

BEGIN DEEP PROBE INTO TULSA RIOTS

Grand Jury May Hear 200 Witnesses—Conduct of Officials Under Fire.

By the Associated Press.
TULSA, Okla., June 8.—Twelve men tentatively accepted as jurors were in the box today and it was expected to complete selection of a special grand jury to investigate the race riot here last week.

The attorney general, in charge of the inquiry, to begin calling witnesses this afternoon.

The attorney general said that 150 to 200 witnesses would be summoned. He estimated that the inquiry would last a week or more, until he obtained the "exact facts."

The attorney general's court of inquiry, dealing with the conduct of local officials, was in session yesterday, but the evidence brought out was kept secret. Five negro policemen were among those called before the attorney general.

An indication of the turn the grand jury investigation will take developed in the examination of prospective jurors. The veniremen were negligent in showing that they had been negligent in taking steps to prevent the riot, and they were questioned as to whether race prejudice would affect their decision.

MR. DENBY PRAISES CREW FOR RESCUE IN POTOMAC

Gives Personal Commendation for Aid When Launch Burns Off Mount Vernon.

Commendation was personally given yesterday by Secretary of the Navy Danby to Lieut. Beard, commanding officer of the U. S. S. Eagle 9, his officers and men, for the prompt and efficient manner in which they went to the rescue of sailors who jumped overboard from a burning Navy launch just the dock at Mount Vernon Tuesday afternoon.

After praising the work of the officers and men of this vessel, which is manned entirely by members of the naval reserve, he said that he would officially write them a letter of commendation, which will be made a part of their records.

The launch was attached to the President's yacht, the Mayflower, and had accompanied the U. S. S. Sylph down the river to act as tender in transferring mail and supplies to the friends from the latter vessel to the dock at Mount Vernon.

When the launch was proceeding to the dock to return the party to the Sylph fire broke out, followed by an explosion of the gasoline tank. When the men manning the boat saw that they could not get the fire under control they jumped overboard.

The Eagle was proceeding to this city, and a signalman on the Sylph's bridge informed them of the need of help in rescuing the party in the water. Lieut. Beard rang up all speed and brought the vessel to the Mount Vernon dock, and a lifeboat was lowered quickly and proceeded to the scene. The Sylph's boat also was lowered. Three of the men were picked up by the sailors from the Eagle 9 and the other three of the boat's crew by the crew of the Sylph.

The launch had been beached, and burned to the water's edge. None of the men was injured.

Union Chiefs Hint at Strikes, When Railroad Wages Are Cut

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 8.—Giving warnings that the acceptance of wage reductions was in the hands of the rank and file of employees, railroad brotherhood chiefs have disclaimed responsibility if the men refused to accept a cut and "a stoppage of traffic" result. The strike suggestion was made by L. E. Sheppard, head of the conductors' union, W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen, in opening the "big four" testimony before the Railroad Labor Board's wage hearing.

They were followed by W. S. Carter, president of the firemen and engine men, who developed a new field of evidence in behalf of the engine service men. Almost disregarding the cost of living and outside wage arguments used heretofore, Mr. Carter presented voluminous data on the hazards of his men's employment, and on what he called their losing fight to maintain an adequate wage standard.

The attitude of the railroads in attempting to cut wages and the Labor Board's reduction order of the engine men was declared to be the responsible cause if the train and engine service men vote to strike July 1, when they meet here in conference, Mr. Sheppard said.

Mr. Carter also made a lengthy comparison with wages in the metal building industries since 1907. These comparisons were challenged by John G. Walber, representing the eastern railroads, who stated that the witness for half an hour over the value of his statistics. The comparison, however, Carter said, was not intended to show actual wage relations as to show that the trades had received much greater increases in pay in the last fifteen years.

Freight Rates Not to Be Cut.

NEW YORK.—Formal notice of the decision of the railroads that a general lowering of freight rates, recently discussed at a conference in Washington, was not justifiable under present conditions was sent to shippers by E. Morris, chairman of the Central Freight Association. His statement added that the carriers realized the percentage increase granted last year produced inequalities, which the roads are seeking diligently to correct.

Formal statement was necessary to set at rest uncertainty in business.

Applications must be filed with Morgan H. Beach, clerk of the District Supreme Court, not later than Saturday.

The examinations will be held at the Georgetown University School of Law, which has turned its building over to return the party to the committee on examinations comprises John Paul Earnest, chairman; Ralph Given, secretary; Irving Williams, Walter C. Clephane, John E. Laskey, Hayden Johnson, William E. Leahy and Charles V. Imlay.

ZIONISTS IRON OUT THEIR DIFFICULTIES

Crisis Passes as Commission Government Is Adopted as Conference Closes.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 9.—Loyalty and allegiance to the World Zionist Organization and whole-hearted support of the Keren Hayesod, limited (Palestine foundation fund), were pledged by delegates to the American Zionist Organization at the closing session of their twenty-fourth annual convention here yesterday.

Resolutions adopted acknowledge the Zionist congress as the supreme authority in all Zionist affairs and of such other legislative bodies established in accordance with the statutes of the congress, and binds the American organization to decisions of the congress.

Complete and unstinted co-operation of all Jews and Zionists in the upbuilding of Palestine and that "the resolution of the Zionist congress is an end," is urged, in resolutions adopted.

Recommendation is made in the resolutions that the charter of the Keren Hayesod, adopted by the London conference, be amended so that the rights of contributors "shall be specifically guaranteed by the charter and statutes thereof."

Contributors Organized.
The resolutions recommend that contributors to the Keren Hayesod be organized by countries, and in each country or group of countries, an annual gathering of contributors or certificate holders, or of their representatives, should take place. These gatherings shall in turn elect representatives to the council of the Keren Hayesod, which shall meet at least once a year.

All Zionist and Jews are appealed to proceed with the work for the Keren Hayesod, in order that the foundation of the Jewish national home in Palestine may be laid without delay.

The recommendations requiring that the Keren Hayesod, while remaining under control of the World Zionist Organization, shall be so constituted that it shall function in America as a democratic agency and that provisions be made for participation in the management of the Keren Hayesod.

Members of Committee.

The commission form of administration was adopted. Instead of electing a president and officers to succeed those who resigned with President Julian W. Mack, an administrative committee was elected. Its members are: Peter J. Schweitzer, general treasurer; Louis Lipsky, general secretary; and Herman Conheim, Abraham Goldberg, Bernard A.
