

HARDWICK INAUGURATED GOVERNOR OF GEORGIA

Promises Economy and Tunes on Race Problem in Inaugural Address.

By the Associated Press. ATLANTA, June 25.—Thomas W. Hardwick, former United States senator, was inaugurated Governor of Georgia today in the first outdoor exercises held since the inauguration of Hoke Smith in 1907. He succeeds Hugh M. Dorsey, who has served four years. In his brief inaugural address, Gov. Hardwick declared for an economical administration, stating he would take up the state's financial condition later in a more specific message.

Answering what he said was "widespread criticism" of a state following publication of a pamphlet on "The Condition of the Negro in Georgia," Mr. Hardwick said Georgia had been indicted, most unfortunately, and it is not justly, for mistreating the negro, for peonage and other kinds of crimes, and that "there is no real basis in truth and in fact upon which the accusation can rest."

In his final message, sent to the legislature today, Gov. Dorsey devoted the major portion to a discussion of the state's financial condition. The governor condemned the practice of creating new counties, declaring that, next to Texas, Georgia already had many more counties than any other state in the Union. Mob violence, he declared, "if this is not done, it is very probable that federal intervention will not long be delayed. Since my induction into office on June 30, 1917, the newspapers have carried accounts of the lynching of fifty-eight negroes. From sources which so far as I know, are reliable I have information regarding other lynchings not included in the list."

"A method should be provided whereby a state grand jury, composed of citizens selected from all sections might make full investigation into the crime and have authority to return presentments and those participating in mob violence."

"The governor should be given authority to remove any sheriff found derelict in his duties, not only with respect to protecting prisoners, but as regards any failure on the part of that official to properly discharge the duties of his office."

TULSA POLICEMEN UNDER INDICTMENT

Chief and Other Members of Force Accused in Connection With Recent Riot.

By the Associated Press. TULSA, Okla., June 25.—Chief of Police John A. Gustafsen of the Tulsa police department and other members of the department were indicted today by a grand jury in connection with the recent riot and on charges of permitting vice.

Other indictments were returned against Roy Ward, head of the police automobile recovery department; Roy Meacham, traffic officer; E. F. Waddell, chief of police of Sand Springs, a suburb, and E. F. Williams, Sand Springs policeman.

The jury in its report recommended that the indicted officers be immediately suspended from office. The charges of permitting vice were not in connection with the race riots, it was said.

The minor members of the Tulsa police department are implicated in an automobile theft case. Charges against Chief Gustafsen include failure to enforce law against vice in rooming houses, failure to enforce the prohibition laws, failure to enforce the anti-gun-carrying law and dereliction of duty on the night of the riot.

Engineer Overcome Finding Man He Hit Was Close Friend

Special Dispatch to The Star. WINCHESTER, Va., June 25.—An official inquiry to fix responsibility for the tragic death of John J. Lee, rich Clarke county farmer, stockman and legislative candidate, who was run down by a Norfolk and Western railway express train at a grade crossing near White Post, Va., last week, is to be made.

It is learned that the engineer of the train was Turner Clingan, a schoolmate and boyhood chum of Mr. Lee. Both had been warm friends more than forty years. The engineer is said to have been so overcome when he discovered that his train had killed one of his most loyal friends that a substitute had to complete his run. Mr. Lee owned the farm on which Mr. Clingan was born, and only recently remodeled the old stone house where the Clingan family lived.

MRS. KABER TO PLEAD TEMPORARY INSANITY

Attorney Announces Defense in Trial for Murder of Her Husband, to Begin Tuesday.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 25.—Temporary insanity will be the defense of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber when she goes on trial next Tuesday morning charged with first degree murder of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, in his Lakewood home on July 18, 1919. Attorney Francis W. Foulson, counsel for Mrs. Kaber, announced today.

"I will file a motion for a continuance," he said, "but this will be merely a formality on which to base an appeal to a higher court in the event the verdict goes against my client, if the motion is refused, as I think it will be. I would have basis for a claim that insufficient time was given for preparation of the defense."

"Foulson made a motion for a postponement of Mrs. Kaber's trial ten days ago. County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton publicly delayed and Common Pleas Judge Maurice Bernon refused to grant it.

Nothing could be learned today as to the defense that will be put forward in the cases of Marian McArdle, daughter of Mrs. Kaber, Mrs. Mary Brickel, mother of Mrs. Kaber, Mrs. Emma Colavito, charged with aiding her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, in his death, all under arrest, charged with first degree murder, or Salvatore Calia, who, following his capture near Buffalo, N. Y., several days ago, admitted he was one of the actual slayers of Kaber.

Without Any Pain

Most of us still retain the fear of the "dentist's chair," we received in childhood and think only of a visit to a dental office when the tooth begins to give trouble. Now, as a matter of fact, the tortures of the treatment of teeth long ago became obsolete in better-class dental parlors, and today the study of dentistry is among the highest professions.

ALLEGED TO HAVE TAKEN BONDS WORTH $209,000

Charles D. Zell, Former Trust Company Treasurer, Accused by Pennsylvania Banking Commissioner.

By the Associated Press. LANCASTER, Pa., June 25.—Charles D. Zell, former treasurer of the Agricultural Trust Company here, closed by the state department of banking Thursday, took more than $209,000 in liberty bonds and negotiable papers from the bank, according to John S. Fisher, state commissioner of banking, who is investigating the company's condition.

The bonds were given to Zell for safe-keeping by numerous persons, and he used them, it is said, in his speculative operations. He admits, it is said by the authorities, to misappropriating this sum. No securities were found in his house, when it was searched today.

Juggling the accounts of depositors, the alleged forging of a name to a check, the misappropriation of liberty bonds left for conversion and exchange, and the execution of orders for the purchase of securities which were paid for out of savings accounts, but never delivered, are some of the features of the treasurer's juggling revealed by recent investigations.

MINERS IN DELIBERATE CONSPIRACY IS CHARGE

Chairman of Coal Operators' Committee in West Virginia Welcomes Senatorial Investigation.

By the Associated Press. WILLIAMSON, W. Va., June 25.—In a statement made public here today welcoming a senatorial investigation of disturbances in Mingo, W. Va., coal fields, Harry Olmsted, chairman of the labor committee of the Williamson Coal Operators' Association, declares the disturbances in the Mingo, W. Va., and Pike county, Ky., fields have been the results of a "deliberate conspiracy on the part of the United Mine Workers of America," and that the United Mine Workers is "an illegal and irresponsible organization."

The statement, in part, says: "We expect to show that the violence, assaults, killings, shootings and destruction of property in Mingo county, W. Va., and Pike county, Ky., beginning with the Matewan assassinations, have all been in accord with the policy of the United Mine Workers' organization and in furtherance of a conspiracy, and form a deliberate part of the plan to carry the conspiracy into effect."
