

Treat anyone to their favorite meals with vouchers →

Vouchers give you more control over how your organization spends. Provide meal options based on your needs, and bring the best of Uber Eats to your customers, guests, or employees.

Take care of their meals

It's easy to create a voucher and send a unique or general link to your guests, clients, or employees. It's also easy to redeem: simply click the link to claim on an Uber account and use the voucher at checkout.

Set your terms

Tailor meal campaigns and set details to suit your needs. You can create limits on spending per order, number of orders, dates and times, and other parameters to fit your organization's goals.

Understand real-time redemption

Gain insights into how your employees and customers use vouchers—including total spending, meals ordered, and number of vouchers claimed—to monitor usage and overall costs.

Savor the opportunity to stand out →

Cover meals for your guests, clients, or employees, any way you decide.

Events

Provide an voucher for attendees at your virtual conference, sales training, or webinar, so they can eat while they participate.

Employee morale

Treat employees who have gone above and beyond to their favorite meal and keep your team connected by providing a much-needed morale boost.

Client meetings

Make a great and lasting impression with clients and prospects—offer a meal that will make them feel special, and keep them happy and engaged.

Guest add-ons

Add a courtesy meal for customers and guests as part of their purchase or experience to show your appreciation and drive loyalty.