

GAF Advanced Algae Protection

The algae-fighting technology no one else has

Proprietary to GAF, our Time-Release Algae-Fighting Technology powers our 25 and 30-year limited warranties against blue-green algae discoloration on our most popular shingles.

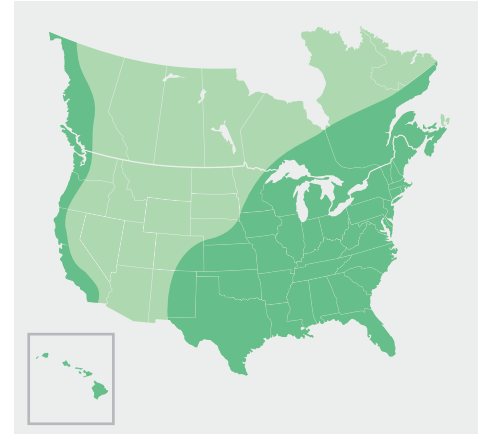

GAF Advanced Algae Protection

The Challenge: Blue-Green Algae Discoloration

- More than 80% of homes in North America are exposed to blue-green algae (Gloeocapsa magma), which leaves dark black stains wherever it grows and makes millions of perfectly good roofs look old before their time.
- Many traditional algae-resistant shingles use granules that contain a layer of algae-fighting copper that is released onto the roof when it's wet. As the roof ages, those granules release less copper, reducing the shingle's algae resistance.

Gloeocapsa magma is blue-green in color, but surrounds itself with a dark brownish-black shell to protect against the sun's rays. The dark shell causes the telltale streaking on the roof.

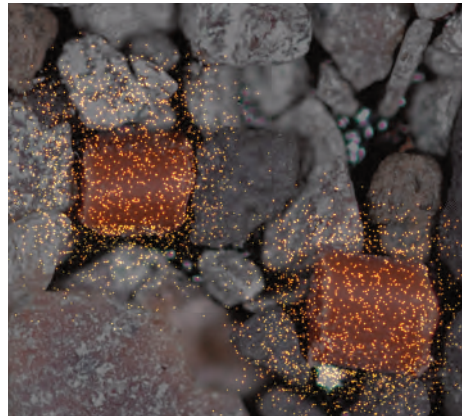

Blue-green algae can be found throughout the U.S. and Canada but poses a much greater problem in areas of high humidity.

The Response: GAF Time-Release Algae-Fighting Technology

- Specially engineered capsules are infused throughout with thousands of copper microsites.
- These breakthrough capsules release algae-fighting copper efficiently, over time, for long-lasting algae-fighting power.
- Time-Release Algae-Fighting Technology allows us to offer 25 and 30-year limited warranties against blue-green algae discoloration on qualifying GAF products.*
