;
- Specify the modalities for engaging the African population in learning about the progress on Agenda 2063 and the channels for their contributions / feedback; and
- Identify the institutional/human resource capacity requirements that should be put in place at the national, regional and continental levels to ensure the successful execution of Agenda 2063.

In a nutshell, this "Making Agenda 2063 Happen" chapter serves to inform all Africans and relevant national, regional and continental institutions what role each is supposed to play, how the Agenda will be financed and what capacities will have to be put in place.

MAKING AGENDA 2063 HAPPEN – THE GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The guiding principles emanate from the Constitutive Act of the African Union, the 50th Anniversary Solemn Declaration and other related instruments and policy organs' decisions, lessons learnt from the consultations with the African Citizenry and the review of national, regional and continental plans and frameworks.

Subsidiarity

Three layers are involved in the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063, namely national, regional and continental. The application of the principle of subsidiarity entails that in making it happen the following are adhered to:

- National Level: It is a fundamental source of the ideas for Agenda 2063 and responsible for the implementation of Agenda 2063 within its national context and also responsible for the monitoring and evaluation of both the processes and outcomes of the implementation. It is also responsible for the mobilization of the resources for the execution of the national agenda.
- Regional Level: It is the entry point for all Agenda 2063 initiatives that have to be adopted by Member States. It facilitates the adaptation / adoption of Agenda 2063 initiatives reflecting regional imperatives by Member States. It coordinates the integration of monitoring and evaluation of Member States' implementation of Agenda 2063. In addition it is responsible for facilitating regional initiatives for resource mobilization and execution of regional programmes and projects under Agenda 2063.
- Continental Level: It is responsible for broad design/ revision of the Agenda 2063 Framework and the Ten year Implementation Plans that follow. It provides the broad policy guidelines on the implementation, monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063; it facilitates the integration of regional monitoring and evaluation reports into a continental report; it facilitates resource mobilization from a continental perspective; it coordinates the relationship/cooperation with the African Diaspora, close collaborators (AfDB, UNECA and ACBF) and partners; and oversees the execution of continental programmes and projects.

In sum, each layer in the organizational chain for the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063 should play the role that is underpinned by the considerations of effectiveness and efficiency in execution and assigned mandate.

Accountability and Transparency

Making sure that the outcomes / goals of Agenda 2063 are attained requires that every stakeholder be held accountable and the processes for linking the stakeholders and their constituents together are predictable and open. Against this background, the following need to be considered where appropriate in all the actions / policies related to making it happen.

- Results Orientation: Targets should be set for each of the goals / priority areas in the Agenda. All the three levels - national, regional and continental should have targets, where appropriate or applicable. A monitoring and evaluation framework should be in place at each of the three levels to ensure that progress is being attained with implementation.
- Commitment: Stakeholders at each level should be made to honour / execute their assigned functions. For example, at the national level, the Executive should be held accountable for the adoption/adaption/integration of Agenda 2063 into their national plans. To ensure the desired behavior there should be sanctions / pressure or incentives on each stakeholder. In the case of the executive- passage / adoption of Agenda 2063 as a national development framework document by Parliament / Legislature, pressures mounted by social accountability groups, use of tools such as APRM, publishing of performance score cards on Member States etc. are likely to lead to strong political commitment by the Executive.

- Evidence Driven: Decisions / conclusions reached or made regarding the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063 should be based on the facts on the ground. Since facts will in general be common to all stakeholders, decisions to be made by stakeholders would be predictable. For example, selection of goals and priority areas for the First Ten Year Implementation Plan should be evaluated against a set of criteria. This will ensure that the selection process is transparent.

Participation/Inclusiveness and Integration

There is a general consensus that the African Citizenry should own both the process and the outcomes of Agenda 2063. For this to be achieved measures such as the following should be put in place at all levels:

- Participation: Stakeholders, especially at the national level should be part of a process in setting targets, developing key activities and outputs of the implementation process. They should also be part of the monitoring and evaluation process. Since all stakeholder are part of the process, the outcome will tend to be fair to all
- Integration: The implementation process should reinforce regional integration. National implementation plans- the plan (short, medium and long) and regional relevant programmes / goals should be in alignment with that of the regional Agenda 2063 Implementation Framework

Diversity

While Africans share common aspirations, there are differences in terms of current positions of member states in the development trajectory; resources endowments; geographical location (islands, land-locked etc.); capacities in development and economic management. Such diversities should be accommodated through:

- Goals, Priorities and Targets: Making sure that the results framework reflect the diversities across member states and across stakeholders within member states.

Leveraging on Existing institutions and Systems

The consultation process revealed that in the interest of economy, efficiency and effectiveness, existing institutions and systems at the national, regional and continental levels should be used/ strengthened.

- National Level: Planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation structures such as thematic area groups, sector wide approaches should be retained and, if necessary, be improved upon to cater for the exigencies of the for Agenda 2063. The planning, monitoring and evaluation cycles, formats and processes should be retained.
- Regional Level: The planning, monitoring and evaluation process at the RECs should be maintained and, if necessary, be improved upon to cater for the exigencies of the for Agenda 2063.

- Continental Level: AU Organs such as AUC, the Pan African Parliament (PAP), ECOSOCC, and NPCA (NEPAD Planning and Coordination Agency) should be used in the design, implementation monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063. In addition continental institutions such as the African Development Bank and the UN Economic Commission for Africa as well as other partners to render their technical support, as required.

Harmonization of Policies, Systems and Processes

While managing Africa's diversities should be built into the process of "Making It Happen", there is the need to ensure universality in certain areas if the integrity of process is to be maintained. Some of the areas of focus include:

- Indicators: The indicators selected by Member States to track the progress towards the attainment of the targets, should be similar and the method for their computation and verification should also be identical. If that harmonization is not maintained, it will be difficult to aggregate / compare the performance of member states at the regional and continental levels
- Monitoring and Evaluation Tools: While member states are encouraged to leverage on their national strengths, there is the need to have a minimum set of tools that will be uniform and enhance comparability of outcomes between /within member states in a region and between Member States across regions.

