

James Clark to the State of Kentucky 1850

Ms. 1779

THE
LIBRARY OF THE MUSEUM OF COMPARATIVE ZOOLOGY
— HARVARD UNIVERSITY —

Handwritten text in cursive script, likely a collection or identification note. The text is partially obscured and difficult to read, but appears to include the name of the plant and possibly a collector's name.

Additional handwritten text in cursive script, possibly a date or location note.

1. The first part of the history of the country is a study of the early years of the settlement and the growth of the community. The early years of the settlement
 are the most interesting and the most important part of the history.

The second part of the history is a study of the growth of the community and the development of the country. The growth of the community is the most important part of the history. The development of the country is the most interesting part of the history.
