Overview

Delaware Technical Community College (DTCC) is a statewide multi-campus community college committed to providing open admission postsecondary education. DTCC provides academic, technical, continuing education and industrial training opportunities to Delaware residents at four campuses.

Delaware Technical Community College

Numerous degree programs are offered, including the Associate in Applied Science degree, which is granted upon successful completion of specific curriculum requirements. In addition, diploma and certificate programs are offered in a variety of technical areas at each campus.

DTCC and its campuses are fully accredited by the Commission on Higher Education, Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools. In addition, several curricula have earned program-based accreditation by various professional organizations.

The George Campus is located in Wilmington; the Stanton Campus is near Newark; the Owens Campus is near Georgetown; and the Terry Campus is north of Dover.

The President’s Office, located adjacent to the Terry Campus, functions as a central office by providing a variety of services in support of the campuses. DTCC’s enrollment continues to reflect strong support of Delawareans with 96 percent of the College’s students forecasted to be in-state residents. It is estimated that one-fourth of Delaware’s adult population has taken courses at DTCC in its short history.