KEY IMPLEMENTATION ISSUES

The key success factors required for the implementation of Agenda 2063 amongst others include: leadership/stakeholder relationships and responsibilities, capacity for implementation, communication for citizens / stakeholders involvement and ownership, provision of guidance to stakeholders and coordination of implementation activities.

Leadership, Structural Relationships and Responsibilities

Leadership at all levels, national, regional and continental for moving forward the Agenda 2063 implementation, monitoring and evaluation process is necessary for success. In this regard, there is the need to identify the leadership points at each level and ensure their awareness together with the responsibilities assigned to them. In addition, the organization of the leadership relationships within national, regional and continental levels and more importantly between the various levels in a hierarchal order need to be articulated to avoid authority / role ambiguity and promote coherence in purpose in the execution of Agenda 2063.

Developing Capacity for Agenda 2063: First Ten Year Implementation Plan

Background

Despite enormous efforts made in the post-independence period to build Africa's human and institutional capacity, the lack of adequate capacity remains a critical constraint for economic growth, structural transformation and sustainable development that Agenda 2063 enshrines.

Among the critical success factors for the realization of Agenda 2063 are: (i) transformative leadership; (ii) effective citizens participation, inclusion and empowerment in the formulation, implementation and monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063 and the exercise full ownership; (iii) a capable development state and efficient public service; (iv) strong private sector anchored in symbiotic relationship, and democratic rule where equity, justice and rule of law prevails; (v) a results-based approach; (iv) revitalized strategic national planning systems that guides investors towards priorities of Agenda 2063 and ensures strong interface among national plans, sub-regional initiatives and Agenda 2063; and (vi) Africa taking charge of its global narrative and brand and building Africa's image and position in the world.

For Agenda 2063 to be implemented effectively, including the First Ten Year Implementation Plan, capacity issues – human, systems and processes at all levels (national, regional and continental will have to be addressed. A Capacity Assessment and Development Study is being conducted at the continental and RECs levels and ultimately at the national level within the context of the implementation of the First Ten Year Plan.

Capacities for the First Ten Year Plan

Agenda 2063 involves multiple actors at the national, sectoral, sub-national and local levels. The full realization of Agenda 2063 requires the development of huge capabilities and capacities across sectors and at various levels in three critical areas:

- (i) Individual (human capacity): generally includes capabilities in terms of skills, training, performance, values, attitudes, motivation, professional integrity, relationships, communication skills, to: fully understand Agenda 2063 underlying issues; assimilate Agenda 2063 goals and strategies at the country and local levels; conceptualize, design, develop, implement, monitor and evaluate the required and result oriented programs/ projects, policies and strategies to make Agenda 2063 happen. A prerequisite for the effective implementation of Agenda 2063, is building awareness across sectors and ensuring essential understanding of its essence at multi-levels; adopting and adapting the agenda to national contexts and ensuring collective commitment.

The first ten years lays the foundation for Africa's competitiveness and transformation from commodity dependence to one that is driven by manufacturing/industry, value addition and effective participation in the global value chains, as well as science and technology. Critical to this effort is the capacity to negotiate in all areas of Africa's interest, most notably in trade, climate change, economic partnerships and related areas. Such capacity, which Agenda 2063 envisages building, is currently woefully inadequate.

Agenda 2063 is a knowledge driven undertaking. At the policy and planning levels, it also requires data, both qualitative and quantitative, to ensure sound decision making and realistic short and medium term planning as well as the full mobilization of Africa's human, financial and material resources to achieving goals set. It needs not only statisticians that generate data, but also capable individuals that effectively use the data to develop policies, strategies, programs and projects.

- (ii) Institutional/ organizational capacity: This encompasses strategic planning, management, structures, systems of accountability, infrastructure, resources (financial and information), innovation and embracing change as well as inter-relationships to help an institution become effective in the implementation of Agenda 2063. Establishing horizontal and vertical linkages and feedback loops at each stage of Agenda 2063 implementation process is also vital. Continental and regional initiatives and programs need to be linked to and informed by national level actions and vice versa.

Transformative leadership capacity, skills to spearhead and champion the agenda (bold, visionary, ethical and responsive) and the pooling of expertise and specialized skills training based on strategic advantage; budgeting and planning to catalyze and sustain transformation are essential ingredients of institutional capacity.

Along with the building of a planning culture is the issue of regularly monitoring and reporting on work done and building an evaluative culture. A robust M&E framework is one of the factors that distinguishes Agenda 2063 from its predecessors, i.e., the Lagos Plan of Action, Abuja Treaty and NEPAD, which need to be made fully operational during the first ten years of Agenda 2063.

- (iii) Enabling policy, legal and regulatory environment: The implementation of Agenda 2063 requires not only developing policies and putting in place the requisite legislations and regulations; but also the capacity to enforce them.

Holistic capacity development encompassing human resources, institutions and enabling legal and policy environment for individuals and institutions to interact in a productive manner is, undoubtedly, critical. None of components of capacity can function well in isolation, and weaknesses in any one of these areas can have a knock-on effect on the others.

Key Stakeholders of Agenda 2063 and Capacity Needs

Earlier part of this section presented key stakeholder relationships for Agenda 2063 implementation, monitoring and evaluation at the continental, regional and national levels. During the first ten years, Agenda 2063 envisages developing effective capacity at the level of AU Organs, including the African Union Commission (AUC), Pan African Parliament (PAP), Economic, Social and Cultural Council (ECOSOCC), African Court of Justice, Human and People Rights, Commission on Human and Peoples' Rights; African Peer Review Mechanism (APRM), NEPAD Planning and Coordination Agency, and the eight RECs, notably, Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa (COMESA), Southern African Development Community (SADC), Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS), East African Community (EAC), Inter-governmental Authority on Development (IGAD), Economic Community of Central African States (ECCAS), Community of Sahel Saharan States (CEN-SAD), and Arab Maghreb Union (AMU).

Member States have the ultimate and critical responsibility of making Agenda 2063 happen through integrating Agenda 2063 into the series of short, medium and long term plans, policies and strategies they have developed and are developing. Member states should also fully own Agenda 2063 and build the necessary human, institutional and legislative capacity.

