Comments Due: November 13, 2024

Reply Comments Due: November 25, 2024

The Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau (Bureau) of the Federal Communications Commission (Commission) seeks comment on two applications for certification to provide Internet-based telecommunications relay service (TRS) supported by the Interstate Telecommunications Relay Services (TRS) Fund: (1) the application of Sorenson Communications, LLC (Sorenson), for certification to provide Video Relay Service (VRS) supported by the Interstate Telecommunications Relay Services (TRS) Fund;¹ and (2) the application filed by CaptionCall, LLC, (CaptionCall), for certification to provide Internet Protocol Captioned Telephone Service (IP CTS) supported by the Interstate TRS Fund.² In 2022, the Bureau granted Sorenson and CaptionCall conditional certification to provide VRS and IP CTS, respectively, after the acquisition of majority ownership and control of these entities by Ariel GP Holdco, LLC (“Ariel”).³ The Bureau conditioned those grants on Sorenson and CaptionCall filing these applications for full certification under their new ownership.⁴
