

The SCA Equestrian Marshal's Guide to Adult Equestrian Liability Waivers and Signage in the 50 States December 2017 update

State legislatures have passed laws that offer some lawsuit protection to equine activity sponsors and equine professionals. In order to protect the SCA, the Board of Directors asked for legal research to develop waivers that would sufficiently invoke the new statutes to provide more protection for the SCA from lawsuits arising out of injuries or death in equine activities. The law requires that participants in equestrian activities be fully informed of the inherent risks of equine activities before they can knowingly and intelligently surrender their right to sue for an injury or death resulting from an equine activity.

These Equestrian waivers are to be used at any SCA event in which Equestrian activities are held or such animals are present. They include the standard event waiver language and will be signed by everyone attending the SCA event. Signing a second, separate waiver is no longer necessary. The Equestrian Marshal in Charge (EMIC) should sign each roster as acknowledgement of rider authorization and waiver submission.

Many of the states that require waivers also require the posting of warning signs using specific language, size/typeset, and quantity. These signs can be easily made and only a few need to be posted at the required areas. Once the signs are made, with the addition of a weatherproof covering, these signs can be re-used many times through the years. For states that have no special protection laws, use the Standard Society Waiver and signage.

These forms and signage language inform the potential participant of the inherent risks of equine activities and releases the activity sponsor from liability for harm, placing the risk upon the participant for accidents and other inherent risks of equine activity. No waiver can protect against intentional or reckless acts, but the mere accidents can have protection of the new laws.

A GUIDE TO SIGNAGE REQUIREMENTS IN THE 50 STATES

Of the 45 states that have Equine Activity Liability Protection Laws as of 2007, most require that a sign be posted in the areas of the Equine Activity (Barns, stables, riding and tacking areas). Most state statutes require the sign to be of a certain size with certain size lettering in certain colors schemes. Signage can be of any material including paper so long as it remains clear and legible even in inclement weather such as covering paper printed signs with a clear plastic slip-on cover.

Several states do not require the signage but it is in the best interest of the Society for Creative Anachronism and the participants if they are given reasonable notice as to the inherent risks of equine activities enjoyed by many society members. This guide is intended to inform the Society Equestrian marshallate of the signage to conform with state laws that specify signage and SCA, Inc. interests in those states that do not.