Given the important role CSOs and private sector play in the implementation of Agenda 2063, strengthening the capacity of institutions entrusted with the task of coordinating and supporting activities of CSOs and private sector is accorded priority importance.

Role of Communications in Agenda 2063: First Ten Year Implementation Plan

Among the major shortcomings experienced in the execution of previous continental strategies and frameworks was the lack of effective use of communication tools. In order to ensure successful implementation of the Agenda 2063, a Communication Strategy has been developed.

The Agenda 2063 Communication Strategy will generate sustained public awareness, involvement, support and ownership by the African population of the Agenda and its execution. It will ensure extensive outreach with up-to-date and accurate information. It is linked to the overall Communications Strategy of the African Union, and targets AU Member States, staff, organs and agencies; RECs; African citizens both within the continent and in the diaspora and their institutions, including private sector, civil society as well as AU's partners.

The Agenda 2063 Communication Strategy is to be executed by the AU Organs and Agencies (including NEPAD and APRM), RECs, Member States, close collaborators (AfDB, UNECA and ACBF) and partners. The activities will include consultation meetings, promotion of debates, discussions, workshops, community forums, songs, poems, plays, teaching in school, certification of being Agenda 2063 compliant, AU clubs, volunteers, and advertisements. It will also incorporate radio and television programmes, internet and social media, memorabilia and paraphernalia, and sport events. It will also include the publication of newsletters; and preparation of promotional items like CDs, DVDs, caps, pens, t-shirts, key holders, bags, bracelets, diaries, gold plated pins, scarf, ties; as well as branding, billboard banners, leaflets, flyers, awareness meetings and workshops and Power Point presentations at meetings.

Guidelines On Implementation of Agenda 2063

To ensure that all stakeholders are certain of their responsibilities and obligations under the implementation of Agenda 2063, the First Ten Year Plan, guidelines in annex 1 section A have been prepared. The guidelines cover national, regional and continual level stakeholders.

Generalized Implementation Plan: First Ten Years- Time Lines

Annex 2 captures a generalized implementation plan/timelines for the first ten years of Agenda 2063. The components of the plan are at inception, execution and monitoring and evaluation at all levels - national, regional and continental. The generalized framework will be refined by the stakeholders at various levels prior to commencement of the execution of the First Ten Year Plan of Agenda 2063. What this generalized framework seeks to achieve is to give the various stakeholders the reference for developing their own detailed implementation plans that are integrated into national plans.

The inception activities are the foundations for the commencement of the actual execution of the 10 Year Plan. It covers amongst others: creation / installation of the implementation structures at all levels, development of operational / planning manuals, stakeholder consultations, setting up of thematic area groups and the launch of the plan.

The execution component covers alignment of the goals, priority areas and targets of Agenda 2063 by Member States, RECs and continental entities to their visions and plans, creation of national advisory groups, adoption by national, regional and continental legislative bodies as a framework for Africa's development, capacity assessment of stakeholders, the plan implementation at all levels, public education and sensitization at all levels, mobilizing resources for financing amongst others.

The monitoring and evaluation aspects include the issuing of monitoring guidelines, the integration of Agenda 2063 monitoring and evaluation system into that of the national, regional and continental framework, executing the monitoring cycle, mid and end term evaluations, performance accountability at all levels.

The generalized timelines will be revised to reflect the actual years when the technical coordinating unit for Agenda 2063 is set up.

RATIONALE FOR AN M&E FRAMEWORK

Past development experience, review of national plans and implementation of continental frameworks indicate the need for an M&E framework to be part of the Agenda 2063 implementation. The M&E framework will serve the following purposes with respect to Agenda 2063 implementation:

- Reinforcing the culture of managing for results: The various Poverty Reduction Programmes of member states especially between 2000 and 2010, had monitoring and evaluation frameworks. These frameworks introduced member states to the culture of managing for results with respect to national economic management. While the outcomes of the monitoring and evaluation experiences have not been evaluated, there is a general consensus that these first steps in managing for development results at the member states level must be built on. It is to build on these desirable national level experiences and ensure positive outcomes that a monitoring and evaluation framework has been proposed for Agenda 2063.
- Enhancing Accountability: There are various stakeholders at the national, regional and continental levels who will be involved in the implementation of Agenda 2063. The M&E framework, by setting targets / milestones for these stakeholders provides the incentive for them to attain the goals set for them. The M&E framework provides the opportunity to identify non-performing stakeholders at all levels - to enable the system to identify the cause of non-performance and make rectifications through the evaluation process. Such a process will contribute to the success of Agenda 2063 implementation.
- Deepening Integration: The M&E framework that cascades from the continental, regional and national levels will contribute to the deepening of the integration of the continent which is one of the aspirations of the African citizenry under Agenda 2063. By monitoring the performance of the member's states in an integrative manner at the regional level, progress in the implementation of Agenda 2063 and its outcomes will be seen more in a regional context and less from a national context. Additionally by integrating the M&E of the RECs at the continental level, a snapshot of "one Africa" development performance over the periods are made possible - serving as preludes towards the United Africa the African citizenry aspires to by 2063.
- Encouraging Participation and Ownership: Agenda 2063 is people-driven indicating what and where they want to see the continent by 2063 in terms of development. The introduction of an M&E framework is to enable the Citizenry / identifiable groups to be part of the process of ensuring that the expected results from Agenda 2063 are attained.

THE STRUCTURE OF THE RESULTS FRAMEWORK

The First Ten Year Results Framework is deduced from the Agenda 2063 Results Framework as contained in the Agenda 2063 Framework document. The Results Framework for Agenda 2063 represents a logical relationship between the AU Vision, the seven African Aspirations, the goal/priority areas under each aspiration and the associated targets. These logical relationships are depicted by figure 5.1 below..

