

Cynthia Haigh (short):

I am a retired public-school teacher and administrator with 39 years of experience in professional and curriculum development, human resources, supervision and evaluation of staff.

Most recently I have been involved in the supervision of administrative interns through Stony Brook University and worked with the Chemung County Childcare Council to evaluate pre-K programs across the region.

Current board member and volunteer of Wings of Eagles Discovery Center.