Honorable Briana H. Zamora
Supreme Court Justice – Statewide

RETAIN

Justice Briana Zamora’s overall survey results were quite positive. She was rated highly by attorneys for conducting herself in a manner free from impropriety, treating all courtroom participants with respect, and maintaining professional demeanor in the courtroom. Court staff, district judges, and her fellow judges and justices at the Court of Appeals and Supreme Court gave her positive scores in all areas.

Honorable Jennifer L. Attrep
Court of Appeals Judge – Statewide

RETAIN

Judge Jennifer Attrep was rated highly in many areas by court staff, district judges, and fellow appellate judges and justices. Lawyers rated her positively for conducting herself in a manner free from impropriety, treating all courtroom participants with respect, maintaining professional demeanor in the courtroom, and being prepared. Lawyers were concerned she did not always address legal issues clearly and there were concerns with her timeliness in writing opinions.

Honorable Megan P. Duffy
Court of Appeals Judge – Statewide

RETAIN

Judge Megan Duffy’s survey results were somewhat mixed. Attorneys rated her positively for maintaining professional demeanor in the courtroom and providing court participants with a meaningful opportunity to be heard. Court staff rated her positively for rendering opinions without regard to outside pressure and maintaining a professional demeanor. Court staff gave her low ratings on timeliness in making rulings and rendering decisions, effectively handling her ongoing workload, and treating court employees with respect.

Honorable Shammara H. Henderson
Court of Appeals Judge – Statewide

RETAIN

Judge Shammara Henderson received positive scores from attorneys for treating all courtroom participants with respect, maintaining professional demeanor, and being prepared. District court judges gave her generally positive ratings. Appellate court judges rated her positively in most categories, but somewhat lower in performing primary authorship responsibilities with diligence and complying with appellate time standards. Court staff rated Judge Henderson positively for maintaining a professional demeanor and treating court employees with respect, but lower in effectively handling her ongoing workload.

Honorable Richard M. Jacquez

3rd Judicial District Court Judge – Division 9 – General Jurisdiction

RETAIN

Judge Richard Jacquez received very high scores from court staff for respecting court employees regardless of position and behaving in a manner that encourages respect for the courts. Resource staff (e.g., law enforcement officers, probation/parole, CASA volunteers, CYFD, interpreters, etc.), rated him very highly for being attentive to the proceedings and courteous to all participants. While still generally positive, attorneys rated him slightly lower for being punctual in commencing proceedings and prompt in scheduling hearings and trials.

Honorable James T. Martin

3rd Judicial District Court Judge – Division 6 – General Jurisdiction

RETAIN

Judge James Martin received positive ratings from attorneys in every category of the survey. He received positive ratings from attorneys for being attentive to the proceedings, being punctual in commencing proceedings, and ensuring his personal staff is professional, productive, and knowledgeable of court policies and procedures.

Honorable Conrad F. Perea

3rd Judicial District Court Judge – Division 3 – General Jurisdiction

RETAIN

Judge Conrad Perea received very positive ratings from attorneys for being courteous to all participants, demonstrating appropriate demeanor on the bench, being attentive to the proceedings, and ruling on motions or cases in a timely manner. Court staff, resource staff (e.g., law enforcement officers, CASA volunteers, CYFD, interpreters, etc.), and jurors also rated him very highly.

ABOUT JPEC AND OUR RECOMMENDATIONS TO VOTERS

The New Mexico Judicial Performance Evaluation Commission (NMJPEC) is a nonpartisan, volunteer commission. We survey groups that have contact with each judge and analyze court statistics to make our recommendations to voters. We also rely on personal interviews with each judge standing for retention.