Purpose

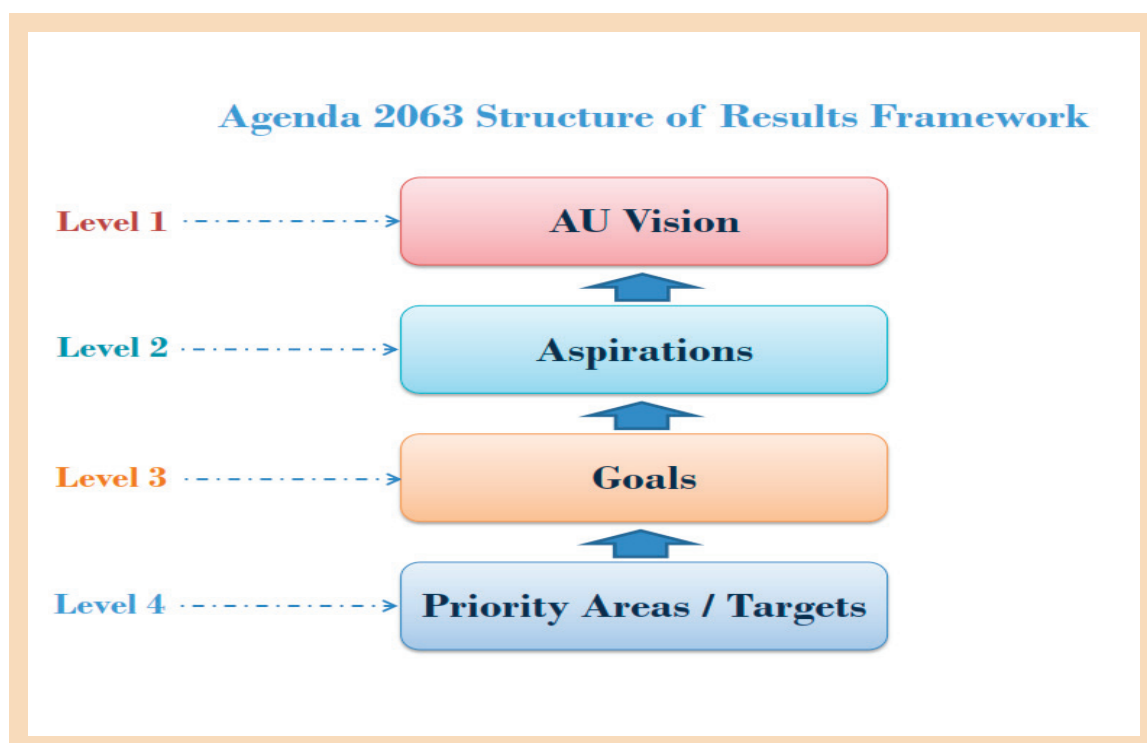

The First Ten Year Plan Results Framework provides a common point of reference that induces results oriented tactical and strategic actions at the national, regional and continental levels. It is a bird's eye view of what results and the impact the African Citizenry expects to see at the end of 2023 - assuming that all stakeholders play the roles assigned to them. It therefore provides the beacon for all stakeholders in planning, plan implementation and monitoring and evaluation.

Specifically in terms of monitoring and evaluation, the First Ten Year Plan Results Framework will be used as the: (i) reference point for measuring the progress towards the attainment of the goals, aspirations and the African Union Vision over the plan period (ii) framework for assigning and assessing the performance accountabilities of all stakeholders with respect to implementation effectiveness and (iii) process for gathering insights for the development of the Second Ten Year Plan Framework.

The Levels of the Results Framework

Table 2.1 presents the structure and scope of the results framework. What is presented in diagram 5.1 below is the logical relationship between the AU Vision, the aspirations, the goals under the aspirations and priority areas/targets under the goals. There are four main levels.

Level 1: This is the AU Vision at the top and all levels 4-2 elements in an upward cascading manner will lead to the attainment of the vision.

Level 2: This is composed of the seven Aspirations. Each of the seven aspirations has a set of goals. The level of the attainment of the goals under an aspiration to a large extent determines whether that aspiration is being achieved or not.

Level 3: The level comprises the goals under each aspiration; there are 20 goals in all. Each goal has a set of priority areas. Each priority area has a set of targets. The level of the attainment of the targets under each priority area, to a large extent determines the extent to which that goal is being met. Unlike the SDGs where the goals are specific and serve as targets, under Agenda 2063, the goals are broader and it is the priority areas/ targets that define them Level 4: These are priority areas / targets which fall under the goals. Since Agenda 2063 has a 50 year horizon, the targets under the priority areas could change with the various 5 ten year plans envisaged. But in the end the rolling targets will converge on the 2063 targets.

Policy Guidelines on Monitoring and Evaluation

To ensure that all stakeholders are certain of their responsibilities and obligations under the monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063, the First Ten Year Plan, guidelines appearing as annex 1 section B. have been prepared for their use. The guidelines cover national, regional and continual level stakeholders.

KNOWLEDGE AND EXPERIENCE SHARING

Member States have different development trajectories – knowledge and experiences emanating from their implementation of Agenda 2063 captured through their monitoring and evaluation systems could be shared for the benefit of all. Some of the mechanisms for sharing knowledge and experiences to enhance the effectiveness of the monitoring and evaluation feed back into implementation improvements envisaged include:

(i) Sharing of Best Practices

Best practices will be documented from the monitoring and evaluation reports from member states by the RECs and shared between member states through meetings, website presentation, e-network or publications. Best practices captured by RECs will be integrated at the continental level and distributed to the RECs to propagate within their member states.

(ii) Study Tours

These will be organized both at the Regional level - within and across RECs on the continent for Member States to learn first hand how monitoring for results within members states implementation plans are being done and how lessons from the monitoring are integrated into the results framework for implementation efficiency and effectiveness.

(iii) Common Platforms

Annual platforms for stakeholders on the implementation outcomes at their various points in the chain will be created at the regional and continental levels to discuss and share ideas on implementation performance.

FINANCING NEEDS FOR FIRST TEN YEARS

Agenda 2063 Financing and Resource Mobilization Strategy (RMS) outlines the key areas where resources will be required, the potential sources to finance each of these needs, processes for operationalization - matching demand and supply for funds at the national and regional/continental levels and institutional arrangements for making it happen. The focus of this chapter is the first ten years within the context of the RMS.

Annex 5 outlines areas requiring financing by aspiration and the potential sources for funding each area while table 6.1 provides a succinct presentation of the areas requiring financing in the first ten years based on annex 5.

