

2021
THOMAS POE COOPER RESEARCH AWARD

The CAFE Research Office is pleased to invite nominations for the 2022 Thomas Poe Cooper Research Award. Established by the will of Dean Cooper, the award is presented in recognition of outstanding career research achievement by a member of the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment faculty. Designed to recognize and encourage research excellence, the Thomas Poe Cooper Research Award is the college's premier award for distinguished scientific accomplishment.

Priority will be given to faculty with a well-established record in their field. The selection committee will consider the contributions of each nominee's entire academic career. Successful nominees will be able to demonstrate a strong history of excellence in research and long-term contributions to their field of science.

To make a nomination, please send via email of the following:

- A cover letter, not to exceed three pages, justifying the nomination.
- A current curriculum vita of the nominee, 20-page maximum. Exclude lists of abstracts and less important material.
- Up to three supporting letters from scientists in or outside the College of Agriculture, Food and Environment.

Nominations may be prepared by any college faculty member, but must be endorsed by the chair and are limited to one per department.

Deadline: Monday, March 27, 2023

For questions, contact tom.hanna@uky.edu. Please submit nomination by e-mail to the Research Office: CAFEResearch@uky.edu by close of business 3/27/2023.