The typology of the sources for financing the ten year needs as per Annex 5 ranges from government budgetary increases, pure commercial finance from both public and private sources/ savings, including domestic capital markets, concessional loans, market price-based commercial loans, equity and other market like instruments, FDI, portfolio investments by the private sector (debt, bonds, equity and other securities), and crowd sourcing.

CHANNELING RESOURCES INTO AGENDA 2063 PROGRAMS AND PROJECTS

It is to be noted that Africa needs not only funds, but also a more effective and inclusive means of channeling funds (including financial institutions and markets, financial instruments and financial services) to where they can be most effective and where there is market failure in the allocation of the needed resources.

From that perspective, three levels of financial intermediation vehicles and resource channeling mechanisms will be considered as part of the first 10-year implementation plan:

- Existing commercial financial intermediation vehicles such as, on the one hand, commercial banks, microfinance institutions (MFI), development finance institutions (DFI), insurance companies that will need to be up-scaled through additional capitalization and capacitated in relevant financial services and project finance expertise areas; and on the other hand, stock exchanges and bond markets that will need to be expanded, deepened and regionalized.
- New commercial financial intermediation vehicles to be created such as the Africa 50 Fund, Africa Credit Guarantee Facility (ACGF), Africa Investment Bank (AIB), Africa Infrastructure Development Facility (AIDF), Diaspora bonds, Diaspora remittances securitization, African-owned private equity funds, African Angel Investors Network (AAIN), regional stock exchanges, regional commodity exchanges. Other processes that will promote commercial financing include: Intra-African investment promotion, traditional FDI and PPPs.
- Non-commercial finance channeling or intermediation vehicles to be considered include existing vehicles such as AU, RECs and Member State budgets and new vehicles to be created such as African Integration Fund (AIF), Fund for African Women, Youth Empowerment and Entrepreneurship Fund.

FACILITATION MEASURES FOR ACCESS TO FINANCE

During the period of the first ten year plan, the following facilitation measures will be put in place at the national, regional and continental levels, depending on appropriateness within the context of Agenda 2063 Resource Mobilization Strategy (RMS):

- Developing / implementing “framework conditions” (policy, legal, regulatory or institutional) and industry –specific ones (PPP/Infrastructure financing, large industrial project financing, SME finance/banking and micro-finance);
- Setting up relevant project development funds, viability gap funds, capitalization funds, blending facilities to address demand side readiness;
- Establishing information infrastructure (country rating analysts, corporate governance standards, credit bureau and collateral registries etc.);

- Developing expertise in financial advisory services and specialist financial services where there are significant gaps across Africa (project finance, capital market, private equity/venture capital, financial engineering, risk management and industry-specific financial services); and
- Putting in place risk sharing and guarantee facilities to “de-risk” investment into African securities and enhance the risk of lending to African SME, for example.

IMPLEMENTATION ARRANGEMENTS OF THE RMS FOR THE FIRST TEN YEARS

The articulation of the institutional arrangements for the implementation of the RMS is still under consideration. The evolving consensus within Agenda 2063 implementation framework is that:

- Under the direction of the Agenda 2063 Ministerial Committee and the AUC, the African Development Bank will be the lead institution in facilitating, coordinating, monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063 RMS; and
- Identifiable key stakeholders in the implementation of the RMS at the continental level in addition to the AUC and AfDB include the NEPAD Planning and Coordinating Agency UNECA and the RECs at the regional level. At the national level, governments and non-state actors will be assigned responsibilities appropriate to their relevance and competencies.

RECOMMENDATIONS ON PARTNERSHIPS

The Context

The general consensus amongst the African Citizenry of all formations is that Agenda 2063 should be financed from within but in the short to medium term, extending, building and maximizing partnerships in the areas of resources mobilization, technology transfer, institutional and human capacity for development amongst others should be pursued. It is against this background that the AUC commissioned a study reviewing the African Union's Partnership arrangements. Within the context of Agenda 2063, the First Ten Year Plan the following recommendations should be implemented.

Preparation of AU policy framework on partnerships

The policy framework document would cover all the high-potential AU partners and would be focused on two to three core areas of intervention:

- Making Agenda 2063, the First Ten Year Implementation Plan the center-piece all partnership arrangements;
- The size/scope of the financial offer, the potential transformational impact embedded in the outcome document or action plan in terms of technical assistance, trade & investment, industrialization and technology transfer, agriculture support program and social investment; and
- The "smart" nature of the deliverables.

Maximizing Africa's potential to exploit the full potential of its partnership

To exploit the full potential of strategic partnerships the following amongst others will be looked into during the implementation of the First Ten Year Plan:

- Articulation of a strategic partnership policy with respect to each of the key strategic partners;
- Establishment of a strategic partnership fund with contribution from AU member states;
- Enhanced strategic, governance, technical, logistical and financial support to the partnership management function of the AUC
- Enhanced clarity on the implementation model of Africa's various continental platforms (PIDA, CAADP/3ADI, AIDA/APCII/RADS/AMV, BIAT) to facilitate result-oriented cooperation with AU's strategic partners and improved involvement and coordination of/among Africa's various stakeholders of the partnership process: AUC, NPCA, AfDB, RECs, Member States, PSO, CSO and other AU organs within the context of the Agenda 2063 First Ten Year Implementation Plan.

Deepening transformational benefits of the partnerships

There is a need to deepen transformational benefits of all major strategic partnerships through alignment to Agenda 2063 priorities, namely, industrialization and technology transfer, intra-African trade and export development, PSD and SMME development, FDI and JV, and financial resource mobilization.

This can be achieved by cutting down priorities and identifying where traction is (i.e. economic transformation through industrialization – i.e. infrastructure, manufacturing, agro-industry, OGM, services through genuine technology transfer namely, private sector development reforms and integrated business forum including for FDI/JV through, intra-African-trade and export development and SME development support; inclusive and sustainable growth; transparency in natural resources management, local content development and beneficiation of mineral resources). This would ensure that the partnerships are focused on current and future priorities and would allow for the needed progress to sustain the relevance of these partnerships.

*Guidelines for Implementation Monitoring and EvaluationA: IMPLEMENTATION*1 Guidelines on Adoption of Agenda 2063

The policy guidelines in this section cover issues related to Agenda 2063 and its adoption at the national, regional and continental levels as the framework for Africa's development.

Agenda 2063

- There will be five 10-year plans within the 50-year horizon of Agenda 2063.
- These 10 year plans prepared within the context of Agenda 2063- goals, priorities, targets, indicators should amongst others take cognizance of Africa's diversity – small island states, landlocked states, and natural resource endowed states and natural resource poor states.
- For the purpose of Agenda 2063, short term is defined as 2-3 years; medium term 4-5 years and long term 10 years. Member States are urged to align their national planning cycles to these definitions.

BACKGROUND

The Bahir Dar Ministerial Retreat of the Executive Council, 24 - 26 January 2014, deliberated on the Agenda 2063 Framework and agreed on actions to strengthen the sustainable management of African resources and accelerate industrialization and agricultural transformation and development. Specifically, it agreed to provide the big push and propel growth and transformation through fast tracking the implementation of programmes identified by Agenda 2063 as having strong backward, forward and lateral linkages to the economy. At the Malabo AU Summit, June 2014, the Executive Council mandated the AU Commission to continue to explore and prepare concrete actions in the implementation of these fast track programmes and initiatives.

The Ministerial Retreat mandated the AU Commission, in collaboration with the NEPAD PCO, AfDB and UNECA to undertake an assessment study and develop the programme. The XXIIth June 2014 AU Summit in Malabo, Equatorial Guinea, took the decision EX.CL/Dec.821 (XXV) requesting “the Commission to continue to explore and prepare concrete actions in the implementation of priority programmes and projects identified in Agenda 2063, listed above as well as capitalization of opportunities in the aviation sector within the framework of the implementation of the Yamoussoukro Decision on the Unification of African Air Space through dialogue and collaborative effort involving a wide range of stakeholders, and any other integrative initiatives that are in line with the spirit of Agenda 2063.”

Integrated High Speed Train Network

Connecting all African capitals and commercial centres through an African High Speed Train to facilitate movement of goods, factor services and people, reduce transport costs and relieve congestion of current and future systems.

An African Virtual and E-University

Increasing access to tertiary and continuing education in Africa by reaching large numbers of students and professionals in multiple sites simultaneously and developing relevant and high quality Open Distance and eLearning (ODeL) resources to offer the prospective student guaranteed access to the University from anywhere in the world and anytime (24 hours a day, 7 days a week).

Formulation of a commodities strategy

Enabling African countries add value, extract higher rents from their commodities, integrate into the Global Value chains, and promote vertical and horizontal diversification anchored in value addition and local content development.

Establishment of an annual African forum

This is designed to bring together, once a year, the African political leadership, the private sector, academia and civil society to discuss developments and constraints as well as measures to be taken to realize the Aspirations and goals of Agenda 2063.

Establishment of the Continental Free Trade Area by 2017

To significantly accelerate growth of Intra-Africa trade and use trade more effectively as an engine of growth and sustainable development, through doubling of intra-Africa trade by 2022, strengthen Africa's common voice and policy space in global trade negotiations and establish the following financial institutions within agreed upon timeframes: African Investment Bank and Pan African Stock Exchange (2016); the African Monetary Fund (2018); and the African Central Bank (2028/34).

The African Passport and free movement of people

Transforming Africa's laws, which remain generally restrictive on movement of people despite political commitments to bring down borders with the view to promoting the issuance of visas by Member States and enhance free movement of African citizens in all African countries by 2018.

Implementation of the Grand Inga Dam Project

The optimal development of the Inga Dam will generate 43,200 MW of power to support current regional power pools and their combined service to transform Africa from traditional to modern sources of energy and ensure access of all Africans to clean and affordable electricity.

The Pan-African E-Network

This involves a wide range of stakeholders and envisages putting in place policies and strategies that will lead to transformative e-applications and services in Africa especially the intra-African broad band terrestrial infrastructure and cyber security thereby making information revolution the basis for service delivery in the bio and nanotechnology industries and ultimately transform Africa into an e-Society.

Silencing the guns by 2020

Ending all wars, civil conflicts, gender based violence and violent conflicts and prevent genocide. Monitor progress through the establishment and operationalization of an African Human Security Index (AHSI).

Africa Outer Space Strategy

This aims to strengthen Africa's use of outer space to bolster its development. Outer space is of critical importance to the development of Africa in all fields: agriculture, disaster management, remote sensing, climate forecast, banking and finance, as well as defence and security. Africa's access to space technology products is no longer a matter of luxury and there is a need to speed up access to these technologies and products. New developments in satellite technologies make these very accessible to African countries.

Establishment of a Single African Air Transport Market

This flagship project aims at delivering a single African air transport market to facilitate air transportation in Africa.

Establishment of the African Continental Financial Institutions

Establishment of the African Continental Financial Institutions aims at accelerating integration and socio-economic development of the continent, as they are important institutions for the mobilization of resources and management of the financial sector.

The Agenda 2063 Framework document spells out the key success factors and the potential risks/risks and mitigation strategies with respect to the implementation of Agenda 2063. This annex outlines these issues within the context of the first 10 year plan as against the 50 year horizon in the technical document.

The critical success factors are : leadership and political commitment, harmonious and predictable working relationships between the AUC and the RECs, the need for capable development states, institutional capacities for implementation, monitoring and evaluation, ensuring participation, inclusion and empowerment of citizens and results orientation.

The risks /threats and mitigation strategies cover conflict, instability and insecurity, failure to harness the demographic dividend, climate risk and natural disasters, external shocks and inadequate resources.

1. CRITICAL SUCCESS FACTORS AND STRATEGIES TO ENSURE THEIR EXISTENCE

The presentation below lists some the critical success factors and steps taken to ensure their existence in the implementation of Agenda 2063 /The First Ten Year Plan

Leadership and Political Commitment

This is a critical success factor that would shape Africa's future and determine the success of Agenda 2063. Transformational leadership will be required in all fields and at all levels: politics, business, industry, academia, religion, chieftaincy, culture, health amongst others..

- Implementation arrangements for Agenda 2063 have identified leadership points at the national, regional and continental levels and assigned roles, responsibilities and accountabilities to each of them. A monitoring and evaluation framework has been proposed to track the performance of each of the leadership points - to ensure compliance to their responsibilities.
- To ensure political commitment Agenda 2063 National Advisory Groups made up of non-state actors facilitated by the ECOSOCC of the AU will provide advocacy, participate and monitor the implementation of Agenda 2063. It is supposed to engage the political leadership at all times with respect to the implementation of Agenda 2063. In addition, the Pan Africa Parliament has been assigned the role of ensuring that all African Legislatures adopt Agenda 2063 as the blue print for Africa's development and also play the advocacy for African Political Parties in the use of Agenda 2063 as the basis for the preparation of their campaign manifestos.
- The first down payment signaling political commitment at the highest level for the implementation / oversight of Agenda 2063 is the creation of Ministerial Committee on Agenda 2063 by the Executive Council of the AU. It is anticipated that the committee will galvanize the political leadership to ensure the successful implementation of Agenda 2063.

Capable Developmental State

Ability of Member states to domesticate the Ten Year Plan Results Framework into the national planning system is key to the success of the implementation of Agenda 2063. This hinges on

Member States having capable professionals, institutions, systems and processes at all levels to manage national development process driven by the Ten Year Plan Results Framework.

- Goal number 12, Priority Areas 1 and 2 (under Aspiration 3) of the Results Framework is devoted to the building of capable development states. Implementation of aspects of the strategies relate to the building of the capacities of public sector institutions in domestication, monitoring and implementation of Agenda 2063 in particular and national economic / development management in general.
- A capacity assessment and development plan is being prepared for RECs and continental organs which will be involved in the implementation, monitoring and evaluation of the First Ten Year Plan. The next step will be develop a capacity assessment / development plan for member states based on a sample of members states. The implementation of all capacity development plans at the various stakeholder levels will go a long way in building ensuring the timely and effective implementation of the First Ten Year Plan at all levels
- To strengthen the domestication capacity at all levels, an operational manual for the implementation of the first ten year at all levels is to be developed and stakeholders introduced to them. These manuals will enhance speed of compliance and consistency / predictability in the outcomes of the tasks assigned to the various stakeholders

Financing and Resource Mobilization

Sustainable and predictable financing is critical to the success of the implementation of the First Ten Year Plan. In view of this, steps are being taken to ensure that funds are available at the national, regional level and continental level for the implementation of the Plan. The key steps include:

- The development of a comprehensive financing, domestic resource mobilization and partnership strategies which identifies the various areas in the plan which will require incremental / new interventions at the national, regional and continental levels and identification of the potential sources of funding for each intervention area. Part of the strategy is to provide concrete steps to make the required intermediation operational / possible at the three levels of implementation.
- Goal 20, Priority Areas 2 and 3 under aspiration 7 of the first Ten Year Plan sets targets / strategies for Member States to increase the quantum of domestic resources mobilized in real terms and also takes steps to minimize aid dependency and maximize benefits from partnerships.

Participation, inclusion and empowerment of Citizens

Effective participation of all stakeholders in the conception/ design, implementation monitoring and evaluation of Agenda is a critical success factor which will enhance understanding and knowledge of Agenda 2063, ownership, mobilization of resources, individual and collective commitment.

- Agenda 2063 has been prepared through a participatory process. Key groups- the private sector, Think Tanks, Faith Based, the Youth, Women, the Media, the Planners, CSOs, the Diaspora, the RECs have been consulted. Member States are to use their national systems to elicit comments from the Citizenry through a participatory process and submit to the AUC.

- The proposed implementation framework for the ten year plan makes provision for ECOSOCC facilitating in collaboration with members states government setting up and galvanizing non-state actors in the domestication, implementation and monitoring and evaluation of Agenda 2063. In addition, there is to be an annual Continental Stakeholder Platform where stakeholders from all formations of the African Continent including the diaspora will participate in discussions on progress on Agenda 2063 implementation.
- Inclusiveness of all citizens on both the processes and outcomes of Agenda 2063 is at the heart of Aspirations 1,4 and 6 of the Agenda, where specific targets and strategies are to be put in place to expand productive access and participation in economic opportunities to the poor; provide social protection to the vulnerable, marginalized and the disable and empowerment of women and youth.
- Citizens engagement and participation are at the heart of the Communication Strategy that has been prepared and is going to be implement to galvanize the African Citizenry in the form of a call to action.

Result Orientation

- Efforts have been made to ensure that there is paradigm shift towards planning for results at both the national and continental levels. A review of national plans indicates the growing use of Results Framework as the basis for monitoring and evaluation of national plans. To reinforce this, Agenda 2063 has a result framework which member states are expected to domesticate into their national systems.
- The role assigned to National Advisory Groups on Agenda 2063 is to ensure that the Agenda 2063 results framework does not gather dust- but to be used to hold the stakeholders accountable to results.

Mutually agreed and legally defined roles between the AUC and the RECs on implementation

The proposed institutional arrangements for the implementation, monitoring and evaluation of the First Ten Year Plan assigns key roles to both the AUC and the RECs. The RECs have been assigned the specific role as the link between the AUC and Member States in implementation, monitoring and evaluation. For that link to work effectively the mandates of the RECs and the AUC not only have to be harmonized, there has to be mutual compliance in set / agreed obligations. Efforts are underway to make sure that this happens.

- A platform already exists whereby the AUC and the RECs meet to agree on policy issues related to Agenda 2063 and others before submissions are made to the Executive Council. To build on this, a Study is to be conducted on the division of labour between the AUC and the RECs with respect to the implementation, monitoring and evaluation of the First Ten Year Plan. When completed, the two parties in the least/interim are expected to sign and MOU as to the respective roles and obligations.
- The creation of the Ministerial Committee on Agenda 2063, who represent the Chairs of RECs go a long way to ensure the AUC and the RECs work harmoniously in the implementation of The First Ten Year Plan. The outcome of the Committee deliberations when adopted by the Summit becomes binding on both the RECs and the AUC. The committee as representative of the Chairs of the RECs and also who through the validation process exercise oversight functions on the AUC with respect to Agenda 2063 will ensure that both work in harmony for the implementation of the First Ten Year Plan.

2. RISKS, THREATS AND MITIGATION STRATEGIES

The presentation below lists some the risks/threats that could affect the implementation of the First Ten Plan and some mitigating strategies

Conflict, Instability and Insecurity

Lack of pluralism, poor management of diversities (ethnic and religious in the main), competition over scarce resources and the consequences of poor national economic management are the main causes of conflict on the continent.

- The African Governance Architecture of the Union provides the framework for addressing the issue of pluralism. Aspiration 3, goal 11 priority area (1) Democratic Values and Practices are the Norm provides the vehicle for promoting political pluralism on the Continent. In addition, entrenching the democratic cultures will ensure religious tolerance, whose absence tends to be a source of conflict and insecurity in some member states.
- Agenda 2063 provides frameworks for managing diversities at the national and continental levels. At the national level, Aspiration 4, goal 13, priority area (1) Maintenance and Restoration of Peace and Security requires development of policies and strategies at the national level for the management of ethnicity, exclusiveness and religious fanaticism.
- At the continental level, Agenda 2063 addresses the concerns of island states (blue economy/needs of island states), land locked states (port to capital railway connectivity), and non-natural resource base states (diversification). In addition the results expected in each area has built in flexibility to reflect the fact that member states are at different points of the growth / development trajectory.
- Competition over scarce resources- land, water, extractive resources amongst other as root causes of conflicts have been addressed through the requirement for the implementation of AU land policy and the African Mineral Vision within the Agenda 2063 Framework. For example, the latter, makes provision for the recognition, integration of artisanal mining - a major source of conflicts is mineral rich states- in the national mining strategy.
- Agenda 2063 itself can not be implemented if national development management capacities are deficient. Provision has been made as mentioned earlier to ensure the development of capacities under Agenda 2063 to manage the development process and outcomes that are inclusive and transparent.
- Lastly in general, Agenda 2063 recognizes the successful prevention, resolution of conflicts including post-conflict management as key to the attainment of the African Aspirations by 2063. In view of this, three out of the 18 goals address the issues related to peace and security on the continent.

Failure to Harness the Demographic Dividend

In the next 50 years Africa's biggest single asset but also its potential Achilles heel will be its youthful population. The upside risk of the youth population is their contribution to economic growth resulting in increased incomes and employment. The downside risk is the inability to provide gainful employment for them thus creating a potential source of instability.

- Agenda 2063 provides strategies for the avoidance of the downside risk. For example, under aspiration 1, goal 2, priority area (1) Education and STI driven skill revolution- the youth are expected to be provided with free and compulsory secondary education, provision of employable skills in science, technology and innovation at the tertiary and TVET levels.
- To ensure that these skills are employed for the growth of the economy and reduction in youth unemployment (i) aspiration 1, goal 5, priority area 1 as part of the CAADEP framework, requires member states to provide / implement framework for increasing youth employment by 30%, across all the agricultural value chains by 2023 and (ii) under aspiration 6, goal 18, priority area (1) by 2023 at least 15% of all business start ups emanate from the youth and will be empowered by having enhanced access to capital / finance, market access amongst others. with the objective of reducing 2013 youth unemployment rate by at least 25%.

Climate Risks and Natural Disasters

The Inter-Government panel on Climate Change declared Africa as one of the most vulnerable Continents to climate change and variability against the background of a low adaptive capability.

- To pre-empt the consequence on climate change and variability on Africa- livelihoods based on land, sea/rivers etc. aspiration 1, goal 7, priority area (3) is addressing the issues of climate resilience and natural disasters arising from it. Targets / strategies have been set / are to be put in place to enable farmers, fisher folks and pastoralist to practice climate resilient production systems, reduce emission levels arising from agriculture bio-diversity loss, land use and deforestation.
- An African Climate Fund is to be set up and used to develop / implement intervention strategies at the national level. The Fund is to supplement Africa's share of global funds earmarked for implementing climate smart and resilient policies at the national level.

External Shocks

- African countries have been and will continue to be extremely vulnerable to the vicissitudes of global market forces. Key triggers for such shocks have been falling commodity prices, financial shocks and the collapse of the economies of Africa's major trading partners, disruptive technologies amongst others. Proposed risk mitigation strategies include:
- Falling Commodity Prices: To minimize external risks due to falling commodity prices, Agenda 2063, aspiration 1, goal 4 is devoted to the transformation of African economies through value addition to agricultural products and extractive commodities - to create jobs and minimize the impact of commodity price fluctuations on African economies. The goal also makes provision for economic diversification of members states - with the objective of minimizing the impact of external economic shocks on incomes, output and employment.
- External Financial Shocks: Financial shocks emanating from, for example, failure of financial institutions in the western world, could create havoc for African economies through reductions in foreign direct investment, private equity capital flight and its consequent effect on exchange rates. Agenda 2063 attempts to address this threat by reducing the reliance on aid / foreign capital inflows in financing the continents development. National, regional and continental stock exchanges are being envisaged, an African Investment Bank, Africa Credit Guarantee Agency, African Remittances Institute, Africa50 Fund and an Africa Monetary Union are to be created to minimize Africa's dependence on the global financial system. A Resource Mobilization Strategy for Agenda 2063 has been prepared and is to address in practical terms how Africa will finance her development from her own resources in the longer term

- Disruptive Technologies: Africa's key risk / threat in the area of disruptive technology is the making of her natural resources commodities as an input into the global production process less relevant as a results of advances in material science and bio-technology. Fortunately for Africa, it has the opportunity and the right to stay on the old technology to manufacture products for the African market emanating from integration while it builds her capacity through investments in science, technology and innovation / research and development to be nimble and adaptive in a disruptive technological environment. For example in the area of oil, Africa still has the responsibility to provide power to homes, factories and offices; provide petrol to the growing middle class that will be owning their own cars. Africa can therefore in the medium term not be bothered by a declining demand for her oil by the rest of the world as a result of a replacement of oil through a disruptive technology.
